Gun Turret Explosion Occurs on St. Paul in Korean Waters; Gases Take Lives

Probe Is Ordered

Read Admiral Instructs Aides to Hold Full Investigation

Tokyo, April 25 (AP) — Thirty American seamen were killed in an explosion in a gun turret on the cruiser St. Paul off Korea Monday. The navy, announcing that today, called it the worst naval disaster of the Korean war.

The navy said a "gun powder fire of undetermined origin" set off the explosion in an 8-inch forward turret. A board is investigating.

The St. Paul is commanded by Capt. Roy A. Gano of Falls Church, Va. She is the flagship of Rear Adm. Earl E. Stone, commander of cruiser division one.

The St. Paul was firing on Communist positions on the Korean East coast. It continued firing after the blast and still is in Korean waters.

Red Guns Not Firing

Communist shore guns were not firing at the American warship.

The blast rocked the heavy cruiser. All 30 victims were killed the navy said, most by asphyxiation due to burning gases. There were no injuries. All victims were in the turret.

The worst previous naval disaster of this war was June 21 when the U. S. destroyer Walke hit a mine off Wonsan. Twenty-six were killed and 40 wounded.

The St. Paul was firing on a Red rear stronghold at Kojo, about midway between the battle line and the besieged Red port of Wonsan. She had fired 86 rounds from her eight inch guns and 47 rounds from her five inch batteries when the explosion occurred at 3:55 p. m. Monday (1:55 a. m. EST).

The navy said the St. Paul had opened up her guns on Kojo after bombarding Red front lines for 24 hours with the destroyer Brinkley.

The cruiser has a battery of nine eight-inch guns in three turrets and a secondary battery of 12 five-inch dual purpose guns in pairs. Two of the eight inch turrets are forward and one aft.

The St. Paul's keel was laid by the Bethlehem Steel Co. at Quincy, Mass., in 1943. She entered World War 2 in September, 1944.

"A gunpowder fire of undetermined origin aboard the U. S. heavy cruiser St. Paul has killed 30 enlisted personnel.

No Other Injuries

"There were no other injuries in the fire which occurred during combat operations April 21. Death was almost instant. Damage control parties were at the scene almost immediately.

"The bodies were removed within a few minutes after the accident. Artificial respiration teams worked two hours without success. All bodies were transferred to the hospital ship Haven at Pusan.

"The St. Paul has returned to her station. Rear Admiral E. E. Stone, commander Cruiser Division One, who is flying his flag in the St. Paul has ordered a full scale investigation."

Accident Sends Man to Local Hospital

A deputy game warden from the state of Connecticut was injured about 7 p. m. Thursday when he was thrown from an automobile as it turned over on Route 32 a quarter mile north of Rosendale.

Charles H. Wells, 39, of Canaan, Conn., was thrown clear of the vehicle, state police said, and suffered bruises of the back and contusions. He was taken by ambulance to Kingston Hospital, where his condition was reported this morning as "apparently good."

Troopers said the automobile Wells was driving in a southerly direction went off the east side of the highway after completing a left curve. The vehicle then veered across the road to the west side, and turned over several times, according to the state police report.

Proposal Is Offered by UN Leaders

Five-Man Truce Teams Have Not Met Since Middle of February—3 Big Points Remain

Reds End Secrecy

Break Comes When Foe Told How Few Would Go Back to North

Munsan, Korea, April 25 (AP)—The UN command tonight proposed a full-dress meeting Sunday of allied and Communist armistice delegations. The surprise move come six hours after the Communists broke off secret negotiations on how to exchange prisoners of war.

The UN gave no reason for suggesting a plenary session.

The Communists called off the secret prisoner negotiations after the UN command announced it would return less than half the Reds captured in Korea.

The effect of the Red action was to remove the veil of secrecy from negotiations.

The prisoner talks were recessed at the request of Col. George Hickman, who said the UN command wanted to reassess its position in the light of developments.

The Communists did not reply immediately to the request for a full-dress session.

The five-man truce teams of admirals and generals have not met since mid-February.

Three Points Remain

They still face three big hurdles to an armistice; UN demands for voluntary repatriation of prisoners and a ban on airfield construction, and Communist nomination of Russia as a neutral inspector.

The Reds ended the secrecy on prisoner talks six days after being told that only 70,000 of 159,000 prisoners of war and civilian internees wanted to return to the Communists.

Chinese Col. Tsai Cheng Wen angrily told UN negotiators there "has never been anything like the so-called voluntary repatriation throughout history.

"It is a direct violation of the Geneva Convention from which your side has been quoting so readily and frequently."

Communist newsmen distributed a press statement on behalf of the Red armistice delegation accusing the allies of using the secret negotiations "to deceive the world" on what was happening at the talks.

Reds Cite 'Reason'

The Communists said the allies wanted secrecy to carry out "their aim of forcibly retaining captured personnel of this side."

The end of secrecy brought the first public disclosure that the UN command proposes to return only 70,000 prisoners.

Dec. 18 the UN command gave the Reds a roster of 132,000 prisoners and said an additional 37,000 has been reclassified as civilian internees.

Of the 132,000, the UN said 16,000 South Korean nationals swept up in the tide of war were in the process of being screened and reclassified. That would leave a total of 116,000.

Hickman said he believed the Reds would have agreed to allied repatriation of 116,000 prisoners.

Accepts in Part

In a long statement reviewing the secret talks Tsai accepted in part the allied principle of voluntary repatriation.

He said UN-held prisoners whose homes lie south of the battle line should have the right to choose where they want to live. Red-held prisoners would have the same choice.

"Voluntary repatriation would, in effect, be applied to a portion of the war prisoners in the respective custody of both sides and unconditional repatriation be applied to the remainder," he said.

Tsai said "the insistence by your side on this ridiculous figure (70,000) has proved that your side is not in the least willing to abandon the unreasonable position of forced retention of tens of thousands of captured personnel of our side. Thus, these executive sessions have been rendered meaningless."

NLRB Permits Shipyard Election

Voting Will Decide What Union Will Represent Area Workers

Everett Merz, Saugerties, who heads a group of area shipyard workers, said today he had been notified that the National Labor Relations Board has ruled in favor of an election within the next 30 days.

Merz said he had been notified through the regional office of the CIO that the labor board had ruled in favor of the election. The ruling will affect workers in all crafts at the Hiltebrant, Island Dock and Reliance Marine Transportation and Construction Corp., yards.

The shipyard workers are now affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, and at a hearing held March 4 in New York they asked for the privilege of conducting an election. The date of the election will be announced.

Chief Lawyer in Steel Case Contends No Court Exists for Any Curb

Washington, April 25 (AP)—The government's chief lawyer in the steel seizure case argued today that "the President is accountable only to the country" and is not limited by the Constitution.

This contention by Assistant Attorney General Holmes Baldridge brought from Federal Judge David A. Pine the comment: "I never heard that expressed before.

Baldridge had just said that the Constitution "limited the legislative branch, limited the judicial branch but did not limit the executive branch."

Use of 'Limited'

As Baldridge developed his argument, it was plain he was using "limited" in the sense that the President's powers were not restricted, or limited, to those specifically set out in the Constitution.

Pine is hearing in U. S. District Court the plea from the steel industry for a court order against what it contends was President Truman's "wholly illegal and wholly unconstitutional" seizure order of April 8.

Baldridge argued that the court was without power to issue such an order.

He told Pine there is "not one single instance where the courts have enjoined executive power," and declared the Constitution "prohibits the courts from encroaching on executive authority."

Baldridge said "the courts have developed the fiction" that officers of the federal government's executive branch can be sued as individuals. The steel industry is directing its suit specifically against Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer, who was instructed by Truman to carry out the seizure.

Cannot Be Enjoined

"The President is an indispensable party," Baldridge said, and added that the President himself cannot be enjoined.

Pine interjected: "Suppose the

New Evidence Is Found of Car Parts Costing U.S. Dearly

High-Ranking Officials and Firms Acted Improperly, Is Report

Washington, April 25 (AP)—Congressional investigators said today they have uncovered new evidence of "improper relationships between high-ranking government officials" and companies selling spare automotive parts to the government.

A House Expenditures Subcommittee report did not mention details involving high-ranking officials. But it cited increased government business acquired by one company after employing a former ordnance inspector and another which hired a retired army captain.

It was learned that the group, headed by Rep. Hardy (D-Va.), is considering further action on a number of other cases.

Subcommittee disclosures some time ago resulted in the removal of Brig. Gen. David J. Crawford as commander of the Tank-Automotive Center in Detroit, and Col. Shirley W. McIlwain as commander of the Roosford Arsenal.

Sent to Turkey

Crawford was sent to Turkey as a colonel after being accused of accepting favors from firms doing business with the ordnance center.

Today's report recommended that the Federal Trade Commission thoroughly study the "legality" of trade practices in the automobile industry and take action if they are considered in restraint of trade.

The report specifically criticized the lack of competition in bidding for government contracts, and the custom of buying parts through companies assembling vehicles instead of those originally manufacturing the parts. Some parts makers bid high to avoid getting contracts, it said.

Untold Millions Spent

"Repetitive costs and pyramided profits," the report said, cost the government "untold millions of dollars" extra in buying spare parts totalling around one billion dollars a year.

It cited one case in which the Studebaker company made cylin-

Prison Officials Tighten Controls at Jackson Prison

Mutineers Face Action for Crimes During Rebellion; Reforms Are Promised

Jackson, Mich., April 25 (AP)—Officials of riot-wracked Southern Michigan Prison moved today to tighten their control over the overflow inmate population and guard against any future mutiny in the ranks.

A convict rebellion ended yesterday only after the mutineers won their demands for 11 specific prison reforms.

However, state officials emphasized that the rioters still face prosecution for crimes committed during the rebellion.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams pointed out that as far as punishment went, the mutineers were promised only that there would be no reprisals by members of the state Department of Corrections.

And prison authorities said no reprisals were needed to restore law and order in the world's largest walled prison.

Return to Cellblock 15

As a condition of surrender, leaders of the five-day mutiny voluntarily returned to cellblock 15—the infamous disciplinary center where they seized a total of 13 guards as hostages to pressure their demands for changes and held eight of them to the end.

In this block all but a few of the privileges which normally go with prison life are taken away anyhow.

Truman Statement Occasions Remarks

High Quarters Unhappy Over Talk—British Cite 'Blunder'

Washington, April 25 (AP)—President Truman's off-the-cuff assertion that he forced the Russians out of Iran by a personal ultimatum to Premier Stalin led to some unhappy tongue-clucking in high quarters today.

A press office "clarification" of Truman's extemporaneous statement at a news conference yesterday pointed up the embarrassment occasioned by this and other offhand remarks that have raised eyebrows around the world.

British newspapers splashed the "ultimatum" story under such headlines as sensation at Truman talk," and "blunders by Mr. Truman."

So Tubby Explains

In diplomatic language an "ultimatum" is regarded as a step just short of war. Roger Tubby, assistent presidental press secretary who formerly worked at the state department, told reporters afterward that Truman had used the word in a "non-technical, layman sense."

The note in question, he said, was not one from the president to Stalin, but a note from this government to the Russian government on March 6, 1946, published the next day, stating this country's position against Russia's continued occupation of Iran.

"As you probably recall," Tubby said, "the Russians withdrew their troops from Iran in May, 1946."

Truman cited the Iran matter in outlining some of the actions he and other presidents have taken to meet national emergencies. He was talking about his seizure of the steel industry to prevent a strike.

Three Hours Later

The important thing the President wanted to emphasize, Tubby said, nearly three hours later, was that Russia listened to a strong America, and that he had to seize the steel industry to keep up the production necessary to building up this country's strength.

The President, he said, was referring to United States leadership in the United Nations, particularly in the Security Council and through diplomatic channels.

He said the note of March 6, 1946, was a major factor in bringing about Soviet withdrawal from Iran.

Not First Time

It wasn't the first time the White House press office had been moved to clarify presidential remarks.

Says Ike Strongest; Taft Not Slipping, Other Observation

Stassen Aide Sees General With Best GOP Chance, Taft Thinks He's as Weak as Dewey

Washington, April 25 (AP)—Sen. Thye (R-Minn.), who is backing Harold E. Stassen for the Republican nomination, said today that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's chances to win it are better than those of any other candidate.

On the other hand, Sen. Young (R-N. D.) said he thinks Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio "is going to give Eisenhower a very close run" for top place on the GOP ticket "and certainly can't be counted out."

Young, a Taft supporter, added: "You hear some talk about Taft slipping, but I can't see that he has."

Thye told a reporter:

"I believe Dan Gainey made a completely accurate appraisal of the situation in saying Eisenhower has the best chance to be nominated."

Gainey, a leader of the Stassen-for-President movement, made the statement yesterday in announcing the closing of Stassen's Washington headquarters for economy reasons.

Gainey said he was not counting Stassen out of the race for the nomination, but indicated he believes Eisenhower will win.

Investigators Recess Nunan Inquiry; Would Get New Testimony on Finances

Washington, April 25 (AP) — House investigators today recessed until next week their inquiry into the personal finances of former revenue commissioner Joseph D. Nunan.

Rep. King (D-Calif.), chairman of a House Ways and Means investigating subcommittee, said the Nunan hearings would be resumed next Monday or Tuesday.

He indicated the committee wanted to develop new testimony in its search of sources of an unexplained $161,609 Nunan received between 1945 and 1950, but never reported on his income tax returns.

When hearings ended yesterday afternoon, the committee had received testimony that Nunan collected $24,985 after making "three or four" telephone calls in behalf of a St. Paul firm shortly after he left the Internal Revenue Bureau in June 1947.

The fee, investigators testified, was paid Nunan by Charles Ward, president of Brown & Bigelow, who was trying to expedite a tax ruling affecting sale and marketing of stock.

Late in 1947, the Revenue Bureau ruled favorably on Ward's request that returns from his stock transaction be considered a long term capital gain. As such, they were subject to a lower tax rate than as a short term gain.

Rep. Kean (R- N. J.) said the difference would be about $700,000 on the $1,191,000 transaction.

Committee Counsel Adiran W. Dewind emphasized that there was "no inference of wrong-doing" on Ward's part.

Committee testimony showed Nunan's "personal interest" in the case developed in June of 1946, while he was still commissioner.

As developed by testimony, this was roughly the chronology of the case:

1. Ward's attorneys were having little luck in getting their application for a tax ruling processed in the revenue bureau.

2. Thomas Sullivan, Chicago attorney who represented Ward and was a friend of Nunan, was consulted. Sullivan in turn conferred with Nunan, and the application was made an "expedite case" by the bureau.

3. After some delays due to changes in the stock marketing plans, an amended application was sent to the Bureau in 1947. Nunan, since returned to private law practice, then telephoned Commissioner George Schoeneman, his successor, and a favorable ruling was handed down Dec. 3, 1947.

4. Nunan, meanwhile, had been retained by Sullivan as a lawyer with "prestige" to represent Ward in the eventuality of "any trouble" with the Securities and Exchange Commission over a stock flotation by Otis & Co.

5. In December, 1947, after the reorganization was completed, Ward paid Nunan a fee consisting of 2,630 shares of Brown & Bigelow stock valued at $9.50 a share, or $24,985.

Sullivan testified that Nunan commented, "that's a stiff fee."

"Nunan's services consisted of making between one and four telephone calls, didn't they?" inquired committee counsel Charles Lyon.

"I'll agree the fee was very liberal," replied Sullivan.

Ex-Bookie Agrees to Talk At Department's Hearing

New York, April 25 (AP)—Ex-bookie Harry Gross, whose silence wrecked the conspiracy trial of 18 policemen last year, has agreed to talk at a police department hearing.

Police Commissioner George P. Monaghan announced yesterday that the plump bookie had decided behind prison bars to testify against 18 officers accused in the protection of Gross' $20 million a year gambling ring.

They have been tried at one departmental hearing and acquitted of disciplinary charges. Monaghan said they would be re-tried on the basis of what Gross has told officials.

Some of the 18 were among 18 officers on trial in Kings county court last September when Gross, the state's key witness, suddenly refused to testify. The defendants were freed.

The court trial also involved police protection of Gross' bookmaking empire. The officers were accused of conspiring to protect it for money.

The state's case, built in two years of probing, went sour solely on Gross' actions.

While in protective police custody, he fled the city for a day at the Atlantic City, N. J., racetrick, evading a widespread search for hours.

Then, after he returned, he turned into a hostile witness for the state. In a dramatic courtroom scene, he angrily refused to testify. The state has claimed he was tutored for his actions and paid off.

In the departmental phase of the case, Monaghan said the forthcoming hearing will not constitute double jeopardy for the men because no criminal proceedings are involved.

However, the board of officers of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association cried "double jeopardy"

Use of 'Limited'

As Baldridge developed his argument, it was plain he was using "limited" in the sense that the President's powers were not restricted, or limited, to those specifically set out in the Constitution.

Pine is hearing in U. S. District Court the plea from the steel industry for a court order against what it contends was President Truman's "wholly illegal and wholly unconstitutional" seizure order of April 8.

Baldridge argued that the court was without power to issue such an order.

He told Pine there is "not one single instance where the courts have enjoined executive power," and declared the Constitution "prohibits the courts from encroaching on executive authority."

Baldridge said "the courts have developed the fiction" that officers of the federal government's executive branch can be sued as individuals. The steel industry is directing its suit specifically against Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer, who was instructed by Truman to carry out the seizure.

Cannot Be Enjoined

"The President is an indispensable party," Baldridge said, and added that the President himself cannot be enjoined.

New Evidence Is Found of Car Parts Costing U.S. Dearly

High-Ranking Officials and Firms Acted Improperly, Is Report

Washington, April 25 (AP)—Congressional investigators said today they have uncovered new evidence of "improper relationships between high-ranking government officials" and companies selling spare automotive parts to the government.

A House Expenditures Subcommittee report did not mention details involving high-ranking officials. But it cited increased government business acquired by one company after employing a former ordnance inspector and another which hired a retired army captain.

It was learned that the group, headed by Rep. Hardy (D-Va.), is considering further action on a number of other cases.

Subcommittee disclosures some time ago resulted in the removal of Brig. Gen. David J. Crawford as commander of the Tank-Automotive Center in Detroit, and Col. Shirley W. McIlwain as commander of the Roosford Arsenal.

Sent to Turkey

Crawford was sent to Turkey as a colonel after being accused of accepting favors from firms doing business with the ordnance center.

Today's report recommended that the Federal Trade Commission thoroughly study the "legality" of trade practices in the automobile industry and take action if they are considered in restraint of trade.

The report specifically criticized the lack of competition in bidding for government contracts, and the custom of buying parts through companies assembling vehicles instead of those originally manufacturing the parts. Some parts makers bid high to avoid getting contracts, it said.

Untold Millions Spent

"Repetitive costs and pyramided profits," the report said, cost the government "untold millions of dollars" extra in buying spare parts totalling around one billion dollars a year.

It cited one case in which the Studebaker company made cylin-

Investigators Recess Nunan Inquiry; Would Get New Testimony on Finances

Washington, April 25 (AP) — House investigators today recessed until next week their inquiry into the personal finances of former revenue commissioner Joseph D. Nunan.

Rep. King (D-Calif.), chairman of a House Ways and Means investigating subcommittee, said the Nunan hearings would be resumed next Monday or Tuesday.

He indicated the committee wanted to develop new testimony in its search of sources of an unexplained $161,609 Nunan received between 1945 and 1950, but never reported on his income tax returns.

When hearings ended yesterday afternoon, the committee had received testimony that Nunan collected $24,985 after making "three or four" telephone calls in behalf of a St. Paul firm shortly after he left the Internal Revenue Bureau in June 1947.

The fee, investigators testified, was paid Nunan by Charles Ward, president of Brown & Bigelow, who was trying to expedite a tax ruling affecting sale and marketing of stock.

Late in 1947, the Revenue Bureau ruled favorably on Ward's request that returns from his stock transaction be considered a long term capital gain. As such, they were subject to a lower tax rate than as a short term gain.

Rep. Kean (R- N. J.) said the difference would be about $700,000 on the $1,191,000 transaction.

Committee Counsel Adiran W. Dewind emphasized that there was "no inference of wrong-doing" on Ward's part.

Committee testimony showed Nunan's "personal interest" in the case developed in June of 1946, while he was still commissioner.

As developed by testimony, this was roughly the chronology of the case:

1. Ward's attorneys were having little luck in getting their application for a tax ruling processed in the revenue bureau.

2. Thomas Sullivan, Chicago attorney who represented Ward and was a friend of Nunan, was consulted. Sullivan in turn conferred with Nunan, and the application was made an "expedite case" by the bureau.

3. After some delays due to changes in the stock marketing plans, an amended application was sent to the Bureau in 1947. Nunan, since returned to private law practice, then telephoned Commissioner George Schoeneman, his successor, and a favorable ruling was handed down Dec. 3, 1947.

4. Nunan, meanwhile, had been retained by Sullivan as a lawyer with "prestige" to represent Ward in the eventuality of "any trouble" with the Securities and Exchange Commission over a stock flotation by Otis & Co.

5. In December, 1947, after the reorganization was completed, Ward paid Nunan a fee consisting of 2,630 shares of Brown & Bigelow stock valued at $9.50 a share, or $24,985.

Sullivan testified that Nunan commented, "that's a stiff fee."

"Nunan's services consisted of making between one and four telephone calls, didn't they?" inquired committee counsel Charles Lyon.

High Quarters Unhappy Over Talk—British Cite 'Blunder'

Washington, April 25 (AP)—President Truman's off-the-cuff assertion that he forced the Russians out of Iran by a personal ultimatum to Premier Stalin led to some unhappy tongue-clucking in high quarters today.

A press office "clarification" of Truman's extemporaneous statement at a news conference yesterday pointed up the embarrassment occasioned by this and other offhand remarks that have raised eyebrows around the world.

British newspapers splashed the "ultimatum" story under such heardlines as sensation at Truman talk," and "blunders by Mr. Truman."

So Tubby Explains

In diplomatic language an "ultimatum" is regarded as a step just short of war. Roger Tubby, assistent presidental press secretary who formerly worked at the state department, told reporters afterward that Truman had used the word in a "non-technical, layman sense."

The note in question, he said, was not one from the president to Stalin, but a note from this government to the Russian government on March 6, 1946, published the next day, stating this country's position against Russia's continued occupation of Iran.

"As you probably recall," Tubby said, "the Russians withdrew their troops from Iran in May, 1946."

Truman cited the Iran matter in outlining some of the actions he and other presidents have taken to meet national emergencies. He was talking about his seizure of the steel industry to prevent a strike.

Three Hours Later

The important thing the President wanted to emphasize, Tubby said, nearly three hours later, was that Russia listened to a strong America, and that he had to seize the steel industry to keep up the production necessary to building up this country's strength.

The President, he said, was referring to United States leadership in the United Nations, particularly in the Security Council and through diplomatic channels.

He said the note of March 6, 1946, was a major factor in bringing about Soviet withdrawal from Iran.

Not First Time

It wasn't the first time the White House press office had been moved to clarify presidential remarks.

Newsmen recalled the firing of

Jackson, Mich., April 25 (AP)—Officials of riot-wracked Southern Michigan Prison moved today to tighten their control over the overflow inmate population and guard against any future mutiny in the ranks.

A convict rebellion ended yesterday only after the mutineers won their demands for 11 specific prison reforms.

However, state officials emphasized that the rioters still face prosecution for crimes committed during the rebellion.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams pointed out that as far as punishment went, the mutineers were promised only that there would be no reprisals by members of the state Department of Corrections.

And prison authorities said no reprisals were needed to restore law and order in the world's largest walled prison.

Return to Cellblock 15

As a condition of surrender, leaders of the five-day mutiny voluntarily returned to cellblock 15—the infamous disciplinary center where they seized a total of 13 guards as hostages to pressure their demands for changes and held eight of them to the end.

In this block all but a few of the privileges which normally go with prison life are taken away anyhow.

And, from sad experience, pre-

Stassen Aide Sees General With Best GOP Chance, Taft Thinks He's as Weak as Dewey

Washington, April 25 (AP)—Sen. Thye (R-Minn.), who is backing Harold E. Stassen for the Republican nomination, said today that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's chances to win it are better than those of any other candidate.

On the other hand, Sen. Young (R-N. D.) said he thinks Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio "is going to give Eisenhower a very close run" for top place on the GOP ticket "and certainly can't be counted out."

Young, a Taft supporter, added: "You hear some talk about Taft slipping, but I can't see that he has."

Thye told a reporter:

"I believe Dan Gainey made a completely accurate appraisal of the situation in saying Eisenhower has the best chance to be nominated."

Gainey, a leader of the Stassen-for-President movement, made the statement yesterday in announcing the closing of Stassen's Washington headquarters for economy reasons.

Gainey said he was not counting Stassen out of the race for the nomination, but indicated he believes Eisenhower will win.

Ex-Bookie Agrees to Talk At Department's Hearing

New York, April 25 (AP)—Ex-bookie Harry Gross, whose silence wrecked the conspiracy trial of 18 policemen last year, has agreed to talk at a police department hearing.

Police Commissioner George P. Monaghan announced yesterday that the plump bookie had decided behind prison bars to testify against 18 officers accused in the protection of Gross' $20 million a year gambling ring.

They have been tried at one departmental hearing and acquitted of disciplinary charges. Monaghan said they would be re-tried on the basis of what Gross has told officials.

Some of the 18 were among 18 officers on trial in Kings county court last September when Gross, the state's key witness, suddenly refused to testify. The defendants were freed.

The court trial also involved police protection of Gross' bookmaking empire. The officers were accused of conspiring to protect it for money.

The state's case, built in two years of probing, went sour solely on Gross' actions.

While in protective police custody, he fled the city for a day at the Atlantic City, N. J., racetrick, evading a widespread search for hours.

Then, after he returned, he turned into a hostile witness for the state. In a dramatic courtroom scene, he angrily refused to testify. The state has claimed he was tutored for his actions and paid off.

In the departmental phase of the case, Monaghan said the forthcoming hearing will not constitute double jeopardy for the men because no criminal proceedings are involved.

Lions Exposition Drawing Capacity Crowds at Armory

The Kingston Lions Club industrial, mercantile and automobile show at the armory on North Manor avenue again attracted a large attendance Thursday evening. The "Kingston Area on Parade" exposition will continue today and Saturday.

After an inspection of the many interesting booths and displays in the big armory drill shed and adjacent gym, the public was entertained Thursday evening by Carol and Charmi, a musical act which recently played at the New York Sportsmen's show. This evening at 8:45 and at 10:15 the entertainment will be Dom Francisco, novelty juggling and wire act from the Hamid Morgan Circus.

Saturday evening's entertainment will be James Evans and Company comedy act, which recently was with the Milton Berle and Kate Smith television shows.

Wide Interest

The diversified exhibits and several educational displays furnish attractions of interest to all ages. Even for the kiddies there is a miniature automobile ride in the gymnasium which houses numerous displays. For the woman of the house such things as household appliances, furniture, carpets, draperies, modern kitchen cabinets, china ware and table silver come in for much admiration and comment. Television, radios, refrigerators, heating appliances, insulation and other family wide displays are there for the male members of the family while the younger generation, as well as some of the older folks revel in the display of automobiles shown.

The Health Department, Employment Service, Chamber of Commerce all have interesting displays and the Lions Club has an "information booth".

To Close Saturday

The exposition will come to a close on Saturday evening at 11 o'clock and it is expected that an all time attendance record will have been established.

The 1952 Kingston Area on Parade has been produced by the combined efforts of the entire membership of Kingston Lions Club, with Ernest DuBois, chairman of the exposition committee, and his committee in charge of final arrangements.

While primarily staged to show people of this area what Kingston firms have to offer in the way of modern merchandise and equipment, the exposition has also been designed to provide entertainment for those who attend. At many of the booths merchandise is being given away each night.

Most Successful

Lawrence J. MacAvery, president of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, and publicity chairman for the 1952 "Kingston Area on Parade" predicts that when the exposition closes tomorrow night it will have been one of the most successful and best attended of the series sponsored by the Kingston Lions Club.

Twin Elephants Arrive

Los Angeles, April 25 (AP)—A scientific rarity, twin elephants, arrived here yesterday. The 1-year-old girl twins were playful and began roughing each other on shipboard. They were brought here by the freighter President Grant from Thailand, where they were recorded as the first elephant twins since 1894. The twins will be taken off ship today, rested a few days at an animal compound, and then will be shipped to Nebraska to join a circus.

Byrd Cites Need On U. S. Finances As Regards Office

New York, April 25 (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) says "only a strong and very determined President who has the conviction that the foundation stone of democracy is the maintenance of the national credit and a sound currency can bring stability to our federal fiscal jungle."

And, he said in an address to newspaper publishers here last night, "whether that man be a Democrat or a Republican, if he stands firmly on this principle he will have my support and the support of Americans everywhere.

"It will make no difference to me if he is a Republican. I have gotten into the habit of voting with the Republicans."

Byrd said the whole federal tax system needs revising. He called for an end to what he called government waste, saying:

"Now we have a deficit period in prospect that will shake our financial structure."

Speaks at Dinner

The senator spoke at a dinner sponsored by the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association (ANPA).

The dinner wound up the ANPA's three-day, 66th annual meeting.

The association authorized its special standing committee to work toward renewal of the international arbitration agreement between the association and the International Printing Pressmen's and Assistants Union of North America.

The present agreement expires Dec. 31, 1952.

The association also authorized the committee to negotiate with other international unions wanting such agreements.

The ANPA bureau of advertising picked three new directors:

To Seek Indictment

Middletown, N. Y., April 25 (AP)—The Orange county prosecutor said today he will seek a second-degree manslaughter indictment against Guernsey Coleman, 36, in the death of Coleman's widowed mother. Mrs. Laura J. Coleman, 64, was found dead on the floor of the kitchen in her home Wednesday, her body badly bruised. District Attorney Abraham Isseks said that preliminary autopsy indicated that Mrs. Coleman died as a result of face and head injuries allegedly inflicted by her son during a quarrel.

GreeneCountyDuo Arrested by FBI

Cairo, N. Y., April 24 (AP)—Two brothers who said they were "Jehovah's Witnesses" were arrested today on federal charges that they refused to be inducted for military service.

Glenn W. Graham, 22, and his brother, Douglas L., 21, both of Freehold, Greene county, were taken into custody here by FBI agents.

They are accused of refusing to be inducted last April 8 at Albany, after having been classified 1-A.

They were held for arraignment later today before U. S. Commissioner Martin F. Comeau at Kingston.

Conviction on the charge carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

At Catskill, Greene county seat- Attorney Charles G. Coffin, a member of Selective Service Board 22, said the Grahams claimed to be members of Jehovah's Witnesses, a religious sect, and originally had been classified as 1-AO (conscientious objectors). The two appealed for deferment, Coffin said, and they wound up in class 1-A.

Draftees under 1-AO are assigned to non-combatant duty.

Research Is Main Fight on Cancer

"The scientist is our chief hope for a future free of cancer's tragedies," Herman G. Rafalowsky, general chairman of the 1952 Cancer Crusade for Ulster county, said today, in revealing that 25 per cent of cancer contributions are allotted to research in universities, hospitals and laboratories throughout the nation.

Although the goal of completely conquering cancer is still being sought, research has already made vast strides, Rafalowsky said, and as a result half of those who develop cancer today can be saved by early diagnosis and prompt, proper treatment.

An urgent plea for funds was sent out this week in a letter to local business and professional men, as well as other private citizens, by John Larkin, attorney, who is chairman for the city of Kingston. Participating in the appeal are Dr. Edward F. Shea, Dr. Sidney D. Wolff, B. N. Ashton, and Robert R. Rodie. Urging that persons "Give to conquer cancer, now" the letter asks that checks be made payable to the American Cancer Society and sent to George C. Bode, treasurer, Box 155, Kingston. The same procedure may be followed by those who have not received a copy of the letter.

Shotguns Are Used

Penticton, B. C., April 25 (AP)—Fruit farmers in British Columbia's Okanogan Valley now fertilize their trees by shotgun. From about 10 feet, the marksman fires a shell containing one-fiftieth of an ounce of pollen from a standard 12 gauge shotgun. The pollen then settles on the blossoms and fertilizes them. Lawrence Bartlett, distributor for the pollen in B.C., said about five times as much pollen is being used this year as last. It follows relaxation of regulations which formerly made it difficult to get the pollen because of the disease hazard. The pollen is gathered mostly in California and Oregon.

Devers Will Speak At Dinner June 5 For Hasbrouck

General Jacob L. Devers, U. S. Army, retired, will be the principal speaker at the testimonial dinner for Maj. Gen. Robert W. Hasbrouck in this city on June 5, it was announced Thursday night at a committee meeting.

General Devers was the commander of the Allied armies that participated in the invasion of Southern France during World War 2, and later became commanding general of the Army Ground Forces, at which time General Hasbrouck was his chief of staff.

Local organizations participating in the testimonial dinner plans are the Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Marine Corps League posts and the 156th Field Artillery, NYNG.

Native of City

The date, June 5, was selected in conjunction with Kingston's 300th Anniversary. It is the exact anniversary of the date the Thomas Chambers deed was signed.

Maj. Gen. Hasbrouck, who now resides in Washington, D. C., is a native of Kingston and resided here many years, being a graduate of Kingston Academy. His mother is still a resident of Kingston.

To Honor Dietz

Honored guests at the dinner will include Herman O. Dietz, father of Robert Dietz, Kingston's Congressional Medal of Honor winner, who served in the 7th Armored Division under the command of Gen. Hasbrouck. Other members of that division, and their wives, who reside in Kingston will also be guests.

Col. Allan L. Hanstein and Howard C. Shurter are general co-chairmen of the testimonial.

Although the date has been selected, the place has not. A committee consisting of Andrew Murphy, 3rd, Lester Elmendorf and James G. Connelly has been named to recommend a place for the dinner.

Ticket Chairmen

General ticket chairmen are Shurter and Ward Tongue. Each participating organization will have its own ticket committee, and the public may secure tickets from any of the organizations.

Other committee assignments include Morgan Ryan, chairman of arrangements; John Matthews, music; Thomas Bohan and Howard Shurter, testimonial presentation; Joseph Kelly, John Warren and Bob Browning, publicity.

Financial and Commercial

New York, April 25 (AP)—Railroads encouraged an advance today in the stock market.

The rise was fairly substantial and it was accompanied by an expanded volume of trading.

Motors, especially Chrysler, marched right ahead with the railroads. The oils, which have been so volatile lately, were quietly irregular.

Gains ran from fractions to between 1 and 2 points throughout the list. Losses were mostly fractional.

One railroad that didn't participate in the advance was New York & Harlem, controlled by the New York Central. It lost 40 points on a 10-share sale at 370, a new low for the year. Its high this year was 673.

Chrysler was active and up between 1 and 2 points while other motors gained fractions.

National Distillers Products, which yesterday reported a heavy fall in first quarter earnings, was under some pressure today with a loss of a major fraction. J. I. Case also was down. The company plans an offering of some nine million dollars worth of common to stockholders at 24½.

Settlement Is Agreed

New York, April 25 (AP)—Negotiators today agreed on a settlement of an 18-day strike of 6,000 Western Electric Company warehousemen and salesmen in 29 cities.

100 More Observers Needed For Local Spotter Station

Mrs. George Dewey Logan, post supervisor of the Kingston Ground Observer Post, today said a total of 250 volunteer spotters is required to efficiently man the post for the 24-hour continuous duty which will begin May 17.

Mrs. Logan was notified by William J. McGrath, chief of aircraft warning service section, New York State Civil Defense Commission, of the continuous duty requirement, by letter in which he emphasized that posts will be manned "24 hours a day, seven days a week."

The letter stated, in part:

"I believe, now, more than ever before, that you realize your responsibilities and duties as post supervisor.

"It will be necessary for you to schedule shifts on volunteer personnel you have at this time. It will be all important that you conduct recruiting drives to bring the strength of your post up to a point where no one person will be burdened with more than two hours duty per week.

"You should, at the same time you receive this letter, receive one from the Air Force informing you of these facts. The mayor of your city . . . and the director of civil defense have been notified and requested to provide shelter and any other necessary assistance you may require . . ."

100 More Sought

Although the local post has been on a standby basis and is ready to swing into action as required, Mrs. Logan revealed that an additional 100 volunteers are sought to bring the total strength up to the 250 mark which has been set to allow for the possibilities of illness and the induction of men into the armed forces.

"We have at the U. S. Air Force's bidding a serious duty to perform and only with the loyal and patriotic spirit of our citizens will we be able to fulfill the requirements of the Air Force," Mrs. Logan stated.

Praising the observers who have been operating faithfully on a standby basis for two years, Mrs. Logan said, "they have been very understanding, patient and loyal, and never refused to report for emergencies.

Praises Aides

She added, "Words connot express my gratitude. My chief observer, Mrs. George Matthews, and her officers have already done a splendid job and realize the seriousness of their responsibilities. The city depends upon the alertness of the ground observer corps to protect its safety, night and day."

To the public, Mrs. Logan said, "Please come forward and volunteer your services. Many have stated that when the post was alerted for 24-hour duty, they would volunteer. Now that emergency has arisen and your city calls you."

The 24-hour duty, known by the code name of Operation Skywatch, was announced in Washington as a means of increasing the air defense potential of the Air Force. Posts in New York and 26 other states will participate.

The local post on top of the Governor Clinton Hotel, was constructed by the city in July, 1950. Aircraft spotted by observers at the post are reported to the White Plains filter center, where information is collected from many similar posts in the region. This information is then relayed to an Air Force radar station. The system is intended to provide a quick and accurate picture of aerial activity throughout the region.

Throughout the nation there are 19,400 observation posts and 49 filter centers.

Mrs. Logan today suggested that all fraternal orders, church groups, and industrial plants be represented by at least five volunteers. Schedules are arranged by Mrs. Matthews so that teams of two or three volunteers man the post for two-hour periods, with no team being required to take a shift more than one time a week. Shifts have been slated so that the volunteer spotting does not interfere with the observers' daily jobs or other obligations.

Lions Have Recruiting Booth

Volunteers may sign up at a booth at the Lions Club exposition tonight or Saturday night, or by telephoning Mrs. Logan at 1544 or Mrs. Matthews at 170. All volunteers will be fingerprinted and screened for loyalty.

High school students who volunteer will need the written consent of their parents. Students will always serve with an adult. Men are needed for the midnight to 6 a. m. shifts, and women are needed for the daytime, working-hour shifts. In some cases, husband and wife teams are able to man the posts together in evening hours.

16 Horses Burn In Cornwall Fire

Sixteen saddle horses perished in a stable fire late Thursday night at the Stone House Dude Ranch near Cornwall.

State police said the blaze was not of a suspicious nature, although its exact cause has not been determined.

The fire broke out about 11 p. m. Thursday, troopers of the Newburgh substation said. The Highland Engine Company of Cornwall, Vails Gate and New Windsor fought the blaze.

The dude ranch is located at Orrs Mills, on Route 32 five miles south of Newburgh.

Troopers said no personal injuries were reported.

Terms Are Agreed

Tehran, Iran, April 25 (AP)—Authoritative sources said today Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's government and the United States have agreed on terms for resuming U. S. military aid to strategic, oil-rich Iran. Aid was suspended early in January because Mossadegh refused to sign a contract containing six commitments tying Iran to cooperation with the west, as provided under the U. S. Mutual Security Act.

Price Correction

Hellman's Blue Ribbon mayonnaise advertised for 59 cents a pint in Minasian's Super Market advertisement Thursday night should have read a quart for that price.

McBride's Will Be Giustino Market

George Giustino, proprietor of the Giustino Importing Co., 616 Broadway, said today that plans are in progress for establishing a self-service market in the former McBride building at 634 Broadway.

Giustino said he will lease the store property and hopes to have renovations completed for opening the market about June 15.

Face New Charges

New York, April 25 (AP)—Four alleged basketball fixers charged with trying to rig a Bradley University-City College of New York game here two years ago have been named in superseding indictments. District Attorney Frank S. Hogan's office revealed existence of the other indictments. The alleged fixers are Joseph Benintende, 42; Jack "Zip" West, 39; Jack Rubenstein, 33; and Eli (Kaye) Klukofsky, 29, all of New York. Benintende is an ex-convict who was once questioned in the murder of Kansas City Democratic boss Charles Binaggio.

Lions Exposition Drawing Capacity Crowds at Armory

The Kingston Lions Club industrial, mercantile and automobile show at the armory on North Manor avenue again attracted a large attendance Thursday evening. The "Kingston Area on Parade" exposition will continue today and Saturday.

After an inspection of the many interesting booths and displays in the big armory drill shed and adjacent gym, the public was entertained Thursday evening by Carol and Charmi, a musical act which recently played at the New York Sportsmen's show. This evening at 8:45 and at 10:15 the entertainment will be Dom Francisco, novelty juggling and wire act from the Hamid Morgan Circus.

Saturday evening's entertainment will be James Evans and Company comedy act, which recently was with the Milton Berle and Kate Smith television shows.

Wide Interest

The diversified exhibits and several educational displays furnish attractions of interest to all ages. Even for the kiddies there is a miniature automobile ride in the gymnasium which houses numerous displays. For the woman of the house such things as household appliances, furniture, carpets, draperies, modern kitchen cabinets, china ware and table silver come in for much admiration and comment. Television, radios, refrigerators, heating appliances, insulation and other family wide displays are there for the male members of the family while the younger generation, as well as some of the older folks revel in the display of automobiles shown.

The Health Department, Employment Service, Chamber of Commerce all have interesting displays and the Lions Club has an "information booth".

To Close Saturday

The exposition will come to a close on Saturday evening at 11 o'clock and it is expected that an all time attendance record will have been established.

The 1952 Kingston Area on Parade has been produced by the combined efforts of the entire membership of Kingston Lions Club, with Ernest DuBois, chairman of the exposition committee, and his committee in charge of final arrangements.

While primarily staged to show people of this area what Kingston firms have to offer in the way of modern merchandise and equipment, the exposition has also been designed to provide entertainment for those who attend. At many of the booths merchandise is being given away each night.

Most Successful

Lawrence J. MacAvery, president of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, and publicity chairman for the 1952 "Kingston Area on Parade" predicts that when the exposition closes tomorrow night it will have been one of the most successful and best attended of the series sponsored by the Kingston Lions Club.

Twin Elephants Arrive

Los Angeles, April 25 (AP)—A scientific rarity, twin elephants, arrived here yesterday. The 1-year-old girl twins were playful and began roughing each other on shipboard. They were brought here by the freighter President Grant from Thailand, where they were recorded as the first elephant twins since 1894. The twins will be taken off ship today, rested a few days at an animal compound, and then will be shipped to Nebraska to join a circus.

Byrd Cites Need On U. S. Finances As Regards Office

New York, April 25 (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) says "only a strong and very determined President who has the conviction that the foundation stone of democracy is the maintenance of the national credit and a sound currency can bring stability to our federal fiscal jungle."

And, he said in an address to newspaper publishers here last night, "whether that man be a Democrat or a Republican, if he stands firmly on this principle he will have my support and the support of Americans everywhere.

"It will make no difference to me if he is a Republican. I have gotten into the habit of voting with the Republicans."

Byrd said the whole federal tax system needs revising. He called for an end to what he called government waste, saying:

"Now we have a deficit period in prospect that will shake our financial structure."

Speaks at Dinner

The senator spoke at a dinner sponsored by the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association (ANPA).

The dinner wound up the ANPA's three-day, 66th annual meeting.

The association authorized its special standing committee to work toward renewal of the international arbitration agreement between the association and the International Printing Pressmen's and Assistants Union of North America.

The present agreement expires Dec. 31, 1952.

The association also authorized the committee to negotiate with other international unions wanting such agreements.

The ANPA bureau of advertising picked three new directors:

To Seek Indictment

Middletown, N. Y., April 25 (AP)—The Orange county prosecutor said today he will seek a second-degree manslaughter indictment against Guernsey Coleman, 36, in the death of Coleman's widowed mother. Mrs. Laura J. Coleman, 64, was found dead on the floor of the kitchen in her home Wednesday, her body badly bruised. District Attorney Abraham Isseks said that preliminary autopsy indicated that Mrs. Coleman died as a result of face and head injuries allegedly inflicted by her son during a quarrel.

GreeneCountyDuo Arrested by FBI

Cairo, N. Y., April 24 (AP)—Two brothers who said they were "Jehovah's Witnesses" were arrested today on federal charges that they refused to be inducted for military service.

Glenn W. Graham, 22, and his brother, Douglas L., 21, both of Freehold, Greene county, were taken into custody here by FBI agents.

They are accused of refusing to be inducted last April 8 at Albany, after having been classified 1-A.

They were held for arraignment later today before U. S. Commissioner Martin F. Comeau at Kingston.

Conviction on the charge carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

At Catskill, Greene county seat- Attorney Charles G. Coffin, a member of Selective Service Board 22, said the Grahams claimed to be members of Jehovah's Witnesses, a religious sect, and originally had been classified as 1-AO (conscientious objectors). The two appealed for deferment, Coffin said, and they wound up in class 1-A.

Draftees under 1-AO are assigned to non-combatant duty.

Research Is Main Fight on Cancer

"The scientist is our chief hope for a future free of cancer's tragedies," Herman G. Rafalowsky, general chairman of the 1952 Cancer Crusade for Ulster county, said today, in revealing that 25 per cent of cancer contributions are allotted to research in universities, hospitals and laboratories throughout the nation.

Although the goal of completely conquering cancer is still being sought, research has already made vast strides, Rafalowsky said, and as a result half of those who develop cancer today can be saved by early diagnosis and prompt, proper treatment.

An urgent plea for funds was sent out this week in a letter to local business and professional men, as well as other private citizens, by John Larkin, attorney, who is chairman for the city of Kingston. Participating in the appeal are Dr. Edward F. Shea, Dr. Sidney D. Wolff, B. N. Ashton, and Robert R. Rodie. Urging that persons "Give to conquer cancer, now" the letter asks that checks be made payable to the American Cancer Society and sent to George C. Bode, treasurer, Box 155, Kingston. The same procedure may be followed by those who have not received a copy of the letter.

Shotguns Are Used

Penticton, B. C., April 25 (AP)—Fruit farmers in British Columbia's Okanogan Valley now fertilize their trees by shotgun. From about 10 feet, the marksman fires a shell containing one-fiftieth of an ounce of pollen from a standard 12 gauge shotgun. The pollen then settles on the blossoms and fertilizes them. Lawrence Bartlett, distributor for the pollen in B.C., said about five times as much pollen is being used this year as last. It follows relaxation of regulations which formerly made it difficult to get the pollen because of the disease hazard. The pollen is gathered mostly in California and Oregon.

Devers Will Speak At Dinner June 5 For Hasbrouck

General Jacob L. Devers, U. S. Army, retired, will be the principal speaker at the testimonial dinner for Maj. Gen. Robert W. Hasbrouck in this city on June 5, it was announced Thursday night at a committee meeting.

General Devers was the commander of the Allied armies that participated in the invasion of Southern France during World War 2, and later became commanding general of the Army Ground Forces, at which time General Hasbrouck was his chief of staff.

Local organizations participating in the testimonial dinner plans are the Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Marine Corps League posts and the 156th Field Artillery, NYNG.

Native of City

The date, June 5, was selected in conjunction with Kingston's 300th Anniversary. It is the exact anniversary of the date the Thomas Chambers deed was signed.

Maj. Gen. Hasbrouck, who now resides in Washington, D. C., is a native of Kingston and resided here many years, being a graduate of Kingston Academy. His mother is still a resident of Kingston.

To Honor Dietz

Honored guests at the dinner will include Herman O. Dietz, father of Robert Dietz, Kingston's Congressional Medal of Honor winner, who served in the 7th Armored Division under the command of Gen. Hasbrouck. Other members of that division, and their wives, who reside in Kingston will also be guests.

Col. Allan L. Hanstein and Howard C. Shurter are general co-chairmen of the testimonial.

Although the date has been selected, the place has not. A committee consisting of Andrew Murphy, 3rd, Lester Elmendorf and James G. Connelly has been named to recommend a place for the dinner.

Ticket Chairmen

General ticket chairmen are Shurter and Ward Tongue. Each participating organization will have its own ticket committee, and the public may secure tickets from any of the organizations.

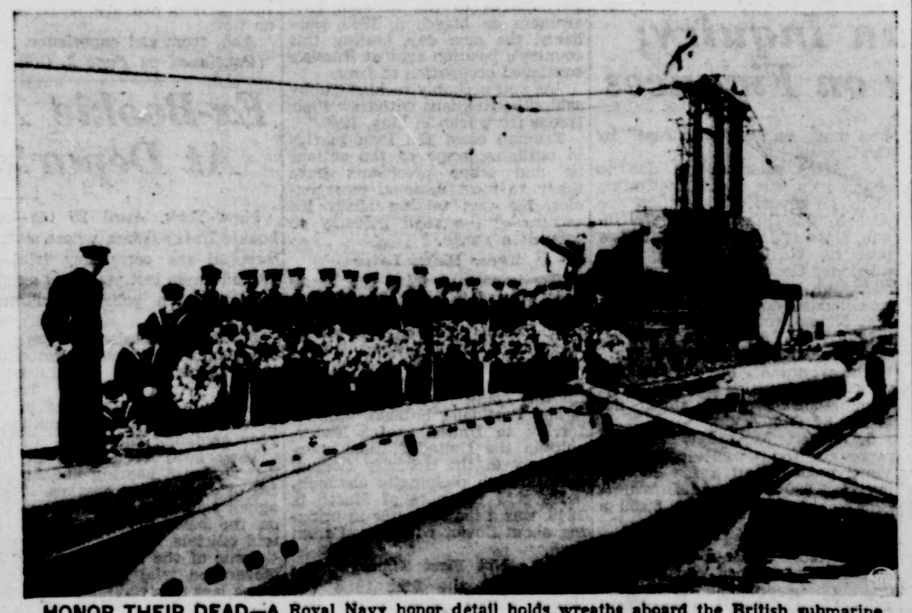

Other committee assignments include Morgan Ryan, chairman of arrangements; John Matthews, music; Thomas Bohan and Howard Shurter, testimonial presentation; Joseph Kelly, John Warren and Bob Browning, publicity.

Treasury Receipts

HONOR THEIR DEAD—A Royal Navy honor detail holds wreaths aboard the British submarine Alliance at Gosport, preparing to drop them over the spot in the English Channel where the Alliance's sister ship, H.M.S. Affray submerged and never resurfaced just a year ago. Affray's crew of 75 officers and men perished in the disaster.

Financial and Commercial

New York, April 25 (AP)—Railroads encouraged an advance today in the stock market.

The rise was fairly substantial and it was accompanied by an expanded volume of trading.

Motors, especially Chrysler, marched right ahead with the railroads. The oils, which have been so volatile lately, were quietly irregular.

Gains ran from fractions to between 1 and 2 points throughout the list. Losses were mostly fractional.

One railroad that didn't participate in the advance was New York & Harlem, controlled by the New York Central. It lost 40 points on a 10-share sale at 370, a new low for the year. Its high this year was 673.

Chrysler was active and up between 1 and 2 points while other motors gained fractions.

National Distillers Products, which yesterday reported a heavy fall in first quarter earnings, was under some pressure today with a loss of a major fraction. J. I. Case also was down. The company plans an offering of some nine million dollars worth of common to stockholders at 24½.

Settlement Is Agreed

New York, April 25 (AP)—Negotiators today agreed on a settlement of an 18-day strike of 6,000 Western Electric Company warehousemen and salesmen in 29 cities.

100 More Observers Needed For Local Spotter Station

Mrs. George Dewey Logan, post supervisor of the Kingston Ground Observer Post, today said a total of 250 volunteer spotters is required to efficiently man the post for the 24-hour continuous duty which will begin May 17.

Mrs. Logan was notified by William J. McGrath, chief of aircraft warning service section, New York State Civil Defense Commission, of the continuous duty requirement, by letter in which he emphasized that posts will be manned "24 hours a day, seven days a week."

The letter stated, in part:

"I believe, now, more than ever before, that you realize your responsibilities and duties as post supervisor.

"It will be necessary for you to schedule shifts on volunteer personnel you have at this time. It will be all important that you conduct recruiting drives to bring the strength of your post up to a point where no one person will be burdened with more than two hours duty per week.

"You should, at the same time you receive this letter, receive one from the Air Force informing you of these facts. The mayor of your city . . . and the director of civil defense have been notified and requested to provide shelter and any other necessary assistance you may require . . ."

100 More Sought

Although the local post has been on a standby basis and is ready to swing into action as required, Mrs. Logan revealed that an additional 100 volunteers are sought to bring the total strength up to the 250 mark which has been set to allow for the possibilities of illness and the induction of men into the armed forces.

"We have at the U. S. Air Force's bidding a serious duty to perform and only with the loyal and patriotic spirit of our citizens will we be able to fulfill the requirements of the Air Force," Mrs. Logan stated.

Praising the observers who have been operating faithfully on a standby basis for two years, Mrs. Logan said, "they have been very understanding, patient and loyal, and never refused to report for emergencies.

Praises Aides

She added, "Words connot express my gratitude. My chief observer, Mrs. George Matthews, and her officers have already done a splendid job and realize the seriousness of their responsibilities. The city depends upon the alertness of the ground observer corps to protect its safety, night and day."

To the public, Mrs. Logan said, "Please come forward and volunteer your services. Many have stated that when the post was alerted for 24-hour duty, they would volunteer. Now that emergency has arisen and your city calls you."

The 24-hour duty, known by the code name of Operation Skywatch, was announced in Washington as a means of increasing the air defense potential of the Air Force. Posts in New York and 26 other states will participate.

The local post on top of the Governor Clinton Hotel, was constructed by the city in July, 1950. Aircraft spotted by observers at the post are reported to the White Plains filter center, where information is collected from many similar posts in the region. This information is then relayed to an Air Force radar station. The system is intended to provide a quick and accurate picture of aerial activity throughout the region.

Throughout the nation there are 19,400 observation posts and 49 filter centers.

Mrs. Logan today suggested that all fraternal orders, church groups, and industrial plants be represented by at least five volunteers. Schedules are arranged by Mrs. Matthews so that teams of two or three volunteers man the post for two-hour periods, with no team being required to take a shift more than one time a week. Shifts have been slated so that the volunteer spotting does not interfere with the observers' daily jobs or other obligations.

Lions Have Recruiting Booth

Volunteers may sign up at a booth at the Lions Club exposition tonight or Saturday night, or by telephoning Mrs. Logan at 1544 or Mrs. Matthews at 170. All volunteers will be fingerprinted and screened for loyalty.

High school students who volunteer will need the written consent of their parents. Students will always serve with an adult. Men are needed for the midnight to 6 a. m. shifts, and women are needed for the daytime, working-hour shifts. In some cases, husband and wife teams are able to man the posts together in evening hours.

16 Horses Burn In Cornwall Fire

Sixteen saddle horses perished in a stable fire late Thursday night at the Stone House Dude Ranch near Cornwall.

State police said the blaze was not of a suspicious nature, although its exact cause has not been determined.

The fire broke out about 11 p. m. Thursday, troopers of the Newburgh substation said. The Highland Engine Company of Cornwall, Vails Gate and New Windsor fought the blaze.

The dude ranch is located at Orrs Mills, on Route 32 five miles south of Newburgh.

Troopers said no personal injuries were reported.

Terms Are Agreed

Tehran, Iran, April 25 (AP)—Authoritative sources said today Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's government and the United States have agreed on terms for resuming U. S. military aid to strategic, oil-rich Iran. Aid was suspended early in January because Mossadegh refused to sign a contract containing six commitments tying Iran to cooperation with the west, as provided under the U. S. Mutual Security Act.

Price Correction

Hellman's Blue Ribbon mayonnaise advertised for 59 cents a pint in Minasian's Super Market advertisement Thursday night should have read a quart for that price.

McBride's Will Be Giustino Market

George Giustino, proprietor of the Giustino Importing Co., 616 Broadway, said today that plans are in progress for establishing a self-service market in the former McBride building at 634 Broadway.

Giustino said he will lease the store property and hopes to have renovations completed for opening the market about June 15.

Face New Charges

New York, April 25 (AP)—Four alleged basketball fixers charged with trying to rig a Bradley University-City College of New York game here two years ago have been named in superseding indictments. District Attorney Frank S. Hogan's office revealed existence of the other indictments. The alleged fixers are Joseph Benintende, 42; Jack "Zip" West, 39; Jack Rubenstein, 33; and Eli (Kaye) Klukofsky, 29, all of New York. Benintende is an ex-convict who was once questioned in the murder of Kansas City Democratic boss Charles Binaggio.

Says Ike Strongest

Stassen as the winner of Minnesota's GOP presidential primary.

In state presidential primaries held so far, Stassen has trailed Eisenhower and Taft in all but the Minnesota contest.

Says Speeches Will Tell

Taft said in a radio interview last night (MBS reporters' roundup) that Eisenhower inevitably will lose some of his present supporters when he speaks out on such issues as the Taft-Hartley Act and civil rights.

Taft said Gov. Thomas E. Dewey turned out to be a weak candidate in 1948 because he didn't conduct the right kind of campaign. He predicted that if Eisenhower wins the GOP nomination this year he also is "likely to become a weak candidate in the end."

On another question, Taft criticized an Associated Press tabulation of delegate strength based on pledges, instructions, expressed leanings of GOP delegates selected so far, and candidate concessions.

Specifically, he said an AP tabulation for Wednesday afternoon papers showing 233 delegates for Taft and 209 for Eisenhower, was "not accurate at all."

Taking Dewey's Word

He said the AP had not polled delegates chosen in New York, but had taken Dewey's word for the way the delegates would vote.

And in Pennsylvania, Taft said, his forces believe Eisenhower has no more than 13 delegates, compared with 20 credited to him by the AP. He said the AP credits him with 18 in Pennsylvania "but we have at least 25" and that there are 25 or 30 others who will follow the lead of Gov. John S. Fine who, Taft said, "is entirely neutral at this moment."

(The Associated Press said that its Pennsylvania totals in the delegate table were the result of (1) clear-cut contests in the Tuesday primary and (2) an AP poll of delegates in which they were asked to state their preference.

(In a pre-primary poll in New York the replies were not as conclusive and a new poll is being conducted. In the meantime the national table of delegates to which Sen. Taft referred gave him the one delegate he won in a clear-cut contest plus eight in a New York city area where he is believed to have considerable support, with the other 81 going to Eisenhower who has the support of state GOP leaders.

(This has since been revised so that until the New York poll of delegates shows a new division, the following figures for New York will appear in AP delegate tables:

(Eisenhower gets 73 which Taft in effect concedes him; Taft gets one delegate he clearly won (and which Eisenhower leaders concede); (16 are listed as in dispute.)

How Delegates Stand

Taft, 231
Eisenhower, 214
Stassen, 22
Warren, 6
MacArthur, 2
Uncommitted, 114
Total 589 (603 needed for nomination)

Taft said that as of now he has about 267 delegates.

Full-Scale Parley

prisoners during a two-week recess which ended April 19 showed that only 70,000 wanted to go home. Earlier, allied officers had said most UN-held captives would want to be repatriated.

Col. James C. Murray said revised Communist figures submitted during the secret talks showed the Reds hold 12,000 prisoners, an increase of about 500 since official Communist prisoner roster was turned over last December. Murray said most of the additional names were those of South Koreans.

Staff officers met in secret session 17 times. Off-the-record talks began March 25 in an attempt to break the long deadlock over voluntary repatriation.

Newsmen are not permitted to attend any truce sessions. In ordinary sessions spokesmen of each side are free to report what happened. They are not permitted to make any report on secret meetings.

Hickman said the Reds tried to call off the secret discussions Thursday, but he persuaded them to meet again Friday.

A second group of staff officers working on plans for supervising a truce met 14 minutes without making progress. They are deadlocked over an allied demand for a ban on airfield construction and Communist nomination of Russia as a neutral inspector.

The United States paid all its public debt in 1835, but a new national debt was soon created by war and depression.

Rotary Conference Here

Entertained Rotary Guests

Members of the hostess committee who entertained the wives of visiting Rotary members during their District Conference here. Mrs. William E. Rylance (fifth from left) was chairman of the committee which planned the ladies' program, which included visits to local historic points as well as a motor trip to the Ashokan Reservoir.

Lake Mahopac Man Is New President Of Rotary District

Samuel Hickman of Lake Mahopac-Carmel was introduced as new president of Rotary International's 255th District at the district conference here Thursday afternoon. Hickman, formerly a member of the re-districting committee, succeeds John T. Kaemmerlen of Hudson as governor.

Harry D. Matteson of Poughkeepsie was re-elected district treasurer and Frank A. Bradt, Johnstown, was re-elected to the post of custodian-historian.

The 255th District is comprised of 53 Rotary Clubs with more than 3,000 members in the Hudson Valley area.

Kingston was the host club for the two-day conference, which closed Thursday afternoon. Between 250 and 300 Rotarians and their wives attended sessions during one or both of the days, Larry V. Bogert, registration chairman, estimated.

The closing luncheon meeting was held Thursday afternoon at the Governor Clinton Hotel, with Dr. Wesley Northridge Haines, assistant to the president of Keuka College, as main speaker. Dr. Haines, who is president of Penn Yann Rotary Club, used as his topic, "Your Best Relations Are Human."

The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, president of the Kingston Rotary Club, presided at the luncheon. Invocation was by the Rev. Gary Germann of Glens Falls, a past district governor. Singing was led by George Kernochan and accompanied on the piano by Samuel Scudder.

General conference chairman was Ernest A. Steuding. Stephen G. Hyatt was vice chairman; Harry L. Edson, secretary; Harry D. Matteson, treasurer, and Mrs. William E. Rylance, chairman of ladies' program.

Thursday morning, the ladies present were taken on a conducted tour of the Senate House and museum, the Daughters of America chapter house, and other points of interest in Kingston.

Prison Officials

cautions were ordered against any slipups such as the one which led to the revolt by some 170 of the prison's 6,500 occupants. A rookie guard was seized Sunday night by Jack (Crazy Jack) Hyatt, a psychopathic long-term robber, to touch off mutiny.

On Monday, they commandeered enough food in prison-wide rioting to last them for weeks if necessary. This rioting cost the life of one convict—victim of a state trooper's bullet—and injuries to 11 other prisoners and four policemen.

It also resulted in an estimated $2,000,000 damage from fire, vandalism and plunder — largely to prison utilities from which prisoners normally get the most pleasure.

Gov. Williams said the "no reprisal" promise did not in any way tie the hands of Attorney General Frank C. Millard, who has ordered an immediate investigation of the riot to determine what charges might be brought against the prisoners.

Millard said all crimes will be punished according to law. He said he will seek proof that will stand up in court of such charges as kidnaping, malicious destruction of property, rioting, inciting to riot, assault with intent to murder or do great bodily harm.

None Can Grant Immunity

"No state official, not even the supreme court, can grant any one immunity for the commission of crime," Millard said.

A similar statement came from Gov. Williams, who praised prison officials for their success "in restoring control without a blood bath."

The mutiny leaders agreed to surrender yesterday morning after the state promised to settle their grievances—ranging from alleged guard brutality to parole board abuses.

The mutineers threw open the doors of cellblock 15 promptly at the appointed 4 p. m. surrender time.

Earl Ward, handsome but brutish undisputed boss of the rebels, stepped out to supervise the frisking of the surrendering convicts. The search stripped them of knives and assorted ball bats, wrenches, scissors, and other makeshift weapons.

Then the mutineers, who had lived on canned foods all week, filed in orderly fashion to the messhall and devoured a promised steak-to-ice cream dinner.

Convicts in other cellblocks, given the regular prison fare last night, set up a noisy howl when they heard the mutiny leaders were feasting on steak.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, APRIL 25, 1952

LIFE-LINE OF HOPE

The annual campaign of the Kingston United Jewish Welfare Fund, that magnificent expression of humanity that serve our neighbors at home and has rescued hundreds of thousands of men, women and children overseas, is underway. This newspaper wishes to go on record as fully endorsing the aims and purposes of the 1952 drive of the fund, which this year has a goal of $84,500.

There are sound and valid reasons why the United Jewish Welfare Fund must raise this large sum in 1952.

From the very inception of our nation, private philanthropy has stood as a bulwark of the American way of life. It is a voluntary expression of man's humanity to man in a democracy such as ours.

In the City of Kingston, the United Jewish Welfare Fund helps support the Jewish Community Center as well as other worthy causes.

Overseas, this fund through the United Jewish Appeal has contributed to the transfer of more than 700,000 men, women and children from danger zones in Eastern Europe and the Moslem countries to Israel. More than half of these immigrants have been integrated and absorbed into the economic and social life of the new machine. But—at this writing—250,000 men, women and children are still living in tents and tin huts in immigrant settlements and reception centers in the New State. Funds are also needed to move at least 20,000 immigrants to Israel from Arab lands and Eastern Europe. There are thousands of handicapped, aged and ill newcomers who must be given medical rehabilitative care. Relief and social welfare aid must be extended to a quarter of a million distressed Jews living in Europe and Moslem areas.

The funds raised for the United Jewish Appeal will help afford a decent life for hundreds of thousands of persons, who for too long have experienced suffering.

Few nationwide efforts can produce the miracles of life-saving and life-restoration that the United Jewish Appeal performs. We urge our freedom-loving Americans to participate in this magnificent undertaking by helping the Kingston United Jewish Welfare Fund to attain its 1952 objective of $84,500. Contributions may be sent care of The Jewish Community Center, 265 Wall street.

PEACE THROUGH FEAR

At a recent exhibit in the Tower of London a weapon was displayed which was once regarded as so terrible that its creator predicted it would spell the end of wars. It was a breech-loading carbine designed early in the 18th century for King George I of England by a French Huguenot refugee. Today the weapon is as obsolete as a sling-shot or a stone ax and the prediction of the inventor sounds hollow and absurd.

A few short years ago, when the first atomic bomb reduced Hiroshima to a radioactive pile of ashes, a similar prediction was made. Man had finally invented the weapon which could destroy the world and optimists predicted that the common sense of men everywhere would now outlaw war. Subsequent events have proved how wrong this theory was.

Ever since his emergence from the caves man has sought peace. Because his search has usually been a negative one, which relied on inspiring fear and misunderstanding rather than understanding and affection, his efforts have failed. Men of a future generation may someday exhibit an atomic bomb and wonder that we considered such a weapon one solution to the problem of maintaining peace.

The man who gave up golf forever last fall is looking wistfully at his golf clubs now. It seems longer than forever since last he walked across a course.

There is a fine line between periods in a girl's life—when the red on her face is no longer strawberry jam but lipstick.

THE FOREIGN POLICY

The center of the debate in the Presidential campaign is the foreign policy. The ambition of the internationalists is so to arrange the affairs of both parties that no discussion of foreign policy occurs. The same forces which created the fiction of a bipartisan foreign policy in 1944 and 1948 are now active in both parties to nominate candidates who will be silent on this one subject.

This group consists of two principal factors, namely, Wall Street banking houses with vast international connections and their business affiliates; and a number of newspaper and magazine publishers who were associated with the Wendell Willkie campaign in 1940.

It would seem that the general objective of this political operation is to have a candidate who will support the policy that has been pursued by this country since 1938, when Roosevelt shifted from apparent neutrality to active partisanship. The tone of the current attitude was best expressed by Averell Harriman on an "America's Town Meeting" discussion when he said:

"Just a minute. We've made lots of mistakes and I'm sure you've made lots of mistakes. But what we're talking about is what we learned from the mistakes, and where we're going for the future. . . .

"Let's talk about the future, not about the past. . . ."

In a word, these people want no examination of their costly errors. Their attitude is that no matter what a mistake costs in wealth and human life, no one is responsible for it; the citizen who pays in sons and taxes must be silent. Mr. Harriman has been present at most of the conferences under both Roosevelt and Truman which brought upon us our misfortunes, but he does not feel responsible. He got experience.

What we really need to do is to resolve that every man associated with the errors which began at Teheran should be eliminated from public life. The curious thing about it is that the Europeans hardly take seriously the consequences of our errors. The following paragraph from the British "The Contemporary Review" is typical of the European reaction to our problems:

"It is understandable that the United States should feel in a more militant and crusading mood towards Communism than the rest of the Anglo-Saxon world and Europe. The latter is more disposed to fight Communism by other methods than open war if this is at all possible. No doubt this is still the view of the majority in the United States. But the United States is still a country where New England preachers can get up moral crusades, where the spirit of the early Mayflower settlers and of the Scottish Covenanters can exercise a powerful influence on public opinion. The history of the United States is full of this sort of phenomenon—Harriet Beecher Stowe's famous anti-slavery novel, the Abolitionists, and the campaign against Brigham Young and the Mormons. There is an undercurrent of a Messianic idea here to carry the fiery cross over the world against Communism."

We have suffered at least 107,000 casualties and M. Philips Price, in this important publication, speaks of our Messianic ideals in relation to Communism! Mr. Harriman would have us believe that not one cent may be cut from the proposed $7,900,000,000 for foreign aid, no matter what our internal situation; his mind seems to run to an international WPA, which is not unnatural since he entered politics under the tutelage of Harry Hopkins.

Mr. Price can recognize opposition to the foreign policy of the Administration as "sordid"—as

". . . the desire to stop the leftist trend of American politics under the Democrats. To slow down social insurance schemes, the beginnings of a welfare state and state interference in the national economy, these Republicans are quite ready to use all methods including the reversal of the United State's foreign policy. They see that the defence of Europe against Russia and the methods of fighting Communism by economic aid to Europe and the backward parts of Asia and Africa are likely to mean higher taxes for years to come. . . ."

Of course, if an internatialist is nominated by the Republicans, this process will be reversed. The Republicans will then be supporters of the Truman-Marshall-Acheson program. They might as well nominate Averell Harriman, and gulp down the entire bitter pill.

CURE OVERWEIGHT BY TAXATION?

As a nation we are becoming used to taxation in various forms, most of which appears to be fair under existing circumstances. There are, however, in some countries, taxes that have nothing to do with the income of the individual but are aimed at certain individuals who are not pulling their weight for the community and its social and economic needs.

It has been suggested that a tax be levied on overweights in proportion to their degree of overweight. While the suggestion comes from Denmark, it could quite properly become law here, that is, in cases where no reasonable effort has been made to reduce weight.

At the Central Hospital in Svendborg, Drs. Bert Krarup and C. J. Schwensen have undertaken an analytical study of the weight of patients treated in this hospital in 1948 and 1949. After the elimination or dismissal of 569 patients under the age of 15, and 147 other patients, they were left with 2,429 patients over the age of 15. They were classified according to their ages and weights, and the normal weights at different ages were based on the figures of a life insurance company. As these figures were not considered ideal, especially for elderly people, the patients were allowed a 10 per cent margin above these normals before being included among the overweight cases.

According to this standard 310 (12.8 per cent) of the 2,429 patients were overweight. About two-thirds of these patients were over 50. A study of 242 overweight patients showed that on the average each of them had spent nearly five days more in hospital than the average for all the hospital patients. These 242 patients had been admitted to hospitals for reasons directly or indirectly, partly or entirely, concerned with their obesity (overweight). About 85 had arthritis and 141 suffered from some form of heart disease.

After discussing the associaton of overweight with numerous other morbid conditions and the expense or economic burden it imposes on the community, Drs. Krarup and Schwensen suggest that overweight is largely due to carelessness and thoughtlessness of overweight persons. These persons should defray some of its cost through taxation on overweight.

Insurance companies in this country already charge an extra premium for overweight.

"Er—I'll Sit This One Out"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—"Call Me Madam" Perle Mesta, U. S. Minister to Luxembourg, had an interesting experience with President Truman in regard to General Eisenhower.

While visiting in the United States, Mrs. Mesta was asked by the President to make some speeches before women's clubs explaining the goals of the North Atlantic Pact and the work of General Eisenhower. Mrs. Mesta did so, found women's groups responsive and interested.

But in Washington she reported to the President that she had received a most unfavorable reaction from Democratic leaders wherever she had gone.

"They didn't like my making talks that helped General Eisenhower," she explained.

The President thought a minute, then said:

"You go right on making the speeches."

It was quite clear that he regarded the peace and unity of Europe as more important than any poltical help to be derived by Eisenhower.

Behind Prison Riots

Behind the rash of prison riots are two things: 1, The population of the United States has increased and with it our criminal population; 2, most prisons have remained woefully behind.

The New Jersey Penitentiary at Trenton, where one of the first outbreaks occurred, dates back almost to the days of George Washington. Other jails almost as antiquated include the Maryland State Penitentiary at Baltimore, built in 1805, and the Massachusetts Penitentiary at Charleston, which dates back almost to Revolutionary days.

The Rahway, N. J., so-called State Prison Farm, which I visited the other day, is relatively modern, built in 1890. But it looks as out-of-date as an English castle and is surrounded by such a suburban area that farming is out of the question. Built to house 700 inmates, a total of 1,000 are now crammed behind its dank walls.

One of the gripes of the Rahway prisoners, and a legitimate one, is that they are not permitted a hearing before the New Jersey Parole Board. When a prisoner is up for parole, a personal hearing is standard in most states. A prisoner is permitted to appear before the parole board, state his case for parole, and answer questions. This gives the parole board an opportunity to judge the merits of his case and decide firsthand whether he should be released.

In New Jersey, however, the parole board is so lazy that it won't hear prisoners, bases its judgment merely on written reports.

California's Modern System

In contrast to New Jersey's antiquated methods, I have sat in California's huge Folsom Penitentiary listening to the parole board consider the case of prisoner after prisoner. Its board is under a Negro, Walter Gordon, who played football with Gov. Earl Warren at the University of California, and who is regarded as one of the outstanding penal experts of the nation.

I listened as a Negro murderer from Arkansas came before the board. He had migrated to California with the "Arkies" to pick fruit. Charles Dullea, a former California police officer, now a member of the parole board, had every detail of the criminal's record at his fingertips, cross-examined him carefully, brought out the story of his shooting of another man in a quarrel over the prisoner's wife.

Chairman Gordon, without dwelling on the fact that many of his race have had little education in the past, then developed the fact that this inmate had never learned to read or write until he entered prison. Now he had progressed to the fourth grade. The prisoner was not paroled. But hope was held out to him that if he progressed further in his prison schooling, parole would come in the not-too-distant future.

This is the kind of personal study given by every modern parole board, but which is not given in New Jersey. This is one reason for the riots.

Another reason is the fact that prison budgets are appropriated by state legislatures 18 months or so in advance. Then the cost of living goes up, the budget is automatically lessened, and food is curtailed.

Another reason is the manpower shortage. Good guards are hard to get at current meager salaries. Many guards are aged. One of them, 69 years old, was released by rioting convicts at Jackson, Mich. He was too old even to be a hostage.

Arriving back in the United States from Europe, I got a phone call to come to Rahway, N. J., where striking prisoners had asked me to act as mediator. I didn't know exactly what it was all about, but took a taxi from the airport to the prison, offered my services to Warden William Lagay.

For one hour I waited outside the big, barricaded door. Warden Lagay did not even do me the courtesy of acknowledging my message.

Midnight Politics

After the Harriman dinner in New York, a group of big-city Democrats convened in the hotel suite of Democratic State Chairman Paul Fitzpatrick to lick their wounds over Governor Stevenson's withdrawal from the presidential lists.

The meeting brought memories of other conclaves by big-city bosses, notably that which put across Harry Truman at Chicago in 1944.

Jack Arvey, the mayor-maker of Chicago was there; also John C. Carr, righthand man of Gov. Paul Devers and Democratic committeeman for Massachusetts; together with a lady representative of Mayor Dave Lawrence of Pittsburgh and Mayor John Kenny of Jersey City.

Main motive of the meeting was to find some way of persuading Governor Stevenson to change his mind.

"If we nominate him," argued Jack Arvey, one of Stevenson's close friends and chief backers, "I'll bet you my last dollar that he'll take it."

About 2 a. m., Fitzpatrick invited Senator Kefauver of Tennessee to come up and join the meeting, but by that time most of the big-city Democrats had gone.

President 'Explains' Failure to Use Taft-Hartley Law in Steel Strike

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 25—It's just about a mile between the White House and Capitol Hill where Congress meets — and it doesn't take but a few minutes for the President to send a message recommending what legislation he wants.

Yet Mr. Truman says he waited ninety-nine days for the steelworkers union to hold up their strike call and hence when they did decide to quit work, it was too late to use the Taft-Hartley act, which provides an eight-day wait. He declares also that there was such a big emergency he had to act even without a law. To him it was just like sending an "ultimatum" to Stalin. It was a great big emergency and there wasn't anything else to do, he claims, in order to keep steel production going.

Mr. Truman is right. There was an emergency. But it was of his own making. It was due to his failure to apply the provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act. It is true this law doesn't provide a solution for what may happen at the end of eighty days but any time within that period Mr. Truman could have traveled the mile between Capitol Hill and the White House or sent up a messenger with a request that Congress give him authority to meet such a prospective emergency.

Mr. Truman's defense of his seizure of the steel plants, as given to his press conference, makes a bad situation even worse. Conceding that he had no authority under any law and that he was acting under "inherent powers" of the Constitution, Mr. Truman pointed to international emergencies and to situations in which other Presidents like Jefferson and Tyler and Polk had acted without law to annex the Louisana Territory, Texas and Alaska. Those were all purchases or annexations of land. There was no seizure of the private property of any American citizen.

If Mr. Truman has been looking for instances in which Presidents have done unconstitutional acts and have gotten away with it, there are plenty in the history books. Public acquiescence some times discourages any challenge of a law or of an executive action that is popular, but this does not mean the acts are thereby legalized.

It is regrettable that Mr. Truman should seek to justify his own course by pointing to some unconstitutional acts of his predecessors. For it accentuates the very issue that has been raised in the past two weeks—that another President of the United States some day may seize private property without a law and blandly announce: "Truman did it—so it's all right."

Much more candid was the observation of government attorneys in their argument before Judge Pine the same day on the subject of an injunction sought by the steel companies to restrain the Secretary of Commerce from paying out a wage increase to which the owners of the properties have not agreed. The government attorneys conceded that the seizure did not have any sanction of law and was simply an action taken in an emergency to prevent the stoppage of steel production.

Mr. Truman's contention is that he was faced with an emergency and then acted. Nobody would be criticizing him today if he had acted in a suddenly developed crisis, especially if he had gone immediately thereafter to Congress to seek ratification of his action.

But Mr. Truman never told Congress about the steel situation till after he seized the properties and even then he didn't ask for a law to justify that seizure or to take care of future seizures.

The President's action has begun to arouse the nation to the point where demands for impeachment are being made in an increasing number of letters every day to members of the House of Representatives. Mr. Truman sought to minimize the gravity of his answer to the American Society of Newspaper Editors last week when he answered a question as to whether under similar circumstances he would seize the newspapers and radio stations. Now Mr. Truman declares he never had any such idea. But why is that it took almost a week to get a denial from the President as to the implications of his remarks? The answer is that Mr. Truman now is hearing from the country and is retracing his steps.

If Mr. Truman had really thought about it, he might have defended his first answer to the editors a bit by pointing out that, if atom bombs destroyed many of our cities, the government would undoubtedly take over radio stations in such an emergency.

But the obvious attempt of Mr. Truman to argue that a national emergency arose just because he went from the frying pan into the fire on the steel dispute means that Mr. Truman certainly is badly in need of sound advice from friends. They might tell him that the best governmental policy is that which is fair to all citizens and not just to members of the CIO.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Washington, D. C., April 25—Of all the dangerous and unforgivable things which President Truman has done, the seizure of the steel plants is the most horrible.

I am not now discussing the wage question involved. Doubtless, some raise in wages was justified; and if only a moderate increase, there need be no increase in steel prices. This would have been better for all—including labor—in the end.

Under the above conditions, labor would get less "take-home" pay than they would get with the full increase; but what they would take home under the steel industry's offer would buy more. The action of the Stabilization Board and the President will set off another general price increase. Every reader of this column will suffer. It is too bad.

The Great Crime

The great crime was to seize the plants without due process of law, or without awarding fair damages, or without treating all plants alike. We are used to having the President seize our boys and send them to Korea; but this is under a fair draft law to which all boys are equally subject. We know that our property is liable to seizure for payment of taxes, but all citizens (not having mink coats to give) are treated alike.

The President can take our home by eminent domain for a public highway or other necessary needs; but only after a fair hearing, proper time to vacate, collecting full damages — all being subject to court injunction. The reason why the railroads were seized last year without a row is because the railroad laws provide for such a remedy. No such provision exists for seizing steel plants, or shoe factories, or newspapers, except in case of a war declared by Congress. We are now in no such war. This means President Truman's seizure was premeditated robbery, done to pay a cheap political debt. I repeat it was a crime, especially when he would not at least try the Taft-Hartley Law.

What This Means to You

In short, this "Hitler-Peron" act by our President means trampling on the fundamental principle of our constitution. The American Revolution was fought to protect the sacredness of life and property. The fact that the free nations enjoy such protection today is their main difference from the communistic nations. Surely, President Truman acted on some very bad and unconstitutional advice. It is a shame that he will go down in history as making this colossal mistake.

I need not describe the harm which this seizure does to our prime investments. It can undermine the security of all good stocks and bonds. If the seizure is upheld by the courts, it could cause the best stocks to go into a nose dive from which all investors, savings bank depositors and holders of life insurance policies could suffer.

Looking Into the Future

Another thought: Think of the danger of letting the President seize a newspaper which he would like to suppress! He could do this as well as seize a steel plant. He would only need to stir up the employes to demand an impossible wage increase, and then "in the emergency" seize and edit that newspaper! It is horrible to contemplate. But labor ultimately suffers from this frightful precedent. Unless the courts throw out this steel seizure, it surely someday will be used against labor itself. "It is a poor rule that will not work both ways."

Last week I was quite hopeful as to the summer and fall outlook. Due to Mr. Truman's retirement, I felt that the clouds were breaking. Since then, however, a thunder storm has arisen! Whatever happens to the steel case, I am now more convinced than ever that when the next big unemployment depression comes, it will be brought on by labor leaders.

LIFE-LINE OF HOPE

The annual campaign of the Kingston United Jewish Welfare Fund, that magnificent expression of humanity that serve our neighbors at home and has rescued hundreds of thousands of men, women and children overseas, is underway. This newspaper wishes to go on record as fully endorsing the aims and purposes of the 1952 drive of the fund, which this year has a goal of $84,500.

There are sound and valid reasons why the United Jewish Welfare Fund must raise this large sum in 1952.

From the very inception of our nation, private philanthropy has stood as a bulwark of the American way of life. It is a voluntary expression of man's humanity to man in a democracy such as ours.

In the City of Kingston, the United Jewish Welfare Fund helps support the Jewish Community Center as well as other worthy causes.

Overseas, this fund through the United Jewish Appeal has contributed to the transfer of more than 700,000 men, women and children from danger zones in Eastern Europe and the Moslem countries to Israel. More than half of these immigrants have been integrated and absorbed into the economic and social life of the new machine. But—at this writing—250,000 men, women and children are still living in tents and tin huts in immigrant settlements and reception centers in the New State. Funds are also needed to move at least 20,000 immigrants to Israel from Arab lands and Eastern Europe. There are thousands of handicapped, aged and ill newcomers who must be given medical rehabilitative care. Relief and social welfare aid must be extended to a quarter of a million distressed Jews living in Europe and Moslem areas.

The funds raised for the United Jewish Appeal will help afford a decent life for hundreds of thousands of persons, who for too long have experienced suffering.

Few nationwide efforts can produce the miracles of life-saving and life-restoration that the United Jewish Appeal performs. We urge our freedom-loving Americans to participate in this magnificent undertaking by helping the Kingston United Jewish Welfare Fund to attain its 1952 objective of $84,500. Contributions may be sent care of The Jewish Community Center, 265 Wall street.

PEACE THROUGH FEAR

At a recent exhibit in the Tower of London a weapon was displayed which was once regarded as so terrible that its creator predicted it would spell the end of wars. It was a breech-loading carbine designed early in the 18th century for King George I of England by a French Huguenot refugee. Today the weapon is as obsolete as a sling-shot or a stone ax and the prediction of the inventor sounds hollow and absurd.

A few short years ago, when the first atomic bomb reduced Hiroshima to a radioactive pile of ashes, a similar prediction was made. Man had finally invented the weapon which could destroy the world and optimists predicted that the common sense of men everywhere would now outlaw war. Subsequent events have proved how wrong this theory was.

Ever since his emergence from the caves man has sought peace. Because his search has usually been a negative one, which relied on inspiring fear and misunderstanding rather than understanding and affection, his efforts have failed. Men of a future generation may someday exhibit an atomic bomb and wonder that we considered such a weapon one solution to the problem of maintaining peace.

The man who gave up golf forever last fall is looking wistfully at his golf clubs now. It seems longer than forever since last he walked across a course.

Of course, if an internatialist is nominated by the Republicans, this process will be reversed. The Republicans will then be supporters of the Truman-Marshall-Acheson program. They might as well nominate Averell Harriman, and gulp down the entire bitter pill.

CURE OVERWEIGHT BY TAXATION?

As a nation we are becoming used to taxation in various forms, most of which appears to be fair under existing circumstances. There are, however, in some countries, taxes that have nothing to do with the income of the individual but are aimed at certain individuals who are not pulling their weight for the community and its social and economic needs.

It has been suggested that a tax be levied on overweights in proportion to their degree of overweight. While the suggestion comes from Denmark, it could quite properly become law here, that is, in cases where no reasonable effort has been made to reduce weight.

At the Central Hospital in Svendborg, Drs. Bert Krarup and C. J. Schwensen have undertaken an analytical study of the weight of patients treated in this hospital in 1948 and 1949. After the elimination or dismissal of 569 patients under the age of 15, and 147 other patients, they were left with 2,429 patients over the age of 15. They were classified according to their ages and weights, and the normal weights at different ages were based on the figures of a life insurance company. As these figures were not considered ideal, especially for elderly people, the patients were allowed a 10 per cent margin above these normals before being included among the overweight cases.

According to this standard 310 (12.8 per cent) of the 2,429 patients were overweight. About two-thirds of these patients were over 50. A study of 242 overweight patients showed that on the average each of them had spent nearly five days more in hospital than the average for all the hospital patients. These 242 patients had been admitted to hospitals for reasons directly or indirectly, partly or entirely, concerned with their obesity (overweight). About 85 had arthritis and 141 suffered from some form of heart disease.

After discussing the associaton of overweight with numerous other morbid conditions and the expense or economic burden it imposes on the community, Drs. Krarup and Schwensen suggest that overweight is largely due to carelessness and thoughtlessness of overweight persons. These persons should defray some of its cost through taxation on overweight.

Insurance companies in this country already charge an extra premium for overweight.

"Er—I'll Sit This One Out"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—"Call Me Madam" Perle Mesta, U. S. Minister to Luxembourg, had an interesting experience with President Truman in regard to General Eisenhower.

While visiting in the United States, Mrs. Mesta was asked by the President to make some speeches before women's clubs explaining the goals of the North Atlantic Pact and the work of General Eisenhower. Mrs. Mesta did so, found women's groups responsive and interested.

But in Washington she reported to the President that she had received a most unfavorable reaction from Democratic leaders wherever she had gone.

"They didn't like my making talks that helped General Eisenhower," she explained.

The President thought a minute, then said:

"You go right on making the speeches."

It was quite clear that he regarded the peace and unity of Europe as more important than any poltical help to be derived by Eisenhower.

Behind Prison Riots

Behind the rash of prison riots are two things: 1, The population of the United States has increased and with it our criminal population; 2, most prisons have remained woefully behind.

The New Jersey Penitentiary at Trenton, where one of the first outbreaks occurred, dates back almost to the days of George Washington. Other jails almost as antiquated include the Maryland State Penitentiary at Baltimore, built in 1805, and the Massachusetts Penitentiary at Charleston, which dates back almost to Revolutionary days.

The Rahway, N. J., so-called State Prison Farm, which I visited the other day, is relatively modern, built in 1890. But it looks as out-of-date as an English castle and is surrounded by such a suburban area that farming is out of the question. Built to house 700 inmates, a total of 1,000 are now crammed behind its dank walls.

One of the gripes of the Rahway prisoners, and a legitimate one, is that they are not permitted a hearing before the New Jersey Parole Board. When a prisoner is up for parole, a personal hearing is standard in most states. A prisoner is permitted to appear before the parole board, state his case for parole, and answer questions. This gives the parole board an opportunity to judge the merits of his case and decide firsthand whether he should be released.

In New Jersey, however, the parole board is so lazy that it won't hear prisoners, bases its judgment merely on written reports.

California's Modern System

In contrast to New Jersey's antiquated methods, I have sat in California's huge Folsom Penitentiary listening to the parole board consider the case of prisoner after prisoner. Its board is under a Negro, Walter Gordon, who played football with Gov. Earl Warren at the University of California, and who is regarded as one of the outstanding penal experts of the nation.

I listened as a Negro murderer from Arkansas came before the board. He had migrated to California with the "Arkies" to pick fruit. Charles Dullea, a former California police officer, now a member of the parole board, had every detail of the criminal's record at his fingertips, cross-examined him carefully, brought out the story of his shooting of another man in a quarrel over the prisoner's wife.

Chairman Gordon, without dwelling on the fact that many of his race have had little education in the past, then developed the fact that this inmate had never learned to read or write until he entered prison. Now he had progressed to the fourth grade. The prisoner was not paroled. But hope was held out to him that if he progressed further in his prison schooling, parole would come in the not-too-distant future.

This is the kind of personal study given by every modern parole board, but which is not given in New Jersey. This is one reason for the riots.

Another reason is the fact that prison budgets are appropriated by state legislatures 18 months or so in advance. Then the cost of living goes up, the budget is automatically lessened, and food is curtailed.

Another reason is the manpower shortage. Good guards are hard to get at current meager salaries. Many guards are aged. One of them, 69 years old, was released by rioting convicts at Jackson, Mich. He was too old even to be a hostage.

Arriving back in the United States from Europe, I got a phone call to come to Rahway, N. J., where striking prisoners had asked me to act as mediator. I didn't know exactly what it was all about, but took a taxi from the airport to the prison, offered my services to Warden William Lagay.

For one hour I waited outside the big, barricaded door. Warden Lagay did not even do me the courtesy of acknowledging my message.

Midnight Politics

After the Harriman dinner in New York, a group of big-city Democrats convened in the hotel suite of Democratic State Chairman Paul Fitzpatrick to lick their wounds over Governor Stevenson's withdrawal from the presidential lists.

The meeting brought memories of other conclaves by big-city bosses, notably that which put across Harry Truman at Chicago in 1944.

Jack Arvey, the mayor-maker of Chicago was there; also John C. Carr, righthand man of Gov. Paul Devers and Democratic committeeman for Massachusetts; together with a lady representative of Mayor Dave Lawrence of Pittsburgh and Mayor John Kenny of Jersey City.

Main motive of the meeting was to find some way of persuading Governor Stevenson to change his mind.

"If we nominate him," argued Jack Arvey, one of Stevenson's close friends and chief backers, "I'll bet you my last dollar that he'll take it."

About 2 a. m., Fitzpatrick invited Senator Kefauver of Tennessee to come up and join the meeting, but by that time most of the big-city Democrats had gone.

President 'Explains' Failure to Use Taft-Hartley Law in Steel Strike

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 25—It's just about a mile between the White House and Capitol Hill where Congress meets — and it doesn't take but a few minutes for the President to send a message recommending what legislation he wants.

Yet Mr. Truman says he waited ninety-nine days for the steelworkers union to hold up their strike call and hence when they did decide to quit work, it was too late to use the Taft-Hartley act, which provides an eight-day wait. He declares also that there was such a big emergency he had to act even without a law. To him it was just like sending an "ultimatum" to Stalin. It was a great big emergency and there wasn't anything else to do, he claims, in order to keep steel production going.

Mr. Truman is right. There was an emergency. But it was of his own making. It was due to his failure to apply the provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act. It is true this law doesn't provide a solution for what may happen at the end of eighty days but any time within that period Mr. Truman could have traveled the mile between Capitol Hill and the White House or sent up a messenger with a request that Congress give him authority to meet such a prospective emergency.

Mr. Truman's defense of his seizure of the steel plants, as given to his press conference, makes a bad situation even worse. Conceding that he had no authority under any law and that he was acting under "inherent powers" of the Constitution, Mr. Truman pointed to international emergencies and to situations in which other Presidents like Jefferson and Tyler and Polk had acted without law to annex the Louisana Territory, Texas and Alaska. Those were all purchases or annexations of land. There was no seizure of the private property of any American citizen.

If Mr. Truman has been looking for instances in which Presidents have done unconstitutional acts and have gotten away with it, there are plenty in the history books. Public acquiescence some times discourages any challenge of a law or of an executive action that is popular, but this does not mean the acts are thereby legalized.

It is regrettable that Mr. Truman should seek to justify his own course by pointing to some unconstitutional acts of his predecessors. For it accentuates the very issue that has been raised in the past two weeks—that another President of the United States some day may seize private property without a law and blandly announce: "Truman did it—so it's all right."

Much more candid was the observation of government attorneys in their argument before Judge Pine the same day on the subject of an injunction sought by the steel companies to restrain the Secretary of Commerce from paying out a wage increase to which the owners of the properties have not agreed. The government attorneys conceded that the seizure did not have any sanction of law and was simply an action taken in an emergency to prevent the stoppage of steel production.

Mr. Truman's contention is that he was faced with an emergency and then acted. Nobody would be criticizing him today if he had acted in a suddenly developed crisis, especially if he had gone immediately thereafter to Congress to seek ratification of his action.

But Mr. Truman never told Congress about the steel situation till after he seized the properties and even then he didn't ask for a law to justify that seizure or to take care of future seizures.

The President's action has begun to arouse the nation to the point where demands for impeachment are being made in an increasing number of letters every day to members of the House of Representatives. Mr. Truman sought to minimize the gravity of his answer to the American Society of Newspaper Editors last week when he answered a question as to whether under similar circumstances he would seize the newspapers and radio stations. Now Mr. Truman declares he never had any such idea. But why is that it took almost a week to get a denial from the President as to the implications of his remarks? The answer is that Mr. Truman now is hearing from the country and is retracing his steps.

If Mr. Truman had really thought about it, he might have defended his first answer to the editors a bit by pointing out that, if atom bombs destroyed many of our cities, the government would undoubtedly take over radio stations in such an emergency.

But the obvious attempt of Mr. Truman to argue that a national emergency arose just because he went from the frying pan into the fire on the steel dispute means that Mr. Truman certainly is badly in need of sound advice from friends. They might tell him that the best governmental policy is that which is fair to all citizens and not just to members of the CIO.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Washington, D. C., April 25—Of all the dangerous and unforgivable things which President Truman has done, the seizure of the steel plants is the most horrible.

I am not now discussing the wage question involved. Doubtless, some raise in wages was justified; and if only a moderate increase, there need be no increase in steel prices. This would have been better for all—including labor—in the end.

Under the above conditions, labor would get less "take-home" pay than they would get with the full increase; but what they would take home under the steel industry's offer would buy more. The action of the Stabilization Board and the President will set off another general price increase. Every reader of this column will suffer. It is too bad.

The Great Crime

The great crime was to seize the plants without due process of law, or without awarding fair damages, or without treating all plants alike. We are used to having the President seize our boys and send them to Korea; but this is under a fair draft law to which all boys are equally subject. We know that our property is liable to seizure for payment of taxes, but all citizens (not having mink coats to give) are treated alike.

The President can take our home by eminent domain for a public highway or other necessary needs; but only after a fair hearing, proper time to vacate, collecting full damages — all being subject to court injunction. The reason why the railroads were seized last year without a row is because the railroad laws provide for such a remedy. No such provision exists for seizing steel plants, or shoe factories, or newspapers, except in case of a war declared by Congress. We are now in no such war. This means President Truman's seizure was premeditated robbery, done to pay a cheap political debt. I repeat it was a crime, especially when he would not at least try the Taft-Hartley Law.

What This Means to You

In short, this "Hitler-Peron" act by our President means trampling on the fundamental principle of our constitution. The American Revolution was fought to protect the sacredness of life and property. The fact that the free nations enjoy such protection today is their main difference from the communistic nations. Surely, President Truman acted on some very bad and unconstitutional advice. It is a shame that he will go down in history as making this colossal mistake.

I need not describe the harm which this seizure does to our prime investments. It can undermine the security of all good stocks and bonds. If the seizure is upheld by the courts, it could cause the best stocks to go into a nose dive from which all investors, savings bank depositors and holders of life insurance policies could suffer.

Looking Into the Future

Another thought: Think of the danger of letting the President seize a newspaper which he would like to suppress' He could do this as well as seize a steel plant. He would only need to stir up the employes to demand an impossible wage increase, and then "in the emergency" seize and edit that newspaper! It is horrible to contemplate. But labor ultimately suffers from this frightful precedent. Unless the courts throw out this steel seizure, it surely someday will be used against labor itself. "It is a poor rule that will not work both ways."

Last week I was quite hopeful as to the summer and fall outlook. Due to Mr. Truman's retirement, I felt that the clouds were breaking. Since then, however, a thunder storm has arisen! Whatever happens to the steel case, I am now more convinced than ever that when the next big unemployment depression comes, it will be brought on by labor leaders.

Barton Reenlists, Signs 17 Others For U. S. Service

Another record list of 17 enlistments from Ulster county for service in the army and air force was announced today by Master Sergeant Irvin N. Barton, in charge of the local U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting station.

Included in the list was the enlistment of Miss Eva Janet Lawton, who will receive her basic training at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas.

Twelve others from the city and county enlisted for service in the air force while four signed papers for army duty.

Recruiter Reenlists

While busily engaged in signing young men for duty in the air force and army this week, Sgt. Barton took time out and reenlisted in the air force for a period of three years. The local recruiter has now completed more than 22 and one-half years of service in the air force. His reenlistment took place in Albany.

Air force enlistments included the following.

Anthony P. Colange, 20, son of Mrs. Frances Colange, West Shokan; Eugene B. Hannay, 20, husband of Mrs. Mary Ella Hannay, 93 Johnston avenue; Garwood W. Cline, 20, son of Garwood Cline, 3 Coffey place; Berton E. Delamater, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Delamater, Stone Ridge; John E. Beatty, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beatty, Clintondale; Raymond E. Pardee, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pardee, Connelly; Marvin P. Burton, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Burton, Route 2, Kingston; Wilmer E. Wiedemann, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lou Wiedemann, 22 Franklin street; George S. Hulsair, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hulsair, Route 2, Kingston; and Otto A. Mullen, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Mullen, Wallkill.

Pvts. Beatty and Schepmoes were graduated from Highland High School while Kingston High School graduates included Pvts. Ferguson, Wiedemann, Hulsair, Burton, Delamater, Cline and Pardee.

All of the enlistees will receive their basic training at Sampson Air Force Base, near Geneva. Each enlisted for a period of four years.

Enlisting for army duty were John M. Balogh, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Balogh, Sr., Route 1, Kingston; Clyde B. Ellis, Jr., 20, son of Mrs. Alice Brought, New Paltz; John R. Fennelly, 19, son of Mrs. Margaret Carpino, 7 Wurts street; and Willard E. Smith, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith, Napanoch.

The four army enlistees signed for a period of two years and will be assigned initially to Fort Devens, Mass.

Kingston Men Will Complete Training

Two Kingston soldiers will complete their basic training at the Quartermaster Replacement Training Center, Fort Lee, Va., April 26.

They are Pvt. Clarence C. Stoutenburg, son of Mrs. Aggie Stoutenburg, 97 Gage street, and husband of Mrs. Angela Stoutenburg, 72 Broadway; and Pvt. Alfred W. Bassett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bassett, 74 Emerick street.

Both Pvts. Stoutenburg and Bassett were inducted into the army February 6, 1952.

Look who's crowding "the low-priced three"

THE price of a car has a lot to do with the number of folks who can afford to own it.

So the leaders in sales—for almost a generation—have been three cars whose bid for popularity has included a potent price appeal.

But who do you think is right on their heels? Who has led the field, outside "the low-priced three"—ever since 1938?

Well, sir, the name is Buick.

You get an honest-to-goodness Million Dollar Ride.

You get, in other words, an all-round money's worth of great engineering that makes any Buick—SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER—a standout buy in its field.

That's not just our say-so. It's what car buyers have said with their hard-earned dollars, year after year.

We think you ought to find out for yourself what these other folks have discovered.

We think you ought to find out why so many Buick buyers are trading in one of the so-called "low-priced three."

We think you ought to compare the size, compare the performance, compare the price, because we know what you'll find out:

If you can afford a new car, you can afford a Buick.

Barton Reenlists, Signs 17 Others For U. S. Service

Another record list of 17 enlistments from Ulster county for service in the army and air force was announced today by Master Sergeant Irvin N. Barton, in charge of the local U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting station.

Included in the list was the enlistment of Miss Eva Janet Lawton, who will receive her basic training at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas.

Twelve others from the city and county enlisted for service in the air force while four signed papers for army duty.

Recruiter Reenlists

While busily engaged in signing young men for duty in the air force and army this week, Sgt. Barton took time out and reenlisted in the air force for a period of three years. The local recruiter has now completed more than 22 and one-half years of service in the air force. His reenlistment took place in Albany.

Air force enlistments included the following.

Anthony P. Colange, 20, son of Mrs. Frances Colange, West Shokan; Eugene B. Hannay, 20, husband of Mrs. Mary Ella Hannay, 93 Johnston avenue; Garwood W. Cline, 20, son of Garwood Cline, 3 Coffey place; Berton E. Delamater, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Delamater, Stone Ridge; John E. Ferguson, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson, 145 Pine Grove avenue; Eber A. Schepmoes, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schepmoes, Clintondale; Russell W. Beatty, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beatty, Clintondale; Raymond E. Pardee, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pardee, Connelly; Marvin P. Burton, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Burton, Route 2, Kingston; Wilmer E. Wiedemann, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lou Wiedemann, 22 Franklin street; George S. Hulsair, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hulsair, Route 2, Kingston; and Otto A. Mullen, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Mullen, Wallkill.

Pvts. Beatty and Schepmoes were graduated from Highland High School while Kingston High School graduates included Pvts. Ferguson, Wiedemann, Hulsair, Burton, Delamater, Cline and Pardee.

All of the enlistees will receive their basic training at Sampson Air Force Base, near Geneva. Each enlisted for a period of four years.

Enlisting for army duty were John M. Balogh, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Balogh, Sr., Route 1, Kingston; Clyde B. Ellis, Jr., 20, son of Mrs. Alice Brought, New Paltz; John R. Fennelly, 19, son of Mrs. Margaret Carpino, 7 Wurts street; and Willard E. Smith, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith, Napanoch.

The four army enlistees signed for a period of two years and will be assigned initially to Fort Devens, Mass.

Kingston Men Will Complete Training

They are Pvt. Clarence C. Stoutenburg, son of Mrs. Aggie Stoutenburg, 97 Gage street, and husband of Mrs. Angela Stoutenburg, 72 Broadway; and Pvt. Alfred W. Bassett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bassett, 74 Emerick street.

Both Pvts. Stoutenburg and Bassett were inducted into the army February 6, 1952.

Look who's crowding "the low-priced three"

THE price of a car has a lot to do with the number of folks who can afford to own it.

So the leaders in sales—for almost a generation—have been three cars whose bid for popularity has included a potent price appeal.

But who do you think is right on their heels? Who has led the field, outside "the low-priced three"—ever since 1938?

Well, sir, the name is Buick.

You get an honest-to-goodness Million Dollar Ride.

You get, in other words, an all-round money's worth of great engineering that makes any Buick—SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER—a standout buy in its field.

That's not just our say-so. It's what car buyers have said with their hard-earned dollars, year after year.

We think you ought to find out for yourself what these other folks have discovered.

We think you ought to find out why so many Buick buyers are trading in one of the so-called "low-priced three."

We think you ought to compare the size, compare the performance, compare the price, because we know what you'll find out:

If you can afford a new car, you can afford a Buick.

Why not find out for yourself what's behind this popularity?

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series. †Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster only.

ONLY BUICK PROVIDES THEM ALL

DYNAFLOW DRIVE*—great boon to easier driving, proved on more than a million Buicks

FIREBALL 8 ENGINE—of valve-in-head design, makes high compression count for more

NEW WIDE-BAND BRAKES—for smoother, more positive control

MILLION DOLLAR RIDE—with 4-wheel coil springing and road-steady torque-tube

TOP-CAPACITY TRUNKS—more luggage room than ever in most models

NEW TWO-TONE INTERIORS—in most models, grace Buick's Body by Fisher

SWEEPSPEAR STYLING—adds gleaming smartness to all models

Plus These, Too, On ROADMASTER:

AIRPOWER CARBURETION—with highest horsepower in Buick history. MORE MILES PER GALLON...POWER STEERING†—greatly eases parking and turning, without losing that firm feel...SILENCE—so complete you can speak in whispers under way.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

British Boldness Paid Dividends

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Few American experts would raise to two hearts freely on the West cards in the hand shown today. When the hand was played in an English tournament recently, however, several bold Britons took action with the West cards instead of passing.

The result, in this case, was good. South was pushed to three spades, which could be set if the defense was very accurate. I am not suggesting that Americans copy the English bidding style, but I do think that they will find an interesting point in the defense.

At some tables West made his best opening lead—the seven of clubs. East took two club tricks with the ace and queen, and then led a third club for West to ruff. West next led the five of hearts, and East won with the king.

East now had a problem. If South still had a heart, East should cash the ace of hearts before leading his last club. If East had no more hearts, East's best play was to lead his last club at once. How could East tell what the true situation was?

Obviously, West had led his fourth-best heart. After the play of the first heart trick, East knew that West still had the queen-jack-eight of hearts (the only unseen hearts that were higher than the card that West had led). East didn't know who held the four of hearts. After all, South might have dropped the six of hearts even if he held both the six and the four.

One or two of the English experts tried to cash the ace of hearts. South thereupon ruffed with a low spade, drew trumps with the ace and king, and ran the rest of the tricks.

The successful defenders read the true sitution by rather subtle reasoning. If West had held only four hearts headed by queen-jack, he would have led the queen as an indication that the defense had a chance to win two heart tricks.

The fact that he led the five of hearts (instead of the queen) indicated that West expected only one defensive trick in the suit. In short, West was thereby marked with a five-card holding in hearts.

The successful defense therefore was to lead back the last club. This was bound to produce another trump trick. If South ruffed low, West would over-ruff with the ten. If South ruffed high, either the queen or the ten of spades would win a defensive trick later on.

Civil Service Exam

The U. S. Civil Service Commission today announced an examination for filling positions of industrial specialist in the U. S. Navy shipbuilding activity in Philadelphia. Salaries range from $5,060 to $9,600 a year. To qualify for these positions, applicants must have had progressively responsible experience in industrial management, planning, engineering, or cost accounting, in business analysis or distribution, or in other similar activities. Appropriate college study may be substituted for part of this experience. No written test will be given. Further information and application forms may be obtained from the Commission's local secretary, William P. Barry, located at Main Post Office, Kingston.

Reds Expect Trade

Moscow, April 25 (AP)—Items in the Soviet press today illustrated the Russian belief that increased U. S. tariffs will help to force non-Communist countries into trading with the Reds. The frequency of such publications in the Moscow press recently has attested to the Russian interest in American tariff policies. Some speakers at the recent Moscow International Economic Conference said U. S. tariff policy makes it hard for other western countries to enter the American market. Trade with Eastern countries, including China and the Soviet Union, they said, does not involve that obstacle.

Plans Completed For Paltz X-Ray Survey Next Week

Final plans for the free chest X-ray survey to be held in New Paltz Village April 30, May 1 and 2, were made Thursday night at a meeting held in the municipal building in New Paltz. Township chairman Frank Elliott, presided over the meeting and introduced Dr. Robert H. Broad, Ulster county commissioner of health, who spoke on the public health aspects of the chest X-ray survey.

Miss Elizabeth Schoonmaker, public health nurse in the New Paltz area, spoke briefly on the nursing followup procedures of the survey, and John T. Connolly, health education assistant of the Ulster County TB and Health Association, described the organization and publicity program being carried out. Supplies to the canvassers were distributed at this time.

Elliott stressed the fact that the free chest X-rays are for all residents over 15 years of age in the township of New Paltz and urged everyone to take full advantage of this opportunity. No undressing is needed and it only takes a very few minutes to have the picture taken. Reports of the X-rays are sent to everyone in about two weeks.

The committee for the New Paltz area includes Edgar Beebe, publicity chairman; Mrs. Edith Park, location and personnel chairman; Clifford Van Valkenburgh, transportation; and Mrs. Raymond Morris, canvassing.

Motorist Runs to Save Boy Struck by Auto

Hudson, N. Y., April 25 (AP) — A motorist ran a quarter mile to a hospital yesterday carrying a 3-year-old boy he had struck with his automobile, but the boy died two hours later.

The boy, John De Venski of Columbiaville, was struck near his home six miles north of here. The driver, William Reiff, 42, of Troy, put the boy in his car and started for Columbia Memorial Hospital.

A quarter mile from the hospital, Reiff's car broke down and he finished the grim race on foot. Police said the boy had run in front of Reiff's car.

Cats Together Again

Mud and Flood are back together again, Robert E. Teetsel reported Thursday afternoon. Mud, a black cat with a white spot under her chin, wandered away from Teetsel's night club, The Barn, several days ago. The cat was seen in several places in the uptown business section, and finally stopped at the United Cut Rate Pharmacy, where it was recognized and returned to its owner.

Variety in Travel Mode

Mt. Vernon, Ill. (AP) — It took a plane, trains, bus and a car, but an "Army family" made it from Alaska to Mt. Vernon recently. M/Sgt. C. O. Donoho, his wife and two children, adopted in Alaska, visited her parents here en route to a North Carolina assignment. They flew from Anchorage to Seattle, entrained to Chicago, took a bus to Detroit, bought a car and drove the rest of the way.

UNDER THE GUN—Guarded by an armed civilian, typical of those who brought off the recent revolution in Bolivia, Hernan Siles Suazo, leader of the rebels, works at his desk at La Paz. He recalled exiled President Victor Paz Estenssoro, who told Bolivianos he will nationalize the country's tin industry.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

British Boldness Paid Dividends

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Few American experts would raise to two hearts freely on the West cards in the hand shown today. When the hand was played in an English tournament recently, however, several bold Britons took action with the West cards instead of passing.

The result, in this case, was good. South was pushed to three spades, which could be set if the defense was very accurate. I am not suggesting that Americans copy the English bidding style, but I do think that they will find an interesting point in the defense.

At some tables West made his best opening lead—the seven of clubs. East took two club tricks with the ace and queen, and then led a third club for West to ruff. West next led the five of hearts, and East won with the king.

East now had a problem. If South still had a heart, East should cash the ace of hearts before leading his last club. If East had no more hearts, East's best play was to lead his last club at once. How could East tell what the true situation was?

Obviously, West had led his fourth-best heart. After the play of the first heart trick, East knew that West still had the queen-jack-eight of hearts (the only unseen hearts that were higher than the card that West had led). East didn't know who held the four of hearts. After all, South might have dropped the six of hearts even if he held both the six and the four.

One or two of the English experts tried to cash the ace of hearts. South thereupon ruffed with a low spade, drew trumps with the ace and king, and ran the rest of the tricks.

The successful defenders read the true situation by rather subtle reasoning. If West had held only four hearts headed by queen-jack, he would have led the queen as an indication that the defense had a chance to win two heart tricks.

The fact that he led the five of hearts (instead of the queen) indicated that West expected only one defensive trick in the suit. In short, West was thereby marked with a five-card holding in hearts.

The successful defense therefore was to lead back the last club. This was bound to produce another trump trick. If South ruffed low, West would over-ruff with the ten. If South ruffed high, either the queen or the ten of spades would win a defensive trick later on.

Civil Service Exam

The U. S. Civil Service Commission today announced an examination for filling positions of industrial specialist in the U. S. Navy shipbuilding activity in Philadelphia. Salaries range from $5,060 to $9,600 a year. To qualify for these positions, applicants must have had progressively responsible experience in industrial management, planning, engineering, or cost accounting, in business analysis or distribution, or in other similar activities. Appropriate college study may be substituted for part of this experience. No written test will be given. Further information and application forms may be obtained from the Commission's local secretary, William P. Barry, located at Main Post Office, Kingston.

Reds Expect Trade

Moscow, April 25 (AP)—Items in the Soviet press today illustrated the Russian belief that increased U. S. tariffs will help to force non-Communist countries into trading with the Reds. The frequency of such publications in the Moscow press recently has attested to the Russian interest in American tariff policies. Some speakers at the recent Moscow International Economic Conference said U. S. tariff policy makes it hard for other western countries to enter the American market. Trade with Eastern countries, including China and the Soviet Union, they said, does not involve that obstacle.

Plans Completed For Paltz X-Ray Survey Next Week

Final plans for the free chest X-ray survey to be held in New Paltz Village April 30, May 1 and 2, were made Thursday night at a meeting held in the municipal building in New Paltz. Township chairman Frank Elliott, presided over the meeting and introduced Dr. Robert H. Broad, Ulster county commissioner of health, who spoke on the public health aspects of the chest X-ray survey.

Miss Elizabeth Schoonmaker, public health nurse in the New Paltz area, spoke briefly on the nursing followup procedures of the survey, and John T. Connolly, health education assistant of the Ulster County TB and Health Association, described the organization and publicity program being carried out. Supplies to the canvassers were distributed at this time.

Elliott stressed the fact that the free chest X-rays are for all residents over 15 years of age in the township of New Paltz and urged everyone to take full advantage of this opportunity. No undressing is needed and it only takes a very few minutes to have the picture taken. Reports of the X-rays are sent to everyone in about two weeks.

The committee for the New Paltz area includes Edgar Beebe, publicity chairman; Mrs. Edith Park, location and personnel chairman; Clifford Van Valkenburgh, transportation; and Mrs. Raymond Morris, canvassing.

Motorist Runs to Save Boy Struck by Auto

Hudson, N. Y., April 25 (AP) — A motorist ran a quarter mile to a hospital yesterday carrying a 3-year-old boy he had struck with his automobile, but the boy died two hours later.

The boy, John De Venski of Columbiaville, was struck near his home six miles north of here. The driver, William Reiff, 42, of Troy, put the boy in his car and started for Columbia Memorial Hospital.

A quarter mile from the hospital, Reiff's car broke down and he finished the grim race on foot. Police said the boy had run in front of Reiff's car.

Cats Together Again

Mud and Flood are back together again, Robert E. Teetsel reported Thursday afternoon. Mud, a black cat with a white spot under her chin, wandered away from Teetsel's night club, The Barn, several days ago. The cat was seen in several places in the uptown business section, and finally stopped at the United Cut Rate Pharmacy, where it was recognized and returned to its owner.

Variety in Travel Mode

Mt. Vernon, Ill. (AP) — It took a plane, trains, bus and a car, but an "Army family" made it from Alaska to Mt. Vernon recently. M/Sgt. C. O. Donoho, his wife and two children, adopted in Alaska, visited her parents here en route to a North Carolina assignment. They flew from Anchorage to Seattle, entrained to Chicago, took a bus to Detroit, bought a car and drove the rest of the way.

UNDER THE GUN—Guarded by an armed civilian, typical of those who brought off the recent revolution in Bolivia, Hernan Siles Suazo, leader of the rebels, works at his desk at La Paz. He recalled exiled President Victor Paz Estenssoro, who told Bolivianos he will nationalize the country's tin industry.

Floor Fight Is Expected at Parley On Church Rules

San Francisco, April 25 (AP)—A dramatic floor fight shaped up today as the general conference of the Methodist Church took up its most controversial subject — a survey commission report recommending drastic revision of church structure.

The three-year, $240,000 survey by a firm of industrial engineers aims at streamlining church organization. Opponents contend the proposed revisions are "too sweeping" and would result in a concentration of power.

Some say they feel too much emphasis was put on details of business operation, with the result that the spiritual phase of church operation was overlooked.

Leading the fight for adoption is Dr. Harold C. Case, president of Boston University and a member of the survey commission. Charles C. Parlin, Englewood, N. J., an attorney, is expected to head the opposition.

'Freeze' Is Anticipated

Observers suggested opponents might try to freeze the report by asking that consideration be deferred for four years—until the next general conference. During that time, its provisions would be studied by a special committee to be named by this conference.

The conference yesterday skirted two issues of intense interest: Whether ministerial candidates should be permitted to smoke and whether unordained pastors should be allowed to administer the communion.

Action on a report dealing with these issues was postponed until the committee on the ministry drafts recommendations. The report, by the commission to study the ministry, recommended that the "no smoking" pledge no longer be required and that the present rule prohibiting unordained pastors from administering the communion be left unchanged.

The report commented that the pledge against tobacco "seems to single out one indulgence and leaves unmentioned any number of weightier matters." It suggested placing the matter "on a higher level than the legal" by asking candidates to dedicate themselves "to the highest ideals of the Christian ministry."

Man Held in Dutchess For Setting Two Fires

Dutchess County Sheriff Fred C. Close identified him as 55-year-old John W. Funk.

Funk was arraigned on a third degree arson charge yesterday a few hours after he was arrested.

Close said Funk admitted trying to set fire to a barn April 15 and to starting a grass fire April 19.

Processes Rubber

Singapore (AP)—Indonesia is bypassing Singapore in offering processed natural rubber to the markets of the world. The flow of unprocessed rubber which keeps alive the remilling industry in Singapore, is gradually drying up and threatening the industry with extinction. Five of 11 major rubber milling factories have already closed, throwing thousands out of jobs.

Maine is divided into 16 counties, which contain 21 cities, 422 towns, 65 plantations, and 386 organized townships.

Educator's Talk Canceled in Jersey

Englewood, N. J., April 25 (AP)—A speech by Dr. Mary McLeod Bethune, prominent Negro educator, was postponed last night by an American Legion auxiliary after some local citizens claimed she had Communist affiliations.

Instead of making her scheduled speech in a public school, Dr. Bethune talked before a group at a Negro church, where she said she is "a loyal, uncompromising American citizen."

Dr. Bethune, 76, is founder and and president-emeritus of Bethune-Cookman College in Florida.

Some local citizens protested the scheduled talk, charging that the elderly educator had been affiliated with several organizations termed subversive by the government.

To Give Another Bid

Miss Evelyn Seufert, attorney for the Henry Douglas Post 58, a Negro American Legion Post, said last night's speech was postponed because of insufficient time to refute the protests. Another invitation to speak will be extended to Dr. Bethune when the charges are refuted, Miss Seufert said adding, "and she will be cleared."

Dr. Bethune said in her speech at the church, "'forgive them Father, for they know not what they do.'"

In New York, meanwhile, Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said he was "amazed and distressed" over the speech-postponement action, and termed as "utterly absurd" the charges of communism against Dr. Bethune.

Studies Mandarin

Singapore (AP)—An enterprising young teacher from New York city is working out his own mutual assistance program here. Peter Lewis, 21, said it works this way: he teaches English to about 40 pupils in a Singapore high school while they, as well as some of their Chinese instructors, teach him Mandarin. To make the tedious process of learning Mandarin seem a little less like a chore, Peter is living in a Y.M.C.A. "rest house" for Chinese teachers.

A contractor went out to see one of his nearly-completed post-war homes. Walking in the house where a carpenter was working, he whispered:

Carpenter—Yep!

Contractor—Can you see me?

Carpenter—Not very well.

Contractor—That is what I call a durn good wall.

A gentleman traveling, was accosted by a man walking along the road, who begged the favor of him to put his great coat, which he found very heavy, into his carriage. "With all my heart," said the gentleman, "but if we should not be traveling to the same place, how will you get your coat?" — "Monsieur," answered the man with great naivete, "I shall be in it."

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

The Ruminator dislikes to be pessimistic in his comments on the economic outlook (as he has been for sometime) but in the words of the umpire, he has "to call 'em as he sees 'em."

And it has been impossible to call "contrary opinions" optimistic in the past many months, when there has been such a deluge of propaganda on continued inflation, defense booms, and so on—most of which propaganda has proved false.

However, I think it is possible to hazard a guess that while the short-run outlook remains extremely clouded, the longer outlook is brightening.

Here's what I mean.

It seems to me that we face a relatively short-term "recession" ahead and that this has a good chance of preventing a more serious slump later.

What needs to be done, as I see it, to prevent a severe crack-up in the next year or two, is to accept a moderate set-back now which will clear up the over-expansion and over-pricing that have occurred in the last year and a half.

All signs point to the fact, for example, that the public is fed up with mounting prices and is showing a determined objection to buying high-priced goods that they do not actually need. This is beginning to show up in automobile sales, as there has not been the usual "snap" to spring demands for new cars. It is early to measure this accurately, but as of new there is a noticeable slack in automobile demands.

This is one of the worries over the steel seizure and demands for increases in wages and prices. The automobile companies will certainly not take kindly to the idea of being forced to raise their prices again (which they may have to do if steel prices go up). Perhaps the announced cut in the prices of the Kaiser "Henry J" is a straw in the wind of the way auto manufacturers are thinking. But it will be difficult to cut prices when costs go up. However, cut prices may be the only way sales can be maintained. So you see what difficulties manufacturers face today.

Carry this automobile situation throughout industry and it will be found, I think, that readjustments all along the line are essential. In the meantime, special bargain sales and other promotion plans will doubtless bring down inventories over coming months. There has been a healthy drop in inventories already, but chiefly among retailers. Manufacturers' stocks are still high (you doubtless saw where General Electric and Westinghouse have cut down their production schedules of refrigerators because of top-heavy inventories). In a matter of months the inventory situation could be remedied.

While this readjustment is going on you are likely to witness a lot of labor strife. The steel seizure has generated a good deal of heat and hard feelings. If the government raises wages substantially (as is expected) there are many unions all set to demand their increases also. These are among the big industries: Oil, rubber, electrical, meat packing, paper, shipbuilding, farm machinery, construction, railroads, coal, and others. We can look forward to quite a long stretch of labor troubles. And likewise we have not heard the last (I hope) of the steel seizure case. This is a fundamental issue and should not be passed over lightly. Many of us wonder why the Congress has been so slow to take up the matter seriously, but perhaps they will get into it this week. When our senators and representatives get home this summer we ought to ask them why they did not take up the cudgels more actively against the President's unprecedented act. There have been many other seizures, of course, but none that I know of without any statuatory or war "excuse."

Nonetheless, unions will not let up in their demands, come what will of the steel issue.

The election campaigning, too, may prove somewhat unsettling, because of the hot competition already apparent in the Republican ranks. The contest between Taft and Eisenhower seems destined to become rather bitter — which may be most unfortunate for the Republican party. Because of the extreme competition it will be impossible to gauge influences of the nominations until they actually take place in July. Inasmuch as the general has said he would not campaign prior to the convention we shall be left pretty much in the dark as to his downright viewpoints on numerous significant questions.

Let's be prepared for a few months of unsettlement after which we may look for more stabilized conditions.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

The other day Capt. Andrew Hickey needed a good photo of the little Skillypot or Riverside for his coming book. I said, the best one I have seen is at Carl Weber's Pharmacy. I do not know where it could have been taken from, but it is a sort of a bird's eye view from above. It also shows how small the ferry was. A horse and buggy comes right to the top of the engine house as I have told my readers before. Also Capt. Hickey wanted to know if River Side was two words on the ferry. I looked with my magnifying glass and I see on that picture it was.

As my father made a model of the ferry back around 1921, when it was hinted that the Skillypot would be removed soon after the Rondout Creep Bridge was built. We saved and tried to buy or have copies made of any photos we could find. On postal cards published by the Kingston Souvenir Co. of Kingston, Riverside is one word. Also there are three windows in the ladies' cabin facing the bridge side. In the old picture with the white horse, there are only two windows. Therefore, I take it the ladies' cabin must have been rebuilt between these two photographs. Also I notice that on the newer photo there is a double roof on the ladies' cabin, in which I take it there are life preservers. There is a place for green and red lanters on one picture and yet not on the post card. The post card states "This is old chain ferry boat, Riverside, Rondout and Port Ewen ferry, Kingston, N. Y."

When I presented the Senate House Museum with my father's model of the Skillypot which is now on exhibition in the boat room, I also typed off all the information I could find on it. This I gave to Mrs. Terwilliger for her files in case someone wanted to have further information on the ferry. But now I see that the Skillypot no doubt was torn down and rebuilt, at least the ladies' cabin, and never much said about it anywhere. It is too bad that postal cards are not dated when printed. Of course that would outdate them in time, but it also would make them more valuable as time goes on. Photographs are also seldom dated. Perhaps in time to come, the film itself will print off a date, then pictures such as I have will not remain a mystery, as to what happened when.

Some time ago, I spoke to Mayor Oscar Newkirk about having a guest book at the City Hall, so that guests could sign their names when they visit Kingston. I am glad at least the Queen of The Netherlands signed the book at the old Dutch Church. It makes it so positive just when she was here. Perhaps, someone will give a book to the City Hall which could be used for such a purpose. As the mayor usually greets all honored guests, he is in the best position to hand them a fountain pen in good working order and have them sign the Kingston guest book. It can be properly dated and notations made later. I am surprised such a book does not exist up to now. After all, after 300 years, they certainly could have filled up several books with illustrious names from Peter Stuyvesant, Governor Clinton, George Washington, Teddy and F.D.R. and many others.

Attempt Failed

In 1771 when newspapers first began comprehensive reporting of the debates in the English Parliament, the Parliament attempted to halt the practice and even had the lord mayor of London arrested for refusal to honor warrants against printers.

Town Will Consider New Road Machinery

The town board of the town of Marbletown will hold a meeting in the town building, Stone Ridge, next Monday at 8 p. m. for the purpose of considering the purchase of highway machinery and equipment costing a maximum of $34,775.

Amos Stokes, superintendent of highways of the town, has recommended the purchase of a Walters truck, complete with plows for $19,500; a snow plow for the old Walters truck for $1,700; a rubber tired motor tractor with cutting bar for weed cutting and blade and scoop for $3,000; a gasoline eight-ton roller for $9,000 and one pick-up truck to be used for a service car for $1,575.

Notice of the meeting has been given to the public by Frederick G. Baumgarten, town clerk.

University Site Purchased

Kuala Lumpur, Malaya (AP)—The Malayan government has bought 815 acres of land in Johore state from the Sultan for $1,600,000 for building a University of Malaya. The director of education, L. D. Whitfield, however, said construction would not be started for some time.

RIFTON

Rifton, April 24—The children of the Rifton Rock school, accompanied by Miss Anna Devine, teacher, and a number of parents, chartered a bus last week for a trip to the circus in New York. For several of the parents it was the first time they had seen the "greatest show on earth."

Mr. and Mrs. S. Leightner and family, of Astoria, L. I., were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Ruehl.

The Clement family went to New York to attend a funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fredenburg of Rennselaer visited relatives in the village recently.

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Hara and family of New York spent the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Eckert.

Mrs. Green and her brother, William Ashcroft, of Shandaken, spent a few days at the home of Mrs. Nellie Tigar last week. They also motored to Newton, N. J., to visit Mr. Ashcroft's brother, Henry Ashcroft.

The Rifton unit of the Home Bureau will meet at the fire house at 8 p. m. Thursday.

The Sacrament of Holy Communion will be observed Sunday at 2:30 p. m. with the Rev. R. D. Watson, pastor of the Port Ewen Methodist Church, conducting the service, assisted by the Rev. W. C. Herron.

Ralph Johnson, district superintendent of schools, visited Rifton schools with Miss Marianne Ludwig of Germany, who is touring this country to study our public school system.

John Eckert, SR, US Navy, was home for Easter weekend after six months in the Mediterranean.

Mrs. Heywood Eckert spent a few days in New York visiting her mother.

AN OPEN LETTER
To Parents of Young Men 17 or Over

The military future of your son is, undoubtedly, of grave concern to you in the present emergency. I am sure there must be many questions you would like to have answered, such as:

How does Selective Service affect my boy?
Is he subject to military service?
If so, where and how can he serve?

The 156th Field Artillery Battalion, New York National Guard, will answer these questions.

You and your son are invited to attend a special four-week Military Indoctrination Course to be conducted by the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, at the State Armory, North Manor avenue, Kingston, New York, on Friday evenings, May 2nd, 9th, 16th and 23rd at 8:00 p. m.

If you want the answers to these and any other questions you might have concerning your son's military future, I urge that you and your son attend these conferences.

Your attendance at these conferences places you under no obligation whatsoever.

Have your son fill out the application below and mail it to me at the State Armory. DO IT NOW!

Sincerely,
FRANK W. HARKIN, Lieutenant Colonel, Artillery, NYNG, Commanding

Manufacturers' stocks are still high (you doubtless saw where General Electric and Westinghouse have cut down their production schedules of refrigerators because of top-heavy inventories). In a matter of months the inventory situation could be remedied.

While this readjustment is going on you are likely to witness a lot of labor strife. The steel seizure has generated a good deal of heat and hard feelings. If the government raises wages substantially (as is expected) there are many unions all set to demand their increases also. These are among the big industries: Oil, rubber, electrical, meat packing, paper, shipbuilding, farm machinery, construction, railroads, coal, and others. We can look forward to quite a long stretch of labor troubles. And likewise we have not heard the last (I hope) of the steel seizure case. This is a fundamental issue and should not be passed over lightly. Many of us wonder why the Congress has been so slow to take up the matter seriously, but perhaps they will get into it this week. When our senators and representatives get home this summer we ought to ask them why they did not take up the cudgels more actively against the President's unprecedented act. There have been many other seizures, of course, but none that I know of without any statuatory or war "excuse."

Nonetheless, unions will not let up in their demands, come what will of the steel issue.

The election campaigning, too, may prove somewhat unsettling, because of the hot competition already apparent in the Republican ranks. The contest between Taft and Eisenhower seems destined to become rather bitter — which may be most unfortunate for the Republican party. Because of the extreme competition it will be impossible to gauge influences of the nominations until they actually take place in July. Inasmuch as the general has said he would not campaign prior to the convention we shall be left pretty much in the dark as to his downright viewpoints on numerous significant questions.

Let's be prepared for a few months of unsettlement after which we may look for more stabilized conditions.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

The other day Capt. Andrew Hickey needed a good photo of the little Skillypot or Riverside for his coming book. I said, the best one I have seen is at Carl Weber's Pharmacy. I do not know where it could have been taken from, but it is a sort of a bird's eye view from above. It also shows how small the ferry was. A horse and buggy comes right to the top of the engine house as I have told my readers before. Also Capt. Hickey wanted to know if River Side was two words on the ferry. I looked with my magnifying glass and I see on that picture it was.

As my father made a model of the ferry back around 1921, when it was hinted that the Skillypot would be removed soon after the Rondout Creep Bridge was built. We saved and tried to buy or have copies made of any photos we could find. On postal cards published by the Kingston Souvenir Co. of Kingston, Riverside is one word. Also there are three windows in the ladies' cabin facing the bridge side. In the old picture with the white horse, there are only two windows. Therefore, I take it the ladies' cabin must have been rebuilt between these two photographs. Also I notice that on the newer photo there is a double roof on the ladies' cabin, in which I take it there are life preservers. There is a place for green and red lanters on one picture and yet not on the post card. The post card states "This is old chain ferry boat, Riverside, Rondout and Port Ewen ferry, Kingston, N. Y."

When I presented the Senate House Museum with my father's model of the Skillypot which is now on exhibition in the boat room, I also typed off all the information I could find on it. This I gave to Mrs. Terwilliger for her files in case someone wanted to have further information on the ferry. But now I see that the Skillypot no doubt was torn down and rebuilt, at least the ladies' cabin, and never much said about it anywhere. It is too bad that postal cards are not dated when printed. Of course that would outdate them in time, but it also would make them more valuable as time goes on. Photographs are also seldom dated. Perhaps in time to come, the film itself will print off a date, then pictures such as I have will not remain a mystery, as to what happened when.

Some time ago, I spoke to Mayor Oscar Newkirk about having a guest book at the City Hall, so that guests could sign their names when they visit Kingston. I am glad at least the Queen of The Netherlands signed the book at the old Dutch Church. It makes it so positive just when she was here. Perhaps, someone will give a book to the City Hall which could be used for such a purpose. As the mayor usually greets all honored guests, he is in the best position to hand them a fountain pen in good working order and have them sign the Kingston guest book. It can be properly dated and notations made later. I am surprised such a book does not exist up to now. After all, after 300 years, they certainly could have filled up several books with illustrious names from Peter Stuyvesant, Governor Clinton, George Washington, Teddy and F.D.R. and many others.

Attempt Failed

In 1771 when newspapers first began comprehensive reporting of the debates in the English Parliament, the Parliament attempted to halt the practice and even had the lord mayor of London arrested for refusal to honor warrants against printers.

Town Will Consider New Road Machinery

The town board of the town of Marbletown will hold a meeting in the town building, Stone Ridge, next Monday at 8 p. m. for the purpose of considering the purchase of highway machinery and equipment costing a maximum of $34,775.

Amos Stokes, superintendent of highways of the town, has recommended the purchase of a Walters truck, complete with plows for $19,500; a snow plow for the old Walters truck for $1,700; a rubber tired motor tractor with cutting bar for weed cutting and blade and scoop for $3,000; a gasoline eight-ton roller for $9,000 and one pick-up truck to be used for a service car for $1,575.

Notice of the meeting has been given to the public by Frederick G. Baumgarten, town clerk.

University Site Purchased

Kuala Lumpur, Malaya (AP)—The Malayan government has bought 815 acres of land in Johore state from the Sultan for $1,600,000 for building a University of Malaya. The director of education, L. D. Whitfield, however, said construction would not be started for some time.

RIFTON

Rifton, April 24—The children of the Rifton Rock school, accompanied by Miss Anna Devine, teacher, and a number of parents, chartered a bus last week for a trip to the circus in New York. For several of the parents it was the first time they had seen the "greatest show on earth."

Mr. and Mrs. S. Leightner and family, of Astoria, L. I., were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Ruehl.

The Clement family went to New York to attend a funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fredenburg of Rennselaer visited relatives in the village recently.

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Hara and family of New York spent the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Eckert.

Mrs. Green and her brother, William Ashcroft, of Shandaken, spent a few days at the home of Mrs. Nellie Tigar last week. They also motored to Newton, N. J., to visit Mr. Ashcroft's brother, Henry Ashcroft.

The Rifton unit of the Home Bureau will meet at the fire house at 8 p. m. Thursday.

The Sacrament of Holy Communion will be observed Sunday at 2:30 p. m. with the Rev. R. D. Watson, pastor of the Port Ewen Methodist Church, conducting the service, assisted by the Rev. W. C. Herron.

Ralph Johnson, district superintendent of schools, visited Rifton schools with Miss Marianne Ludwig of Germany, who is touring this country to study our public school system.

John Eckert, SR, US Navy, was home for Easter weekend after six months in the Mediterranean.

Mrs. Heywood Eckert spent a few days in New York visiting her mother.

AN OPEN LETTER
To Parents of Young Men 17 or Over

The military future of your son is, undoubtedly, of grave concern to you in the present emergency. I am sure there must be many questions you would like to have answered, such as:

How does Selective Service affect my boy?
Is he subject to military service?
If so, where and how can he serve?

The 156th Field Artillery Battalion, New York National Guard, will answer these questions.

You and your son are invited to attend a special four-week Military Indoctrination Course to be conducted by the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, at the State Armory, North Manor avenue, Kingston, New York, on Friday evenings, May 2nd, 9th, 16th and 23rd at 8:00 p. m.

If you want the answers to these and any other questions you might have concerning your son's military future, I urge that you and your son attend these conferences.

Your attendance at these conferences places you under no obligation whatsoever.

Have your son fill out the application below and mail it to me at the State Armory. DO IT NOW!

Sincerely,

Bride-Elect

VIRGINIA FIORE

Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Fiore of 267 Washington avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Virginia Frances, to James C. Martin, son of Lieutenant and Mrs. James P. Martin, 247 West Chestnut street. No date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Fiore attended schools in Brooklyn and this city and will be graduated from New Paltz State Teachers College in August. The bride-elect has been engaged as a member of the faculty, beginning in September, at the Napanoch School.

Mr. Martin graduated from Kingston High School and served for three years, during World War 2, with the U. S. Air Force.

Miss Rae Badalamenti Weds Eugene Smith In Holy Cross Church

The marriage of Miss Rae Badalamenti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Badalamenti, 80 Chapel street, to Eugene Smith, son of Mrs. Flora Boughton, 43 Cedar street, took place Sunday, April 20, at 2 p. m. in the Holy Cross Church. The Rev. Stanley Dean officiated at the ceremony. A reception for 150 guests followed at the Mannerchor Hall.

Wedding selections were played by Walter Kidd, organist. Mrs. Dorothy Narel of Lake Katrine was the soloist. She sang, Oh Promise Me and the Ave Maria.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of white taffeta styled with long sleeves, sweetheart neckline and long train. Her fingertip veil was attached to a beaded headpiece. She carried white gladioli with streamers of lily-of-the-valley.

The bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, 68 Murray street, was the matron of honor. Her gown of maize satin was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and full net skirt. A headpiece of maize net and a bouquet of blue daffodils and blue satin ribbon completed her ensemble.

Leo Smith was his brother's best man. The ushers were Joseph John Badalamenti, brother of the bride, 77 Clinton avenue and Pasquale Fasano, the bride's brother-in-law, 93 Henry street.

Upon their return from a trip to New York the couple will reside at 3 Cedar street. For traveling, the bride wore a blue gabardine suit, blue accessories, and a corsage of yellow roses.

The bride, a former resident of Brooklyn, attended Kingston High School and is employed by the Fessenden Shirt Co.

The bridegroom attended Kingston High School and is employed by Perry's Taxi Service, Inc. During World War 2, he served with the U. S. Army.

Music was furnished during the reception by the Cliff, Gene and Ray Trio.

Newlyweds

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE E. RONK

The daughter of Rudolph Kallert of this city, the former Miss Ruth M. Kallert, was married to George E. Ronk of New Paltz, Sunday, April 13, in the parsonage of the First Church of the Nazarene. The Rev. Fred Fike officiated. (Smith photo)

Ruth Kallert Is Wed To George E. Ronk

Miss Ruth M. Kallert, daughter of Rudolph Kallert of this city, was married to George E. Ronk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ronk of New Paltz, Sunday, April 13, at 2:30 p. m. in the parsonage of the First Church of the Nazarene. The Rev. Fred Fike, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony. A reception for 40 guests was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents in New Paltz.

Traditional wedding selections were played by Carrol J. Davis of Olive Bridge: George Shaver of Stone Ridge was the soloist and sang Because.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a navy blue and white checked suit with navy accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Mrs. Robert E. Moore of Kingston, attired in a yellow dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations was the matron of honor.

Upon their return from a trip to New York the couple will reside in New Paltz.

Mrs. Ronk attended Kingston High School and the Missionary Training Institute in Nyack. Mr. Ronk attended New Paltz High School and is employed at the Clintondale Cooler in Clintondale.

Principals in Youth Rally at Rosendale Grange

A successful rally, participated in by youth organizations and others in Ulster county, was held in the Rosendale Grange hall in Rosendale on Wednesday evening. Because of its popularity, it was decided to make the county-wide rally an annual event. Similar get-togethers will also be arranged frequently during the year. The principals at the rally were, left to right, Dan Barnhart of Stone Ridge, chairman of Pomona Youth Committee; Mrs. Gertrude Corfman, associate director of Young Cooperators Service of the Dairymen's League, and Louis Bruce, director of the same organization. (Freeman photo)

Mrs. Everett Coty Honored at Reorganization Meeting of UC Girl Scouts in Governor Clinton

At the reorganization meeting of the Ulster County Girl Scouts Council, Inc., Tuesday evening in the Governor Clinton Hotel, Mrs. Everett Coty, of Napanoch, retiring commissioner, was presented with a Thanks Badge, the highest award in Girl Scouting.

Mrs. Coty has been active in Girl Scouting for more than 15 years and has served in the office of Commissioner for the past two and one-half years. The award was bestowed upon her in tribute to the splendid and untiring job she has done while in office and "for her enthusiasm, endeavor and inspiration to the council."

New Plan

Under the new plan of Girl Scouting in the county, the council will comprise the entire membership in contrast to the small governing body had prior to the reorganization. The title president has been substituted for that of commissioner and a board of directors will number not less than 12 nor more than 20 members.

Officers and Directors

Following the adoption of the new constitution and by-laws, members of the board were elected. They are Mrs. Gordon Anderson and Mrs. Charles Rapp, Woodstock; Mrs. Ashton Hart, Mrs. DeWitt Hasbrouck and Miss Anna Draudt, High Falls; the Mmes. Alice Kurdt, Max Chirlin, Oscar Newkirk, Vincent Connelly and Ira Saxe; and Robert O'Reilly of this city; Mrs. Everett W. Coty, Mrs. William Oakley and Everett W. Coty of Napanoch; Mrs. Donald Downs, Kerhonkson; Mrs. Betty Sharp, Spring Glen; Mrs. Ruth Speirs, Milton; Mrs. Lillian Campbell, New Paltz; and Mrs. Herbert Dubois, Wallkill.

Officers of the board include Mrs. DeWitt Hasbrouck, president; Mrs. Max Chirlin, first vice president; Mrs. Everett Coty, second vice president; Mrs. Gordon Anderson, treasurer and Mrs. William Oakley, secretary.

Mrs. Herbert DuBois of Wallkill was named chairman of the membership nominating committee. She will be assisted by Miss Bertha Bennett, New Paltz; Mrs. Charles Rapp, Woodstock, Mrs. Richard Holbrook, this city, and Fred Sherman of Kerhonkson.

Presiding at the meeting, Mrs. Coty was assisted by Mrs. Ashton Hart, a past commissioner of High Falls, and Mrs. Oakley. She welcomed the officers, leaders and guests in attendance.

Guest Speakers

The guest speakers were Mrs. Julian Salomon, area representative, section g, region 2 committee, a volunteer working in region 2; Julian Salomon, camp consultant on the national staff of the Girl Scouts, and Miss Jane Lounsbery, national field representative in region 2.

Mrs. Salomon gave a stirring talk on the value of Girl Scouting throughout the world and commended the many volunteers in this and other areas who give so freely of their time and funds to promote the benefits which accrue to the girls through this organization.

More Delegates

She also urged that a greater number of delegates be sent to the annual national convention and that others, not named as delegates, make an effort to attend. A cooperative training program, including the exchange of volunteer trainers in the counties of Ulster, Orange, Sullivan, Putnam and Rockland which comprise Region 2, was also suggested as a means of bringing a fresh point of view and increased enthusiasm to the volunteer training work.

Need More Men

In his talk, Mr. Salomon urged the mothers of Girl Scouts to do more volunteer work in Scouting and participate with their daughters in these activities. He pointed out that in most councils, large groups of men serve in volunteer work and asked the local organization to enlist the services of additional men. As camp consultant, this speaker outlined the value of the camp life to the Girl Scout and asked that each Scout make an effort to attend camp this summer.

Miss Lounsbery spoke with great enthusiasm regarding the new constitution and by-laws.

Mrs. Coty expressed her sincere appreciation to the Leaders and other Girl Scouts "who have given me such wonderful cooperation during my term in office."

Bride-Elect

VIRGINIA FIORE

Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Fiore of 267 Washington avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Virginia Frances, to James C. Martin, son of Lieutenant and Mrs. James P. Martin, 247 West Chestnut street. No date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Fiore attended schools in Brooklyn and this city and will be graduated from New Paltz State Teachers College in August. The bride-elect has been engaged as a member of the faculty, beginning in September, at the Napanoch School.

Mr. Martin graduated from Kingston High School and served for three years, during World War 2, with the U. S. Air Force.

Miss Rae Badalamenti Weds Eugene Smith In Holy Cross Church

The marriage of Miss Rae Badalamenti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Badalamenti, 80 Chapel street, to Eugene Smith, son of Mrs. Flora Boughton, 43 Cedar street, took place Sunday, April 20, at 2 p. m. in the Holy Cross Church. The Rev. Stanley Dean officiated at the ceremony. A reception for 150 guests followed at the Mannerchor Hall.

Wedding selections were played by Walter Kidd, organist. Mrs. Dorothy Narel of Lake Katrine was the soloist. She sang, Oh Promise Me and the Ave Maria.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of white taffeta styled with long sleeves, sweetheart neckline and long train. Her fingertip veil was attached to a beaded headpiece. She carried white gladioli with streamers of lily-of-the-valley.

The bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, 68 Murray street, was the matron of honor. Her gown of maize satin was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and full net skirt. A headpiece of maize net and a bouquet of blue daffodils and blue satin ribbon completed her ensemble.

Leo Smith was his brother's best man. The ushers were Joseph John Badalamenti, brother of the bride, 77 Clinton avenue and Pasquale Fasano, the bride's brother-in-law, 93 Henry street.

Upon their return from a trip to New York the couple will reside at 3 Cedar street. For traveling, the bride wore a blue gabardine suit, blue accessories, and a corsage of yellow roses.

The bride, a former resident of Brooklyn, attended Kingston High School and is employed by the Fessenden Shirt Co.

The bridegroom attended Kingston High School and is employed by Perry's Taxi Service, Inc. During World War 2, he served with the U. S. Army.

Music was furnished during the reception by the Cliff, Gene and Ray Trio.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE E. RONK

Ruth Kallert Is Wed To George E. Ronk

Miss Ruth M. Kallert, daughter of Rudolph Kallert of this city, was married to George E. Ronk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ronk of New Paltz, Sunday, April 13, at 2:30 p. m. in the parsonage of the First Church of the Nazarene. The Rev. Fred Fike, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony. A reception for 40 guests was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents in New Paltz.

Traditional wedding selections were played by Carrol J. Davis of Olive Bridge: George Shaver of Stone Ridge was the soloist and sang Because.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a navy blue and white checked suit with navy accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Mrs. Robert E. Moore of Kingston, attired in a yellow dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations was the matron of honor.

Upon their return from a trip to New York the couple will reside in New Paltz.

Mrs. Ronk attended Kingston High School and the Missionary Training Institute in Nyack. Mr. Ronk attended New Paltz High School and is employed at the Clintondale Cooler in Clintondale.

Principals in Youth Rally at Rosendale Grange

A successful rally, participated in by youth organizations and others in Ulster county, was held in the Rosendale Grange hall in Rosendale on Wednesday evening. Because of its popularity, it was decided to make the county-wide rally an annual event. Similar get-togethers will also be arranged frequently during the year. The principals at the rally were, left to right, Dan Barnhart of Stone Ridge, chairman of Pomona Youth Committee; Mrs. Gertrude Corfman, associate director of Young Cooperators Service of the Dairymen's League, and Louis Bruce, director of the same organization. (Freeman photo)

Mrs. Everett Coty Honored at Reorganization Meeting of UC Girl Scouts in Governor Clinton

At the reorganization meeting of the Ulster County Girl Scouts Council, Inc., Tuesday evening in the Governor Clinton Hotel, Mrs. Everett Coty, of Napanoch, retiring commissioner, was presented with a Thanks Badge, the highest award in Girl Scouting.

Mrs. Coty has been active in Girl Scouting for more than 15 years and has served in the office of Commissioner for the past two and one-half years. The award was bestowed upon her in tribute to the splendid and untiring job she has done while in office and "for her enthusiasm, endeavor and inspiration to the council."

New Plan

Under the new plan of Girl Scouting in the county, the council will comprise the entire membership in contrast to the small governing body had prior to the reorganization. The title president has been substituted for that of commissioner and a board of directors will number not less than 12 nor more than 20 members.

Officers and Directors

Following the adoption of the new constitution and by-laws, members of the board were elected. They are Mrs. Gordon Anderson and Mrs. Charles Rapp, Woodstock; Mrs. Ashton Hart, Mrs. DeWitt Hasbrouck and Miss Anna Draudt, High Falls; the Mmes. Alice Kurdt, Max Chirlin, Oscar Newkirk, Vincent Connelly and Ira Saxe; and Robert O'Reilly of this city; Mrs. Everett W. Coty, Mrs. William Oakley and Everett W. Coty of Napanoch; Mrs. Donald Downs, Kerhonkson; Mrs. Betty Sharp, Spring Glen; Mrs. Ruth Speirs, Milton; Mrs. Lillian Campbell, New Paltz; and Mrs. Herbert Dubois, Wallkill.

Officers of the board include Mrs. DeWitt Hasbrouck, president; Mrs. Max Chirlin, first vice president; Mrs. Everett Coty, second vice president; Mrs. Gordon Anderson, treasurer and Mrs. William Oakley, secretary.

Mrs. Herbert DuBois of Wallkill was named chairman of the membership nominating committee. She will be assisted by Miss Bertha Bennett, New Paltz; Mrs. Charles Rapp, Woodstock, Mrs. Richard Holbrook, this city, and Fred Sherman of Kerhonkson.

Presiding at the meeting, Mrs. Coty was assisted by Mrs. Ashton Hart, a past commissioner of High Falls, and Mrs. Oakley. She welcomed the officers, leaders and guests in attendance.

Guest Speakers

The guest speakers were Mrs. Julian Salomon, area representative, section g, region 2 committee, a volunteer working in region 2; Julian Salomon, camp consultant on the national staff of the Girl Scouts, and Miss Jane Lounsbery, national field representative in region 2.

Mrs. Salomon gave a stirring talk on the value of Girl Scouting throughout the world and commended the many volunteers in this and other areas who give so freely of their time and funds to promote the benefits which accrue to the girls through this organization.

More Delegates

She also urged that a greater number of delegates be sent to the annual national convention and that others, not named as delegates, make an effort to attend. A cooperative training program, including the exchange of volunteer trainers in the counties of Ulster, Orange, Sullivan, Putnam and Rockland which comprise Region 2, was also suggested as a means of bringing a fresh point of view and increased enthusiasm to the volunteer training work.

Need More Men

In his talk, Mr. Salomon urged the mothers of Girl Scouts to do more volunteer work in Scouting and participate with their daughters in these activities. He pointed out that in most councils, large groups of men serve in volunteer work and asked the local organization to enlist the services of additional men. As camp consultant, this speaker outlined the value of the camp life to the Girl Scout and asked that each Scout make an effort to attend camp this summer.

Miss Lounsbery spoke with great enthusiasm regarding the new constitution and by-laws.

Mrs. Coty expressed her sincere appreciation to the Leaders and other Girl Scouts "who have given me such wonderful cooperation during my term in office."

WASTEFUL NOT TO EXCHANGE PRESENTS

Duplicate shower presents is the problem under discussion in the following letter: "My daughter was given a bridal shower at which she received three kitchen clocks. Would it be proper for her to ask two of the givers to return the clocks, and get something else in their place? My daughter thinks it was up to the girls to offer to exchange them when the presents were opened at the shower, and since not one of them volunteered to do so, she refuses to ask them. I think she is acting very silly about the whole thing as she cannot possibly use three kitchen clocks."

Since the guests at a shower are supposedly the bride's best friends, she could surely ask two of the ones she knows the best if they would mind if she exchanged the clocks for something else. But it would surely hurt their feelings to do this herself without asking their permission.

Chaperone Unnecessary

Dear Mrs. Post: When my daughter entertains her young friends at home—boys and girls both—is it proper for my husband and me to go out for the evening and let her have the run of the house, or is it a must that we stay home to chaperone them? My husband thinks it would be very wrong to leave them alone. I don't feel this way at all as our daughter is perfectly trustworthy, and with us around the young people will feel restrained and not have a good time.

Answer: Taking it for granted that your daughter is in no way likely to behave improperly, there is no reason why she may not give a party alone—especially a party of size and with you returning early.

For Always

Dear Mrs. Post: I lost my husband more than a year ago, and some of my friends insist it is no longer proper to wear my wedding ring. Will you please tell me if they are right?

Answer: They are absolutely wrong. It is entirely correct for a widow to wear her wedding ring for life—or until she marries again.

Benedictine Alumnae Honor Mary Hamburger on 80th Birthday

Miss Mary A. Hamburger was the guest of honor at a dinner meeting of the Benedictine Hospital Alumnae Association, Thursday evening at Judie's restaurant. The occasion marked the celebration of Miss Hamburger's 80th birthday as well as the 45th year since her graduation from Our Lady of Victory School of Nursing at the Benedictine Hospital.

A member of the first class in the Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing, Miss Hamburger was graduated in 1907, and for the first few years thereafter, she was a member of the hospital nursing staff. During this period, Miss Hamburger took charge of the isolation hospital set up in the Wilbur public school for the smallpox epidemic.

In 1911, Miss Hamburger became the "nurse-in-charge" at the old Tuberculosis Hospital on Clifton avenue, where she remained for 10 years. Since then, she has devoted her time to private duty nursing.

In recognition of her many years of faithful service both to the nursing profession and the alumnae association, Miss Hamburger was presented with an appropriate gift.

Tercentennial Theme At Atharhacton Affair

The tercentennial theme was used in the table decorations and program on the occasion of the annual dinner of the Atharhacton Club, Wednesday at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Place cards used, showed sketches of the Half-Moon, the Skilliput and the Mary Powell. The flower arrangements combined magnolia and flowering almond.

Mrs. Cornelius Treadwell was chairman of the committee in charge of the dinner. She was assisted by Mrs. Herbert Fister and Mrs. Lloyd LeFever. Those present expressed appreciation for the excellent arrangements made by this committee.

Two new members were welcomed by Mrs. Frederick Smith, president. They are Mrs. John Matthews and Mrs. John Sterley.

A splendid program was presented by Mrs. Treadwell and included a club resume by Miss Louise van Hoevenberg, historian. She told the story of the early days of the club, named its charter members, and recalled the welcome received from the Lowell and Monday Clubs which had been organized earlier. She also noted the names of new members through the years.

Several games planned by Miss Agnes Smith were introduced. They had a background of local interest, based on the tercentennial celebration.

Miss Mary E. Noone gave a colorful reading of the Burning of Kingston by the poet, William Carleton, part two of which was written by Miss Mary Isabella Forsyth of this city.

Events Are Scheduled At B&P Women's Club

At a meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club of the YWCA Wednesday evening, plans were made for forthcoming events.

A dessert card party sponsored by the group and to which the public is invited will take place Wednesday, April 30, at 7:30 p. m. in the YWCA. All members were asked to report on the progress of this event not later than Monday, April 28. A reminder was also given to those members who have signed up to bring candy. Since this is the regular meeting night of the group, the supper which generally precedes the meeting will not be held.

On Wednesday, May 7, the group will have its annual mother-daughter-friend banquet, and will be followed by a play to be presented by the Drama group of the Women's Club. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m. and reservations should be made not later than Monday, May 5, by telephoning the YWCA.

KHS Students Attend Institute Open House

Kingston High School students were among the 46 high school groups registered at the annual open house program at the State University Institute of Agriculture and Home Economics at Cobleskill, recently.

Each of the nine major departments of the college presented demonstrations, exhibits and discussions of up-to-date procedures and equipment in their respective areas.

Kingston Hospital Auxiliary Will Hear Talk By Children's Home Director at Next Meeting

Frank M. White, executive director of the Children's Home, will address members and guests at a meeting of the Kingston Hospital Auxiliary, Tuesday, April 29, at 7:45 p. m. in the nurses' home. Each member has been asked to bring two guests.

In discussing the breakdown of the family unit and its relation to the children, the speaker will confine his remarks to findings in Ulster county.

Mr. White was appointed to his present position at the Children's Home in August, 1951. He came to this city with an extensive background in the field of dealing with children and their problems. For 18 years, he was associated with a child-caring agency in Westchester county and will cite highlights of his experience in New York's congested areas, where he was closely associated with the domestic relations court, handling family cases.

Prior to the address by Mr. White, Mrs. Timothy House will give a report on the booth the auxiliary is sponsoring at the Lions Club Exposition. Considerable new business will also be discussed.

A social period will conclude the meeting. Mrs. Parker K. Brinnier will be hostess.

St. James Methodist WSCS Hears Speakers

Two guests addressed the morning and afternoon meetings of the Woman's Society for Christian Service of St. James Methodist Church on Wednesday.

Mrs. Sarah Regendahl, in her address, outlined the problems relating to the Latin-American countries. Much of her talk was devoted to the difficulties encountered by the Protestant minority groups. She said that during the last 75 years, schools, hospitals, libraries and similar institutions have been established to improve the conditions and that many denominations are now joining forces in the mission work being done in this field.

The status of children was the topic chosen by Mrs. Howard McGrath, New York conference secretary of children's work, when she addressed the group in the afternoon. She described the care given children here but reminded her listeners that children are always teachable and learn from every experience as well as from all with whom they come in contact. "In our homes," she said, "we should see that what they are taught is conducive to right thinking and right living for what they learn goes with them and influences them throughout their lives."

Head of Women's Club Entertains Officers

Mrs. Charles Terwilliger, retiring president of the Women's Club of the YWCA, entertained the 1951-52 officers at a dessert bridge in her home, 319 Broadway, Thursday afternoon.

In attendance were the Mmes. John B. Sterley, DeWeese DeWitt, Harry Smith, Richard C. Morse, S. Maxwell Tayor, W. S. Jackson, William Ochs, Raymond Woodard, Ralph Harper, Edward J. Hillis, John Pope, Harry Reppert, James L. Rowe, Arthur T. Laidlaw, Ralph Shultis, A. Noble Graham and Robert H. Pixley.

Ziegler Is Elected President by Shrine Club for Coming Year

The session was well attended Thursday night in Masonic Temple on Albany avenue.

Herbert C. Myers, first vice president.

A. J. Binder, second vice president.

Irving Levine, secretary.

Ellis Griffith, treasurer.

Reports on accomplishments during the past year reflected credit on the various officers and those who served on committees.

The newly-elected officers anticipate full cooperation from members of the club in its projects during the coming year, one of which is the annual Shriners ball for the Children's Home.

Golden Wedding Plans Are Being Made for Couple in Coxsackie

An open house reception in the Methodist Church basement in Coxsackie is being planned for Mr. and Mrs. Elias Palmer of 5 Elm street, Coxsackie, in honor of their golden wedding anniversary to be celebrated on Saturday, May 3.

Prior to the reception, the couple will repeat their marriage vows and receive a blessing in the church. Relatives and friends are invited to attend the reception between the hours of 7 and 10 p. m.

Mrs. Palmer is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thatcher who came to Coxsackie from England. Mr. Palmer is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Palmer who resided in Stanton Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Palmer have always resided in the Coxsackie area.

MRS. CHARLES BRONSON

A leading authority on cerebral palsy, Mrs. Charles Bronson, will speak at the George Washington School, on Wall street, Monday, April 28, at 8 p. m. All members, parents, chairmen and workers and all interested persons are invited to attend the pre-campaign and educational meeting.

Mrs. Bronson, a mother of a cerebral palsy child, is currently a vice-president on the board of directors of the New York State Cerebral Palsy Association; area director of Metropolitan Cerebral Association; co-chairman of New York State Legislative committee; chairman of New York State Organization committee and executive director of Cerebral Palsy League of Union County, N. J.

West Hurley Guild Is Sponsoring Festival

The Wesleyan Service Guild of the West Hurley Methodist Church will sponsor a Music Festival to be presented by the senior choir of the Port Ewen Dutch Reformed Church, on Saturday at 8 p. m., in the West Hurley church.

The Festival was originally presented in Port Ewen and met with such success that church groups in this city and suburbs have requested repeat performances.

Robert Gaddis and John McCullough will be the soloists. The public is invited to attend this musical treat.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Cline, Jr., of 20 Ravine street, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Wednesday at a dinner given by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Streeter, Jr., 114 Clinton avenue, and Bernard John Cline, the celebrants' son.

Thief Eats Onions

Portales, N. M. (AP)—Deputy sheriffs were instructed to use their noses in tracking down a thief who broke into the projection booth and popcorn stand at a drive-in theatre. "He ate half of an onion while in the popcorn building," the sheriff told his officers.

Club Notices

YWCA Women's Club

The Women's Club of the YWCA will hold its annual luncheon and installation of officers on Wednesday, April 30, at 1 p. m. in the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Reservations must be made on or before Saturday noon by telephoning Mrs. DeWeese DeWitt, 6093, or the YWCA.

Young Employed Girls

The Young Employed Girls of the YWCA will hold a spaghetti and meatball supper prior to its next meeting Tuesday, April 29, at 6:30 p. m. All young employed girls are welcome to attend. Further information may be received by telephoning the YWCA.

At its last recent meeting, a cancer film was shown and different phases of the disease explained by Dr. Milton Grover, director of the tumor clinic. He emphasized that wide publicity of the disease is not meant to frighten the public, but rather to acquaint them with the danger signals so they may be treated and cured.

Home Bureau

Wiltwyck Unit

The Wiltwyck Unit of the Home Bureau will hold an exhibit of articles made in the classes during the past year. The exhibit will mark the observance of Home Demonstration week, April 28 to May 5, and will be shown in the window of the Paint Bucket, 72 North Front street.

Good Taste Today

WASTEFUL NOT TO EXCHANGE PRESENTS

Duplicate shower presents is the problem under discussion in the following letter: "My daughter was given a bridal shower at which she received three kitchen clocks. Would it be proper for her to ask two of the givers to return the clocks, and get something else in their place? My daughter thinks it was up to the girls to offer to exchange them when the presents were opened at the shower, and since not one of them volunteered to do so, she refuses to ask them. I think she is acting very silly about the whole thing as she cannot possibly use three kitchen clocks."

Since the guests at a shower are supposedly the bride's best friends, she could surely ask two of the ones she knows the best if they would mind if she exchanged the clocks for something else. But it would surely hurt their feelings to do this herself without asking their permission.

Chaperone Unnecessary

Dear Mrs. Post: When my daughter entertains her young friends at home—boys and girls both—is it proper for my husband and me to go out for the evening and let her have the run of the house, or is it a must that we stay home to chaperone them? My husband thinks it would be very wrong to leave them alone. I don't feel this way at all as our daughter is perfectly trustworthy, and with us around the young people will feel restrained and not have a good time.

Answer: Taking it for granted that your daughter is in no way likely to behave improperly, there is no reason why she may not give a party alone—especially a party of size and with you returning early.

For Always

Dear Mrs. Post: I lost my husband more than a year ago, and some of my friends insist it is no longer proper to wear my wedding ring. Will you please tell me if they are right?

Answer: They are absolutely wrong. It is entirely correct for a widow to wear her wedding ring for life—or until she marries again.

Benedictine Alumnae Honor Mary Hamburger on 80th Birthday

Miss Mary A. Hamburger was the guest of honor at a dinner meeting of the Benedictine Hospital Alumnae Association, Thursday evening at Judie's restaurant. The occasion marked the celebration of Miss Hamburger's 80th birthday as well as the 45th year since her graduation from Our Lady of Victory School of Nursing at the Benedictine Hospital.

A member of the first class in the Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing, Miss Hamburger was graduated in 1907, and for the first few years thereafter, she was a member of the hospital nursing staff. During this period, Miss Hamburger took charge of the isolation hospital set up in the Wilbur public school for the smallpox epidemic.

In 1911, Miss Hamburger became the "nurse-in-charge" at the old Tuberculosis Hospital on Clifton avenue, where she remained for 10 years. Since then, she has devoted her time to private duty nursing.

In recognition of her many years of faithful service both to the nursing profession and the alumnae association, Miss Hamburger was presented with an appropriate gift.

Tercentennial Theme At Atharhacton Affair

The tercentennial theme was used in the table decorations and program on the occasion of the annual dinner of the Atharhacton Club, Wednesday at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Place cards used, showed sketches of the Half-Moon, the Skilliput and the Mary Powell. The flower arrangements combined magnolia and flowering almond.

Mrs. Cornelius Treadwell was chairman of the committee in charge of the dinner. She was assisted by Mrs. Herbert Fister and Mrs. Lloyd LeFever. Those present expressed appreciation for the excellent arrangements made by this committee.

Two new members were welcomed by Mrs. Frederick Smith, president. They are Mrs. John Matthews and Mrs. John Sterley.

A splendid program was presented by Mrs. Treadwell and included a club resume by Miss Louise van Hoevenberg, historian. She told the story of the early days of the club, named its charter members, and recalled the welcome received from the Lowell and Monday Clubs which had been organized earlier. She also noted the names of new members through the years.

Several games planned by Miss Agnes Smith were introduced. They had a background of local interest, based on the tercentennial celebration.

Miss Mary E. Noone gave a colorful reading of the Burning of Kingston by the poet, William Carleton, part two of which was written by Miss Mary Isabella Forsyth of this city.

Events Are Scheduled At B&P Women's Club

At a meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club of the YWCA Wednesday evening, plans were made for forthcoming events.

A dessert card party sponsored by the group and to which the public is invited will take place Wednesday, April 30, at 7:30 p. m. in the YWCA. All members were asked to report on the progress of this event not later than Monday, April 28. A reminder was also given to those members who have signed up to bring candy. Since this is the regular meeting night of the group, the supper which generally precedes the meeting will not be held.

On Wednesday, May 7, the group will have its annual mother-daughter-friend banquet, and will be followed by a play to be presented by the Drama group of the Women's Club. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m. and reservations should be made not later than Monday, May 5, by telephoning the YWCA.

KHS Students Attend Institute Open House

Kingston High School students were among the 46 high school groups registered at the annual open house program at the State University Institute of Agriculture and Home Economics at Cobleskill, recently.

Each of the nine major departments of the college presented demonstrations, exhibits and discussions of up-to-date procedures and equipment in their respective areas.

Kingston Hospital Auxiliary Will Hear Talk By Children's Home Director at Next Meeting

Frank M. White, executive director of the Children's Home, will address members and guests at a meeting of the Kingston Hospital Auxiliary, Tuesday, April 29, at 7:45 p. m. in the nurses' home. Each member has been asked to bring two guests.

In discussing the breakdown of the family unit and its relation to the children, the speaker will confine his remarks to findings in Ulster county.

Mr. White was appointed to his present position at the Children's Home in August, 1951. He came to this city with an extensive background in the field of dealing with children and their problems. For 18 years, he was associated with a child-caring agency in Westchester county and will cite highlights of his experience in New York's congested areas, where he was closely associated with the domestic relations court, handling family cases.

Prior to the address by Mr. White, Mrs. Timothy House will give a report on the booth the auxiliary is sponsoring at the Lions Club Exposition. Considerable new business will also be discussed.

A social period will conclude the meeting. Mrs. Parker K. Brinnier will be hostess.

St. James Methodist WSCS Hears Speakers

Two guests addressed the morning and afternoon meetings of the Woman's Society for Christian Service of St. James Methodist Church on Wednesday.

Mrs. Sarah Regendahl, in her address, outlined the problems relating to the Latin-American countries. Much of her talk was devoted to the difficulties encountered by the Protestant minority groups. She said that during the last 75 years, schools, hospitals, libraries and similar institutions have been established to improve the conditions and that many denominations are now joining forces in the mission work being done in this field.

The status of children was the topic chosen by Mrs. Howard McGrath, New York conference secretary of children's work, when she addressed the group in the afternoon. She described the care given children here but reminded her listeners that children are always teachable and learn from every experience as well as from all with whom they come in contact. "In our homes," she said, "we should see that what they are taught is conducive to right thinking and right living for what they learn goes with them and influences them throughout their lives."

Head of Women's Club Entertains Officers

Mrs. Charles Terwilliger, retiring president of the Women's Club of the YWCA, entertained the 1951-52 officers at a dessert bridge in her home, 319 Broadway, Thursday afternoon.

Quince blossoms were combined with forsythia for the decorations.

In attendance were the Mmes. John B. Sterley, DeWeese DeWitt, Harry Smith, Richard C. Morse, S. Maxwell Tayor, W. S. Jackson, William Ochs, Raymond Woodard, Ralph Harper, Edward J. Hillis, John Pope, Harry Reppert, James L. Rowe, Arthur T. Laidlaw, Ralph Shultis, A. Noble Graham and Robert H. Pixley.

Ziegler Is Elected President by Shrine Club for Coming Year

The session was well attended Thursday night in Masonic Temple on Albany avenue.

Elected to serve with President Ziegler for the ensuing year were:

Herbert C. Myers, first vice president.

A. J. Binder, second vice president.

Irving Levine, secretary.

Ellis Griffith, treasurer.

Reports on accomplishments during the past year reflected credit on the various officers and those who served on committees.

The newly-elected officers anticipate full cooperation from members of the club in its projects during the coming year, one of which is the annual Shriners ball for the Children's Home.

Golden Wedding Plans Are Being Made for Couple in Coxsackie

An open house reception in the Methodist Church basement in Coxsackie is being planned for Mr. and Mrs. Elias Palmer of 5 Elm street, Coxsackie, in honor of their golden wedding anniversary to be celebrated on Saturday, May 3.

Prior to the reception, the couple will repeat their marriage vows and receive a blessing in the church. Relatives and friends are invited to attend the reception between the hours of 7 and 10 p. m.

Mrs. Palmer is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thatcher who came to Coxsackie from England. Mr. Palmer is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Palmer who resided in Stanton Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Palmer have always resided in the Coxsackie area.

MRS. CHARLES BRONSON

A leading authority on cerebral palsy, Mrs. Charles Bronson, will speak at the George Washington School, on Wall street, Monday, April 28, at 8 p. m. All members, parents, chairmen and workers and all interested persons are invited to attend the pre-campaign and educational meeting.

Mrs. Bronson, a mother of a cerebral palsy child, is currently a vice-president on the board of directors of the New York State Cerebral Palsy Association; area director of Metropolitan Cerebral Association; co-chairman of New York State Legislative committee; chairman of New York State Organization committee and executive director of Cerebral Palsy League of Union County, N. J.

West Hurley Guild Is Sponsoring Festival

The Wesleyan Service Guild of the West Hurley Methodist Church will sponsor a Music Festival to be presented by the senior choir of the Port Ewen Dutch Reformed Church, on Saturday at 8 p. m., in the West Hurley church.

The Festival was originally presented in Port Ewen and met with such success that church groups in this city and suburbs have requested repeat performances.

Robert Gaddis and John McCullough will be the soloists. The public is invited to attend this musical treat.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Cline, Jr., of 20 Ravine street, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Wednesday at a dinner given by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Streeter, Jr., 114 Clinton avenue, and Bernard John Cline, the celebrants' son.

Thief Eats Onions

Club Notices

YWCA Women's Club

The Women's Club of the YWCA will hold its annual luncheon and installation of officers on Wednesday, April 30, at 1 p. m. in the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Reservations must be made on or before Saturday noon by telephoning Mrs. DeWeese DeWitt, 6093, or the YWCA.

Young Employed Girls

The Young Employed Girls of the YWCA will hold a spaghetti and meatball supper prior to its next meeting Tuesday, April 29, at 6:30 p. m. All young employed girls are welcome to attend. Further information may be received by telephoning the YWCA.

At its last recent meeting, a cancer film was shown and different phases of the disease explained by Dr. Milton Grover, director of the tumor clinic. He emphasized that wide publicity of the disease is not meant to frighten the public, but rather to acquaint them with the danger signals so they may be treated and cured.

Home Bureau

Wiltwyck Unit

The Wiltwyck Unit of the Home Bureau will hold an exhibit of articles made in the classes during the past year. The exhibit will mark the observance of Home Demonstration week, April 28 to May 5, and will be shown in the window of the Paint Bucket, 72 North Front street.

City League Elects Eddie Murphy President; Plans May 18 Opening

Robert Steeger Will Be the New Secretary-Scorer

Kelly Stays on as VP; Abandon Shaughnessy

Murphy succeeds Joe Kelly, who resigned as president two weeks ago but was retained as vice-president.

Kelly, alderman-at-large of the city and a newspaperman, said he appreciated the honor of having served as president last year, but asked to be relieved this season, because of activities that make it difficult for him to be present at all meetings.

"The City League is a very important cog in the sports set-up of Kingston," he said. "It is the ultimate goal of graduates from the Little League. Without it baseball would end for those who love to play America's favorite game."

Kelly, who has served as president and vice-president for several terms pledged his support to the league and said he felt the spirit displayed by the five team managers and President Murphy argued for a successful season.

Jimmie Chick of East Kingston was retained as collector and Pat DeCicco as groundkeeper as the league completed selection of the 1952 organization.

Two New Umpires

The league managers voted to start the season on Sunday, May 18, as previously announced and will play a 40-game split season. The winners of each half will play a best-of-five series for the league championship. This means the scrapping of the post-season Shaughnessy playoff.

The four teams represented at last night's meeting were: Jones Dairy, John Schatzel; Chez Emile, Joe Hoffman; Wiltwyck Motors, Ferrell McElrath; Boulevard Gulf, Matty Weishaupt.

The next meeting has been set for Wednesday, April 30, 7:30 p. m., at city hall.

Saigh Income Tax Case Opens Monday

St. Louis, April 25 (AP)—Fred Saigh, the St. Louis Cardinals' owner, will be arraigned Monday in Federal court on charges of income tax evasion.

Saigh, accused of evading $49,620 in taxes, was indicted by a federal grand jury Tuesday. He surrendered yesterday and was released on $2,000 bond.

Yankees Dominate North-South Golf

The 36-hole pairings had Frank Strafaci, 35-year-old Flushing, L. I., insurance man, shooting it out with 33-year-old Harry Haverstick, Lancaster, Pa., automobile agency operators and 29-year-old Frank Stranahan, Toledo, Ohio, heir to a sparkplug fortune, bracketed with Mal Galletta, 41-year-old St. Albans, N. Y., operator of a livery business.

Five North and South championships were represented in the lot. Strafaci, last two-in-row titlist, turned the trick in 1938-39. Stranahan won in 1946 and '49 and Galletta was the 1944 winner.

His steady play all week has carried him this far. Yesterday his one up victory over Billy Joe Patton, 1951 runnerup from Morganton, N. C., was the major surprise. Haverstick was one under par for the par 72, No. 2 Country Club course measuring 7,007 yards.

Strafaci, the "squeaker champion" of the tournament, had to go 19 holes to put out Ben Goodes, Reidsville, N. C., veteran, who drew even on 17 and dropped a 12-footer on 18 to stay even. It was the third successive one-up match for the New Yorker, 1935 public links champion. He said later he felt he had "something extra going for me when I stepped to the 19th tee. I've played about 25 extra hole matches and can't remember ever losing one."

Galletta, who has yet to be carried past the 16th hole, started with a rush and then fought off a late bid by Ed Gravely, Rocky Mount, N. C., to gain a 4 and 3 decision. Galletta won five of the first six holes with par play and turned five up with a one-under 35.

Pinboy Shortage Eased for Heavy Week-end Play in State Tourney

Sixteen Squads Set On Saturday-Sunday

With the pinboy situation reported improved, state tournament officials braced themselves today for the heaviest weekend of activity since the 56-day tenpin opened on April 2.

The advent of Daylight Saving Time presents a serious problem between the late Saturday and early Sunday shifts but the management at both alleys said they believed that the pinboy shortage had been solved by the hiring of extra boys and out-of-town professionals.

For the second successive weekend there will be eight five-man squads on Saturday and Sunday at the Bowlodrome, with almost continuous bowling at the Bowlatorium. Five-man action starts at 9 a. m. Saturday and 7:15 a. m. Sunday at the Bowlodrome. A 12:15 midnight squad is also carded.

Singles and doubles gets under way at 9 a. m. Saturday at Ruzzo's and the Sunday firing is due to start at 7 a. m., which means 6 o'clock present time.

Sherrill Teams Due

High powered Sherrill combines, led by the crack Royal Rose outfit, are featured on tonight's 7:30 squad of 14 teams. A dozen teams are scheduled at 10 o'clock from Schenectady. Albany and Rochester.

Cliff Davis shot a 676 net and 721 to spark United Pharmacy of Kingston to a 3019 series. He powered solos of 243, 202 and 231 and had a 45-pin handicap. Herman Svirsky rolled 612 and George Svirsky 602 gross.

Sinick's Stationery of Ellenville shot 3007 gross, with Allen Potter hitting 651, Charles Guido 624 and Al Milliott 628. Assembly of the Electrol League shot 2997 earlier in the week, behind Herman Osmers' 643.

Bridge City Kegler Fifth in All-Events

Ed Clark Shoots 1973 With 643, 657, 673

A 162--average Poughkeepsie kegler, Ed Clark, has moved into fifth place in the gross all-events division of the state tournament with a nine-game total of 1973.

The Bridge City trundler shot handicap scores of 643 in his team event; 657 doubles and 673 in the singles. The all-events leader is Eugene Hoffmeister of Rome, with a 2047 total.

A Catholic priest from Buffalo, the Rev. Paul Schwier, member of a team that featured five priests, fired 711 gross in the singles. He had an actual count of 645, with 220-222-203 and had a 66-pin handicap.

R. Sicolo of Poughkeepsie pounded 706 gross and H. Gordecki of Rome had 690. Singles action continued to produce hefty totals, with a flock of better than 645 scores reported.

Doubles Scrambled

Although the top five leaders in the gross doubles were not challenged, several notable scores were turned in during the action Wednesday and Thursday.

Bill Forslund and Don Jones of Brooklyn posted 1321 for 11th position. Forslund, who shares the all-time state tournament doubles record, furnished 677 net and 695 gross.

Best area score was turned in by the Ellenville tandem of Sam Fisher and Frank Greco with 1263. Greco reeled off 680 net with 230-232-218 and had 695 gross. Fisher slumped to 553 net and 568 gross.

Jimmy Castle and Dick Bertie of Kingston had 1259 on Bertie's 659 and a 600 by Castle.

Queens Joy Wins

Yonkers, N. Y., April 25 (AP)—Queens Joy defeated the favorite, Danny Boy Dal-Yum, in the first half of the Bedford Trot and Sharon Hanover, the 7-5 public choice, came through to take the second division at Yonkers Raceway last night before 15,948 harness racing fans. Driven by Harry Bedell, Queens Joy was clocked in 2:10 2/5 and paid $19.20, $9.50, and $7.10. Handled by Stanley Dancer, who also scored in the third race with Chet Hanover, Sharon return trotted the mile in 2:09 and returned $5.00, $3.10 and $2.60.

Schedule Opener Against Middies Here on May 3

Henderson Counted on To Click in Sprints

Kingston High's track hopes for the 1952 campaign will ride with eight lettermen headed by Webster Henderson, the top sprint man who is counted on to score heavily in the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Frank "Yip" Koenig, the basketball center who is being tried out by St. Bonaventure and Siena, is the lone returnee in the field department. He is a high jump specialist.

Coach G. Warren Kias and his assistant, John Gilligan, the Jayvee basketball mentor, have turned out a series of track powerhouses the past few seasons and all signs point to another good, if not all-winning schedule, for the Maroon track and field aces.

The eight lettermen include Bob Coutant, a youngster who can be used in the sprints, hurdles and relays and Harry Craft, team captain, who is a solid performer in the 440.

Henderson will get some assistance in the 100, 220 and relays from Charles "Dubby" Johnson, while Al Kurdt is the Maroon's top threat for half-mile honors in the DUSO circuit.

Ronnie Thomas is Coach Kias' No. 1 performer in the mile race and Bucky Miller is slated for a utility role. He can high jump and should see action in the sprints.

Close Meets Expected

Loss of several veterans and reported improvement at the other schools give promise of close contests in every Maroon meet this season, Coach Kias believes. He is confident, however, that the eight experienced athletes plus a sprinkling of good looking new material will keep the Maroon at the top of the heap.

The revised track schedule has Middletown High coming to Kingston on Saturday, May 3, for the seasonal opener. This date had originally been set aside for a triangular meet involving Kingston, Middletown and Newburgh.

Kingston will be host to the DUSO League meet for the first time in several years on Saturday, May 24, at the municipal stadium.

The 1952 schedule:

May 3—Middletown, here.
May 10—New Paltz Relays.
May 24—DUSO League meet, here.
May 31—Section 9 meet, Newburgh.
June 7—Intersectionals at West Point.

Unlucky 13th

San Francisco, April 25 (AP) — Elmer Singleton pitched no-hit, no-run ball for 12 innings last night and stood on the threshold of baseball's Hall of Fame. Then—bang—three Sacramento singles in the 13th turned glory into a 1-0 nightmare defeat for the 31-year-old San Francisco righthander.

Bev Port Leads Major With 530

Only three other keglerettes reached the "500" bracket. Rose Schatzel, the league leader, posted 520; Marge Jansen and Ada Markle had 516s. Mrs. Jansen tied Mrs. Port for high single honors with 201.

City League Elects Eddie Murphy President; Plans May 18 Opening

Robert Steeger Will Be the New Secretary-Scorer

Kelly Stays on as VP; Abandon Shaughnessy

Ed Murphy, a former City League pitcher and secretary-scorekeeper, was elevated to the presidency of the twilight circuit at last night's meeting of the league officials.

Murphy succeeds Joe Kelly, who resigned as president two weeks ago but was retained as vice-president.

Kelly, alderman-at-large of the city and a newspaperman, said he appreciated the honor of having served as president last year, but asked to be relieved this season, because of activities that make it difficult for him to be present at all meetings.

"The City League is a very important cog in the sports set-up of Kingston," he said. "It is the ultimate goal of graduates from the Little League. Without it baseball would end for those who love to play America's favorite game."

Kelly, who has served as president and vice-president for several terms pledged his support to the league and said he felt the spirit displayed by the five team managers and President Murphy argued for a successful season.

Robert Steeger of the Daily Freeman's typographical department is the new secretary-scorekeeper. He succeeds Joe Messinger, who resigned because of business reasons.

Jimmie Chick of East Kingston was retained as collector and Pat DeCicco as groundkeeper as the league completed selection of the 1952 organization.

Two New Umpires

Two new umpires — Francis Stauble and Jack Rivenberg of Saugerties—will join veteran Bill Schwab to make up the league's three-man arbiter staff.

The new president enjoyed considerable success as a pitcher for such standout teams as Kyanize, Hedrick's Brewers and Grunenwald's during his playiug career. He served as secretary-scorekeeper during the 1949 and 1950 seasons.

The league managers voted to start the season on Sunday, May 18, as previously announced and will play a 40-game split season. The winners of each half will play a best-of-five series for the league championship. This means the scrapping of the post-season Shaughnessy playoff.

The four teams represented at last night's meeting were: Jones Dairy, John Schatzel; Chez Emile, Joe Hoffman; Wiltwyck Motors, Ferrell McElrath; Boulevard Gulf, Matty Weishaupt.

The next meeting has been set for Wednesday, April 30, 7:30 p. m., at city hall.

Saigh Income Tax Case Opens Monday

St. Louis, April 25 (AP)—Fred Saigh, the St. Louis Cardinals' owner, will be arraigned Monday in Federal court on charges of income tax evasion.

Saigh, accused of evading $49,620 in taxes, was indicted by a federal grand jury Tuesday. He surrendered yesterday and was released on $2,000 bond.

In a statement, Saigh said he felt certain he would be vindicated. He is charged with evading taxes from 1946 through 1949.

Yankees Dominate North-South Golf

Pinehurst, N. C., April 25 (AP)—Four Yankee invaders took over the semi-finals of the 52nd North and South Amateur golf tournament today after routing a quartet of southerners.

The 36-hole pairings had Frank Strafaci, 35-year-old Flushing, L. I., insurance man, shooting it out with 33-year-old Harry Haverstick, Lancaster, Pa., automobile agency operators and 29-year-old Frank Stranahan, Toledo, Ohio, heir to a sparkplug fortune, bracketed with Mal Galletta, 41-year-old St. Albans, N. Y., operator of a livery business.

Five North and South championships were represented in the lot. Strafaci, last two-in-row titlist, turned the trick in 1938-39. Stranahan won in 1946 and '49 and Galletta was the 1944 winner.

Haverstick was medalist two years ago. He won Pennsylvania State titles in 1938, '48 and '50.

His steady play all week has carried him this far. Yesterday his one up victory over Billy Joe Patton, 1951 runnerup from Morganton, N. C., was the major surprise. Haverstick was one under par for the par 72, No. 2 Country Club course measuring 7,007 yards.

Strafaci, the "squeaker champion" of the tournament, had to go 19 holes to put out Ben Goodes, Reidsville, N. C., veteran, who drew even on 17 and dropped a 12-footer on 18 to stay even. It was the third successive one-up match for the New Yorker, 1935 public links champion. He said later he felt he had "something extra going for me when I stepped to the 19th tee. I've played about 25 extra hole matches and can't remember ever losing one."

Stranahan scored a handsome 4 and 3 victory over Hobert Manley.

Galletta, who has yet to be carried past the 16th hole, started with a rush and then fought off a late bid by Ed Gravely, Rocky Mount, N. C., to gain a 4 and 3 decision. Galletta won five of the first six holes with par play and turned five up with a one-under 35.

Pinboy Shortage Eased for Heavy Week-end Play in State Tourney

Sixteen Squads Set On Saturday-Sunday

With the pinboy situation reported improved, state tournament officials braced themselves today for the heaviest weekend of activity since the 56-day tenpin opened on April 2.

The advent of Daylight Saving Time presents a serious problem between the late Saturday and early Sunday shifts but the management at both alleys said they believed that the pinboy shortage had been solved by the hiring of extra boys and out-of-town professionals.

For the second successive weekend there will be eight five-man squads on Saturday and Sunday at the Bowlodrome, with almost continuous bowling at the Bowlatorium. Five-man action starts at 9 a. m. Saturday and 7:15 a. m. Sunday at the Bowlodrome. A 12:15 midnight squad is also carded.

Singles and doubles gets under way at 9 a. m. Saturday at Ruzzo's and the Sunday firing is due to start at 7 a. m., which means 6 o'clock present time.

Sherrill Teams Due

High powered Sherrill combines, led by the crack Royal Rose outfit, are featured on tonight's 7:30 squad of 14 teams. A dozen teams are scheduled at 10 o'clock from Schenectady. Albany and Rochester.

Old Timers of Hudson reeled off a 3032 gross last night to roll into the prize money, while five other area teams hit "3000" or better.

Cliff Davis shot a 676 net and 721 to spark United Pharmacy of Kingston to a 3019 series. He powered solos of 243, 202 and 231 and had a 45-pin handicap. Herman Svirsky rolled 612 and George Svirsky 602 gross.

Alton Roosa fired a tremendous 752 gross score to highlight Jo-Al's 3008 effort. He knocked off an actual count of 668, with 208-219-241, and had 84-pin handicap. Lou Barone rolled 614.

Sinick's Stationery of Ellenville shot 3007 gross, with Allen Potter hitting 651, Charles Guido 624 and Al Milliott 628. Assembly of the Electrol League shot 2997 earlier in the week, behind Herman Osmers' 643.

Bridge City Kegler Fifth in All-Events

Ed Clark Shoots 1973 With 643, 657, 673

A 162--average Poughkeepsie kegler, Ed Clark, has moved into fifth place in the gross all-events division of the state tournament with a nine-game total of 1973.

The Bridge City trundler shot handicap scores of 643 in his team event; 657 doubles and 673 in the singles. The all-events leader is Eugene Hoffmeister of Rome, with a 2047 total.

A Catholic priest from Buffalo, the Rev. Paul Schwier, member of a team that featured five priests, fired 711 gross in the singles. He had an actual count of 645, with 220-222-203 and had a 66-pin handicap.

R. Sicolo of Poughkeepsie pounded 706 gross and H. Gordecki of Rome had 690. Singles action continued to produce hefty totals, with a flock of better than 645 scores reported.

Doubles Scrambled

Although the top five leaders in the gross doubles were not challenged, several notable scores were turned in during the action Wednesday and Thursday.

Bill Forslund and Don Jones of Brooklyn posted 1321 for 11th position. Forslund, who shares the all-time state tournament doubles record, furnished 677 net and 695 gross.

Best area score was turned in by the Ellenville tandem of Sam Fisher and Frank Greco with 1263. Greco reeled off 680 net with 230-232-218 and had 695 gross. Fisher slumped to 553 net and 568 gross.

Jimmy Castle and Dick Bertie of Kingston had 1259 on Bertie's 659 and a 600 by Castle.

Queens Joy Wins

Yonkers, N. Y., April 25 (AP)—Queens Joy defeated the favorite, Danny Boy Dal-Yum, in the first half of the Bedford Trot and Sharon Hanover, the 7-5 public choice, came through to take the second division at Yonkers Raceway last night before 15,948 harness racing fans. Driven by Harry Bedell, Queens Joy was clocked in 2:10 2/5 and paid $19.20, $9.50, and $7.10. Handled by Stanley Dancer, who also scored in the third race with Chet Hanover, Sharon return trotted the mile in 2:09 and returned $5.00, $3.10 and $2.60.

Henderson Counted on To Click in Sprints

Kingston High's track hopes for the 1952 campaign will ride with eight lettermen headed by Webster Henderson, the top sprint man who is counted on to score heavily in the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Frank "Yip" Koenig, the basketball center who is being tried out by St. Bonaventure and Siena, is the lone returnee in the field department. He is a high jump specialist.

Coach G. Warren Kias and his assistant, John Gilligan, the Jayvee basketball mentor, have turned out a series of track powerhouses the past few seasons and all signs point to another good, if not all-winning schedule, for the Maroon track and field aces.

The eight lettermen include Bob Coutant, a youngster who can be used in the sprints, hurdles and relays and Harry Craft, team captain, who is a solid performer in the 440.

Henderson will get some assistance in the 100, 220 and relays from Charles "Dubby" Johnson, while Al Kurdt is the Maroon's top threat for half-mile honors in the DUSO circuit.

Ronnie Thomas is Coach Kias' No. 1 performer in the mile race and Bucky Miller is slated for a utility role. He can high jump and should see action in the sprints.

Close Meets Expected

Loss of several veterans and reported improvement at the other schools give promise of close contests in every Maroon meet this season, Coach Kias believes. He is confident, however, that the eight experienced athletes plus a sprinkling of good looking new material will keep the Maroon at the top of the heap.

The revised track schedule has Middletown High coming to Kingston on Saturday, May 3, for the seasonal opener. This date had originally been set aside for a triangular meet involving Kingston, Middletown and Newburgh.

Kingston will be host to the DUSO League meet for the first time in several years on Saturday, May 24, at the municipal stadium.

The 1952 schedule:
May 3—Middletown, here.
May 10—New Paltz Relays.
May 24—DUSO League meet, here.
May 31—Section 9 meet, Newburgh.
June 7—Intersectionals at West Point.

Unlucky 13th

San Francisco, April 25 (AP) — Elmer Singleton pitched no-hit, no-run ball for 12 innings last night and stood on the threshold of baseball's Hall of Fame. Then—bang—three Sacramento singles in the 13th turned glory into a 1-0 nightmare defeat for the 31-year-old San Francisco righthander.

Bev Port Leads Major With 530

Beverly Port led the Women's Major League action with a 530 series last night. She rolled solos of 201, 140 and 189.

Only three other keglerettes reached the "500" bracket. Rose Schatzel, the league leader, posted 520; Margé Jansen and Ada Markle had 516s. Mrs. Jansen tied Mrs. Port for high single honors with 201.

The SCOREBoard

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer

Those beautiful Browns are not the only "amazing" team in the American League. How about those upstart Boston Red Sox?

It took a Brownie postponement to cast the spotlight on the comeback of once-powerful Boston. The youth-infested Red Sox hurled a "move over" challenge at the Browns yesterday by whipping the world champion New York Yankees, 3-2, to sweep their two-game series.

It took the Red Sox 11 innings to do it but in the end they had their third consecutive victory stored away to boost their season record to nine triumphs and only two losses. That actually put them a half game in front of the Browns. St. Louis, however, remained in first place percentage-wise. The Browns showed a 7-1 .875 mark to Boston's 9-2 .818.

In the day's only other activity, the Boston Braves overcame a 3-0 deficit with three tallies in the eighth and three more in the 10th to defeat the New York Giants, 6-3 at the Polo Grounds.

Rookie Sets Up Win

Once again, it was the Red Sox kiddie corps that paved the way for Boston's victory. Two successive bases on balls by relief pitcher Bob Kuzava provided the winning run but it was a single by freshman Sammy White that set up the tally.

The youthful catcher, who had homered for Boston's first run in the fifth, advanced to second on Dom DiMaggio's one-bagger and moved all the way around when Kuzava walked Jimmy Piersall and Billy Goodman.

Rookie pitcher Ivan Delock, who relieved starter Maurice McDermott in the 11th, earned his first major league victory with only one inning of work. The Yankees loaded the bases on him with only one out in the 11th, but couldn't get a man across. Delock got Hank Baurer to fly short to Di-Maggio in center and then struck out Mickey Mantle.

A bases-loaded double by rookie Ed Mathews in the 10th inning broke up a 3-3 tie and enabled the Braves to snap a three-game losing streak. Lew Burdette, who relieved starter Warren Spahn in the seventh, was credited with his second victory. Dave Koslo was the loser.

Starter Max Lanier of the Giants had a shutout until the eighth when Earl Torgeson homered with two out. A single by Sid Gordon, a walk to Will Marshall, a wild pitch and Walker Cooper's single tied the score at 3-3 and brought in Koslo.

Manager Leo Durocher had to watch the turnabout from the clubhouse, having been ejected by plate umpire Art Gore in the sixth inning. Durocher got the heave for squawking about Spahn "fast pitching" Willie Mays in the fifth. As Leo walked from the third base coaching box to the dugout, he apparently said something uncomplimentary and up went Gore's thumb.

Dodgers Are Tough But Maglie Loves 'Em

New York, April 25 (AP) — "I don't care what they do. Let 'em pull the whole team out. Let 'em stand on their heads. They'll still look the same to me — just a bunch of Brooklyns."

It was with this burst of nonchalance that Sal Maglie, the New York Giants' swarthy righthander, greeted the news that Brooklyn may pull a revised lineup on him tonight in an effort to break his spell over the Dodgers.

"I think the Dodgers are the toughest club in the league, they have the heaviest hitting lineup," Maglie added, "but I love 'em. I'd rather pitch against 'em than any other club."

He shut out Brooklyn on two hits last Sunday, 6-0, breaking a five-game Dodger winning streak and a three-game Giant skein of losses. He tries for No. 11—No. 2 of the season—tonight at the Polo Grounds.

Altitude Check Planned

Santa Fe, N. M. (AP)— Does a safe driver at sea level become a highway menace when he reaches the high plains of New Mexico? State traffic officials would like to find out. Plans are to set up testing stations in California. Volunteer motorists will be checked for blood pressure, reflexes and alertness. They'll be tested again when they reach the continental divide in New Mexico.

The SCORE Board

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer

Those beautiful Browns are not the only "amazing" team in the American League. How about those upstart Boston Red Sox?

Lou Boudreau's pink-cheeked bobby sox have been knocking the stuffings out of the opposition right from the start, but they have been overshadowed by the tremendous surge of the once-lowly St. Louis Browns.

It took a Brownie postponement to cast the spotlight on the comeback of once-powerful Boston. The youth-infested Red Sox hurled a "move over" challenge at the Browns yesterday by whipping the world champion New York Yankees, 3-2, to sweep their two-game series.

It took the Red Sox 11 innings to do it but in the end they had their third consecutive victory stored away to boost their season record to nine triumphs and only two losses. That actually put them a half game in front of the Browns. St. Louis, however, remained in first place percentage-wise. The Browns showed a 7-1 .875 mark to Boston's 9-2 .818.

In the day's only other activity, the Boston Braves overcame a 3-0 deficit with three tallies in the eighth and three more in the 10th to defeat the New York Giants, 6-3 at the Polo Grounds.

Rookie Sets Up Win

Once again, it was the Red Sox kiddie corps that paved the way for Boston's victory. Two successive bases on balls by relief pitcher Bob Kuzava provided the winning run but it was a single by freshman Sammy White that set up the tally.

The youthful catcher, who had homered for Boston's first run in the fifth, advanced to second on Dom DiMaggio's one-bagger and moved all the way around when Kuzava walked Jimmy Piersall and Billy Goodman.

Rookie pitcher Ivan Delock, who relieved starter Maurice McDermott in the 11th, earned his first major league victory with only one inning of work. The Yankees loaded the bases on him with only one out in the 11th, but couldn't get a man across. Delock got Hank Baurer to fly short to DiMaggio in center and then struck out Mickey Mantle.

A bases-loaded double by rookie Ed Mathews in the 10th inning broke up a 3-3 tie and enabled the Braves to snap a three-game losing streak. Lew Burdette, who relieved starter Warren Spahn in the seventh, was credited with his second victory. Dave Koslo was the loser.

Starter Max Lanier of the Giants had a shutout until the eighth when Earl Torgeson homered with two out. A single by Sid Gordon, a walk to Will Marshall, a wild pitch and Walker Cooper's single tied the score at 3-3 and brought in Koslo.

Manager Leo Durocher had to watch the turnabout from the clubhouse, having been ejected by plate umpire Art Gore in the sixth inning. Durocher got the heave for squawking about Spahn "fast pitching" Willie Mays in the fifth. As Leo walked from the third base coaching box to the dugout, he apparently said something uncomplimentary and up went Gore's thumb.

Dodgers Are Tough But Maglie Loves 'Em

New York, April 25 (AP) — "I don't care what they do. Let 'em pull the whole team out. Let 'em stand on their heads. They'll still look the same to me — just a bunch of Brooklyns."

It was with this burst of nonchalance that Sal Maglie, the New York Giants' swarthy righthander, greeted the news that Brooklyn may pull a revised lineup on him tonight in an effort to break his spell over the Dodgers.

"I think the Dodgers are the toughest club in the league, they have the heaviest hitting lineup," Maglie added, "but I love 'em. I'd rather pitch against 'em than any other club."

Salvatore's affection for the Giants' bitterest enemy may be explained by his pitching record against the Dodgers — ten victories and three defeats.

He shut out Brooklyn on two hits last Sunday, 6-0, breaking a five-game Dodger winning streak and a three-game Giant skein of losses. He tries for No. 11—No. 2 of the season—tonight at the Polo Grounds.

Altitude Check Planned

Santa Fe, N. M. (AP)— Does a safe driver at sea level become a highway menace when he reaches the high plains of New Mexico? State traffic officials would like to find out. Plans are to set up testing stations in California. Volunteer motorists will be checked for blood pressure, reflexes and alertness. They'll be tested again when they reach the continental divide in New Mexico.

New Ford Truck power for speed hauling

A LOW-PRICED FORD TRUCK FOR EVERY NEED!

From the half-ton F-1 Pickup, to mighty 20-ton G.C.W. F-8 BIG JOBS, there's a Ford Truck that's right for your job. Choice of two great cabs—the 5-STAR and the 5-STAR EXTRA (added cost) for more driving ease, safety and efficiency!

Short-stroke design of new Ford Truck engines cuts piston-travel. Less gas is sacrificed to friction. More of developed power becomes hauling power! Shown: new 155-h.p. LOW-FRICTION Cargo King V-8. New Full-Flow oil filter!

Ford Dealers invite you to see just how little it costs to run a Ford Truck—in your kind of work! See actual owner running expense figures, in the Final Results Book of the nationwide 50-million-mile Ford Truck Economy Run!

GAS SAVINGS UP TO 14%!

Three completely new ultra-modern LOW-FRICTION overhead-valve, high-compression Ford Truck Engines DELIVER more of the power they develop!

Ford cuts truck running costs again! Three all-new Ford Truck engines—a Six and two big V-8's—deliver more horsepower per cubic inch! With new shorter stroke, there's less power-wasting friction—you save up to one gallon of gas in every seven!

And—the famous Ford Truck V-8 is now upped to 106 h.p.! The economy-proved BIG SIX is advanced to 112 h.p.! With new power all the way, Ford Trucks are more than ever the favorites for thrifty Speed Hauling. And you choose power "tailored" to your job more exactly! . . .

Now FIVE great Ford Truck Engines!

- 101-h.p. COST CLIPPER SIX
- 106-h.p. TRUCK V-8
- 112-h.p. BIG SIX
- 145-h.p. CARGO KING V-8
- 155-h.p. CARGO KING V-8

Availability of equipment, accessories and trim as illustrated is dependent on material supply conditions.

No price increase! See us now!

MONDAY, APRIL 28—Cattle Auction 61 HOLSTEIN CATTLE (51 Registered—10 Grades). Brooks Bros. selling a part of their large, high producing herd and have moved them because of inadequate facilities to Artie Shaw's Farm located 4 miles south of PINE PLAINS, Dutchess Co., N. Y. on Route 82. TB accredited, blood tested, calfhood vaccinated, mastitis tested, treated against shipping fever. SELLING: 15 cows and heifers with DHIA records from 400 lb. to 500 lb. fat on 2 time milking. Many fresh and close springers, several cows and first calf heifers bred for fall, 1 good bull. Breed's most popular and highest producing blood lines have been infused into this herd through the use of bulls from many of the best breeding establishments in the country. Cattle will show in average condition and will consequently sell at reasonable prices. You will buy cows and heifers of excellent promise at this sale without investing a lot of money. Sale held in big tent, starts at 12:00 noon, lunch available. BROOKS BROS., Owners, Pine Plains, N. Y. R. AUSTIN BACKUS, Sales Manager and Auctioneer, Mexico, N. Y.

Two Are Indicted In Hudson Probe

Hudson, N. Y., April 25 (AP)—Two more men—including one alleged to have had connections with bigtime gambler Frank Erickson—were indicted today by the special grand jury probing gambling in Columbia county.

Raymond J. Van Buren, 59, and Francis E. Mohota, 38, each was charged with being a common gambler and operating a horseroom. Both live in Hudson.

Both men pleaded innocent to the 13-count indictments. They were released in bail of $1,000 each by Justice Henry L. Ughetta of state Supreme Court.

Special Prosecutor Paul Williams said that "when Van Buren felt he could not back all the bets that his customers wished to place, he would lay off (pass the bet along) to other bookmakers. He occasionally laid off with Frank Erickson's outfit in New Jersey."

The three were Nicholas Lippera, 36, of Hudson and James C. Pasinella, alias Joe Pizzi, 49, and Joseph Deeb, 49, both of Watervliet.

Democrats Meet May 1

New York, April 25 (AP)—The newly-elected Democratic state committee announced today it would meet in New York city on May 1 for its organizational meeting. Its Republican counterpart is scheduled to meet May 7. The Democratic committee is expected to press for federal rights legislation.

U. S. Counsel . . .

President should declare that the public interest required seizure of your home. Do you contend that the court could not restrain that act?"

Baldridge: "I would rather, your Honor, not to answer. It is essential that you look at the circumstances" which gave rise to the emergency steel situation.

Pine: "Is that your conception of our government?"

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF SALE

COUNTY COURT, ULSTER COUNTY—THE HOME-SEEKERS' SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION OF KINGSTON, NEW YORK, Plaintiff against GEORGE F. MONDLOCK and HELEN MONDLOCK Defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above entitled action and bearing date March 18, 1952, I, the undersigned, the Referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the front door of the Ulster County Court House in the City of Kingston, New York, on the 3rd day of May, 1952, at 10 a. m. on the morning of that day, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

ALL THAT TRACT OR PARCEL OF LAND, situate in the Town of Shandaken, County of Ulster, and State of New York, lying and being on the southerly side of the highway leading from Shandaken to Pine Hill and bounded as follows, viz:

Beginning in the center of said highway at the corner of a lot of land on the southerly side thereof supposed to belong to David B. Crispell in possession of Mary C. Wait, wife of John W. Wait, and running from thence up the center of said highway three hundred and sixty feet; thence southerly at right angles about seventy-five feet to the center of the Esopus Creek; thence down the center of said Creek as it winds and turns to the corner or bounds of the Crispell lot above mentioned; thence northerly along the bounds of said Crispell lot one hundred and fifty feet to the place of beginning, being the same more or less.

Also, all that certain other lot, piece or parcel of land situate and being at or near the Village of Shandaken, in the Town of Shandaken, Ulster County and State of New York, and bounded as follows, viz:

Beginning in the center of the highway leading from Shandaken to Pine Hill at the corner of land owned or occupied by John W. Wait and near a cottonwood tree and running from thence in a westerly course up the center of said highway two hundred and eight (208) feet to a point opposite an elm tree standing on the northerly side of said highway; thence in a northerly course one hundred and forty-six (146) feet to a stake and stones at the foot of the bank in the line of John W. Wait, aforesaid; thence in an easterly course along his bounds two hundred and eight (208) feet, the northeasterly corner of the lot hereby conveyed; thence in a southerly course along the bounds of Wait, aforesaid to the place of beginning, containing by estimation about half an acre of land, be the same more or less.

Excepting and reserving so much from the above described premises as was conveyed by Rose Griffin to the County of Ulster for highway purposes by Deed dated March 21st, 1928 and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office in Book of Deeds 530 at page 184.

Subject to such rights as granted by David Griffin and Rose Griffin, to the New York State Electric and Gas Corporation by Grant dated January 15th, 1930 and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office in Book 547 of Deeds at page 379.

Being the same premises conveyed by Victor Van Wagenen and Leonard A. Ford to George F. Mondlock and Helen Mondlock, his wife, by deed dated April 9th, 1946 and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office in Book 663 of Deeds at 482.

Dated, March 19th, 1952.

Vigil Is Kept Along Missouri; River Shows Drop

Kansas City, April 25 (AP)—The Kansas City area was over the hump today in its fight against the Missouri river but flood workers still maintained a vigil along the network of dikes for possible weak spots.

The flood-choked river continued to fall after reaching its peak here yesterday afternoon just a fraction under 30.7 feet. That was a little below the predicted crest of 31 and more than 10 feet under the top of the levees.

It was a record upstream flood until the muddy surge hit Kansas City. But from here on downstream the river stages were lower than the terrible flood of July, 1951, when the Kaw (Kansas) river, which joins the Missouri here, laid waste to the rich industrial areas of the two Kansas Citys.

Record 1951 Stage

Nothing like that happened this time. The record 1951 stage here was 36.2.

Downstream, the water poked its creeping fingers into creeks and sloughs as the flood spread over fertile farmland. But there were no heavily populated areas in its path.

As the crest passed Kansas City, President Truman signed a $25,000,000 flood relief bill in Washington. A little later he allotted $250,000 of emergency funds to his home state of Missouri and $100,000 to Kansas, where four counties were affected.

Clinton Area Inundated

On the Mississippi river, the record flood there inundated a Clinton, Ia., residential area eight blocks from the waterfront. It was the second flood blow in a year for Clinton.

The long flat crest was expected to reach Clinton today, although a rise of a few more inches was still predicted upstream at Dubuque.

In the tri-city area at Davenport the river stood at 18 feet last night with another 7/10 of a foot to go before the expected crest Sunday. Flood stage there is 15.

Sentiment up and down the river seemed to be this year's flood was no worse than last year's. Everyone had feared it would be more serious.

New Evidence Is

der heads for $4.04 a piece but the government paid $18.35 for them after the parts had passed through three middlemen.

In another, it said the Chrysler corporation bought auto heaters from Tropic-Aire, Inc., for $33.74 apiece, and sold them to the government for $51.95 after adding "nothing to the heater but government packaging." Chrysler spokesmen testified the profit was only $1.45 apiece.

Industry representatives told the subcommittee that this system was necessary to keep many auto manufacturers in business, through higher profits on parts.

The subcommittee reported, however, it saw no justification for the government following the procedure and recommended that purchasing officers buy directly from parts makers.

U. S. General Elections

Up to the 1952 elections, the Democrats and Republicans have been opposed in 24 U. S. general elections of which the Democrats won 10 and the Republicans 14.

Ex-Bookie Agrees

For 10 days the dapper bookie, now serving a 12-year prison sentence for bookmaking and conspiracy, has been talking to police officials.

He was moved from Rikers Island Penitentiary to a Tombs prison cell near the district attorney's office to tell his story.

After listening to him, top police officials set a departmental hearing Wednesday for two captains, one lieutenant, one sergeant and 14 patrolmen.

But, shortly before Monaghan's announcement, Kings County Judge Samuel Leibowitz said the gambler would not "get one iota of consideration from this court" until he tells his whole story in a court.

"If he merely aids in having some crooked cops dismissed from the police department, and that's all, and then expects any consideration from me, he will find he is living in a fool's paradise.

"He will have to go the full route."

Leibowitz made his remarks in connection with another angle of the Gross case—the arraignment of James E. Reardon, a former police plainclothesman.

Reardon was indicted on two counts of perjury. He is accused of lying to a grand jury in October, 1950, about a trip he made to a Chicago prize fight with Gross in 1947.

Truman Statement

Henry A. Wallace as secretary of commerce on Sept. 20, 1946 after a mixup over a news conference statement by President Truman that he had read and approved a speech by Wallace attacking what Wallace called the "get tough with Russia" policy.

They recalled also Truman's statement at a news conference on Nov. 30, 1950 about the possibility of using the atomic bomb in Korea—later "clarified" as implying no change in policy.

Little water remains in winds after they have bucked over the 14,000-foot peaks of the Sierra Nevada Mountains.

Two Are Indicted In Hudson Probe

Hudson, N. Y., April 25 (AP)—Two more men—including one alleged to have had connections with bigtime gambler Frank Erickson—were indicted today by the special grand jury probing gambling in Columbia county.

Raymond J. Van Buren, 59, and Francis E. Mohota, 38, each was charged with being a common gambler and operating a horseroom. Both live in Hudson.

Both men pleaded innocent to the 13-count indictments. They were released in bail of $1,000 each by Justice Henry L. Ughetta of state Supreme Court.

Special Prosecutor Paul Williams said that "when Van Buren felt he could not back all the bets that his customers wished to place, he would lay off (pass the bet along) to other bookmakers. He occasionally laid off with Frank Erickson's outfit in New Jersey."

Today's indictments raised to five the number of persons indicted in the state-ordered probe.

Three men indicted on gambling charges two weeks ago appeared in court today and pleaded innocent. They were continued in bail.

The three were Nicholas Lippera, 36, of Hudson and James C. Pasinella, alias Joe Pizzi, 49, and Joseph Deeb, 49, both of Watervliet.

Democrats Meet May 1

New York, April 25 (AP)—The newly-elected Democratic state committee announced today it would meet in New York city on May 1 for its organizational meeting. Its Republican counterpart is scheduled to meet May 7. The Democratic committee is expected to press for federal rights legislation.

U. S. Counsel . . .

President should declare that the public interest required seizure of your home. Do you contend that the court could not restrain that act?"

Baldridge: "I would rather, your Honor, not to answer. It is essential that you look at the circumstances" which gave rise to the emergency steel situation.

Pine: "Is that your conception of our government?"

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF SALE

COUNTY COURT, ULSTER COUNTY—THE HOME-SEEKERS' SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION OF KINGSTON, NEW YORK, Plaintiff against GEORGE F. MONDLOCK and HELEN MONDLOCK Defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above entitled action and bearing date March 18, 1952, I, the undersigned, the Referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the front door of the Ulster County Court House in the City of Kingston, New York, on the 3rd day of May, 1952, at 10 a. m. on the morning of that day, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

ALL THAT TRACT OR PARCEL OF LAND, situate in the Town of Shandaken, County of Ulster, and State of New York, lying and being on the southerly side of the highway leading from Shandaken to Pine Hill and bounded as follows, viz:

Beginning in the center of said highway at the corner of a lot of land on the southerly side thereof supposed to belong to David B. Crispell in possession of Mary C. Wait, wife of John W. Wait, and running from thence up the center of said highway three hundred and sixty feet; thence southerly at right angles about seventy-five feet to the center of the Esopus Creek; thence down the center of said Creek as it winds and turns to the corner or bounds of the Crispell lot above mentioned; thence northerly along the bounds of said Crispell lot one hundred and fifty feet to the place of beginning, being the same more or less.

Also, all that certain other lot, piece or parcel of land situate and being at or near the Village of Shandaken, in the Town of Shandaken, Ulster County and State of New York, and bounded as follows, viz:

Beginning in the center of the highway leading from Shandaken to Pine Hill at the corner of land owned or occupied by John W. Wait and near a cottonwood tree and running from thence in a westerly course up the center of said highway two hundred and eight (208) feet to a point opposite an elm tree standing on the northerly side of said highway; thence in a northerly course one hundred and forty-six (146) feet to a stake and stones at the foot of the bank in the line of John W. Wait, aforesaid; thence in an easterly course along his bounds two hundred and eight (208) feet, the northeasterly corner of the lot hereby conveyed; thence in a southerly course along the bounds of Wait, aforesaid to the place of beginning, containing by estimation about half an acre of land, be the same more or less.

Excepting and reserving so much from the above described premises as was conveyed by Rose Griffin to the County of Ulster for highway purposes by Deed dated March 21st, 1928 and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office in Book of Deeds 530 at page 184.

Subject to such rights as granted by David Griffin and Rose Griffin, to the New York State Electric and Gas Corporation by Grant dated January 15th, 1930 and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office in Book 547 of Deeds at page 379.

Being the same premises conveyed by Victor Van Wagenen and Leonard A. Ford to George F. Mondlock and Helen Mondlock, his wife, by deed dated April 9th, 1946 and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office in Book 663 of Deeds at 482.

Dated, March 19th, 1952.

Vigil Is Kept Along Missouri; River Shows Drop

Kansas City, April 25 (AP)—The Kansas City area was over the hump today in its fight against the Missouri river but flood workers still maintained a vigil along the network of dikes for possible weak spots.

The flood-choked river continued to fall after reaching its peak here yesterday afternoon just a fraction under 30.7 feet. That was a little below the predicted crest of 31 and more than 10 feet under the top of the levees.

It was a record upstream flood until the muddy surge hit Kansas City. But from here on downstream the river stages were lower than the terrible flood of July, 1951, when the Kaw (Kansas) river, which joins the Missouri here, laid waste to the rich industrial areas of the two Kansas Citys.

Record 1951 Stage

Nothing like that happened this time. The record 1951 stage here was 36.2.

Downstream, the water poked its creeping fingers into creeks and sloughs as the flood spread over fertile farmland. But there were no heavily populated areas in its path.

As the crest passed Kansas City, President Truman signed a $25,000,000 flood relief bill in Washington. A little later he allotted $250,000 of emergency funds to his home state of Missouri and $100,000 to Kansas, where four counties were affected.

Clinton Area Inundated

On the Mississippi river, the record flood there inundated a Clinton, Ia., residential area eight blocks from the waterfront. It was the second flood blow in a year for Clinton.

The long flat crest was expected to reach Clinton today, although a rise of a few more inches was still predicted upstream at Dubuque.

At the little "island town" of Sabula, work crews and three Iowa National Guard companies kept fighting to plug periodic leaks in the dikes. Part of the town lies below the river level.

In the tri-city area at Davenport the river stood at 18 feet last night with another 7/10 of a foot to go before the expected crest Sunday. Flood stage there is 15.

Sentiment up and down the river seemed to be this year's flood was no worse than last year's. Everyone had feared it would be more serious.

New Evidence Is

der heads for $4.04 a piece but the government paid $18.35 for them after the parts had passed through three middlemen.

In another, it said the Chrysler corporation bought auto heaters from Tropic-Aire, Inc., for $33.74 apiece, and sold them to the government for $51.95 after adding "nothing to the heater but government packaging." Chrysler spokesmen testified the profit was only $1.45 apiece.

Industry representatives told the subcommittee that this system was necessary to keep many auto manufacturers in business, through higher profits on parts.

The subcommittee reported, however, it saw no justification for the government following the procedure and recommended that purchasing officers buy directly from parts makers.

U. S. General Elections

Up to the 1952 elections, the Democrats and Republicans have been opposed in 24 U. S. general elections of which the Democrats won 10 and the Republicans 14.

Ex-Bookie Agrees

and urged Monaghan in a telegram last night not to go through with the trial.

For 10 days the dapper bookie, now serving a 12-year prison sentence for bookmaking and conspiracy, has been talking to police officials.

He was moved from Rikers Island Penitentiary to a Tombs prison cell near the district attorney's office to tell his story.

After listening to him, top police officials set a departmental hearing Wednesday for two captains, one lieutenant, one sergeant and 14 patrolmen.

It seemed obvious Gross was making a bid to get his prison term reduced.

But, shortly before Monaghan's announcement, Kings County Judge Samuel Leibowitz said the gambler would not "get one iota of consideration from this court" until he tells his whole story in a court.

Speaking in open court, Leibowitz added:

"If he merely aids in having some crooked cops dismissed from the police department, and that's all, and then expects any consideration from me, he will find he is living in a fool's paradise.

"He will have to go the full route."

Leibowitz made his remarks in connection with another angle of the Gross case—the arraignment of James E. Reardon, a former police plainclothesman.

Reardon was indicted on two counts of perjury. He is accused of lying to a grand jury in October, 1950, about a trip he made to a Chicago prize fight with Gross in 1947.

Truman Statement

Henry A. Wallace as secretary of commerce on Sept. 20, 1946 after a mixup over a news conference statement by President Truman that he had read and approved a speech by Wallace attacking what Wallace called the "get tough with Russia" policy.

They recalled also Truman's statement at a news conference on Nov. 30, 1950 about the possibility of using the atomic bomb in Korea—later "clarified" as implying no change in policy.

Little water remains in winds after they have bucked over the 14,000-foot peaks of the Sierra Nevada Mountains.

Weather, rain

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 45 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 46 degrees.

Weather Forecast

New York city and vicinity — Cloudy and cool with occasional rain today and tonight. Saturday cloudy with no important temperature change. Temperatures today in the 50s. Low tonight in the 40s. High Saturday near 60.

Eastern New York — Mostly cloudy in north and rain in south portion this afternoon and tonight; lowest tonight about 40 in north and middle forties in south portion; Saturday, considerable cloudiness, a little milder in the afternoon and clearing by afternoon or evening.

The city engineer's weather report today showed a temperature of 49 degrees at 10 a. m., a barometric pressure of 29.9 per cent, a humidity of 86 per cent, and a northeast wind with a velocity of five miles an hour. The high temperature yesterday was 67 degrees and the low 47. The rainfall up to 10 a. m. today was .10 of an inch.

The highest mountain peak in continental United States is Mt. Whitney with an altitude of 14,495 feet.

Will Alter Qualifications For Civil Service Exam

Qualifications for the position of superintendent of the local water department will be changed prior to an examination, the Municipal Civil Service Commission announced following a meeting last night with the Board of Water Commissioners.

A state civil service representative met with the two boards last night and requirements for the water department job were agreed upon so that an examination may be held in the near future to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of John J. Byrne.

Qualifications for the position as previously established were said to be higher than actually needed for a city the size of Kingston and the change is expected to open the way for more applicants.

Saigon, Indo-China (AP) — It's risky business to toss hand grenades about in Saigon. Military courts are now imposing the supreme penalty. The Vietman press agency reports that a man who hurled a grenade into a bar here has been sentenced to death.

New York Board Adopts Budget

New York, April 25 (AP)—The board of estimate yesterday unanimously adopted Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri's 1952-53 budget of $1,469,265,101, without amendment.

It was the largest budget in the city's history, and the sixth in succession to pass the billion-dollar mark. Also it was the first budget to be accepted by the board without amendment since adoption of the present city charter in 1938.

Statements by board of estimate members off and on the record gave assurance that a majority of the board's 16 votes would be cast for renewal of the sales tax at the present three per cent rate, and approval of other special taxes. However, the board cannot act on the tax program until the City Council enacts local laws imposing the new levies.

Taxes to Be Levied

These nuisance taxes include a one cent a pack tax on cigarettes, an automobile use tax of $5 or $10, depending on the weight of the vehicle, a 25 per cent tax on retail liquor license fees. A tax of 15 per cent on race track admissions already has been enacted.

Acting Mayor Rudolph Halley, who has announced that he would oppose retaining the city sales tax at its present three per cent rate, voted for the budget.

Newspaper Boost Prices

Saigon, Indo-China (AP)—Newspapers have just boosted their sales price by 50 to 100 per cent. Depending upon where in Indo-China a newspaper is delivered, the cost of the daily paper now will be 15 cents in nearby provinces, and 20 cents elsewhere. The old price was 10 cents. Newspapers advised their readers rising production costs caused the price boost.

County WCTU Meets With Mrs. Hasbrouck

The executive meeting of the Ulster county WCTU was held April 18 at the home of Mrs. Raymond M. Hasbrouck, president of the New Paltz WCTU and vice president of the county organization.

Satisfaction was expressed with the re-wording of the Halpern Bill in Albany to permit the instruction of elementary school children in matters pertaining to narcotics and drink. Members were urged to write letters to their congressmen in favor of the Bryson Bill.

Mrs. Hasbrouck was appointed to represent the Ulster county organization at a workshop in New York May 12, conducted by Mrs. Leigh Colvin. Mrs. Frank Carpenter, of Plattekill, treasurer, was not present due to the death of her husband. Mrs. Lillie S. Shultis, county WCTU president, presided.

However, the board cannot act on the tax program until the City Council enacts local laws imposing the new levies.

Taxes to Be Levied

These nuisance taxes include a one cent a pack tax on cigarettes, an automobile use tax of $5 or $10, depending on the weight of the vehicle, a 25 per cent tax on retail liquor license fees. A tax of 15 per cent on race track admissions already has been enacted.

Acting Mayor Rudolph Halley, who has announced that he would oppose retaining the city sales tax at its present three per cent rate, voted for the budget.

Newspaper Boost Prices

Saigon, Indo-China (AP)—Newspapers have just boosted their sales price by 50 to 100 per cent. Depending upon where in Indo-China a newspaper is delivered, the cost of the daily paper now will be 15 cents in nearby provinces, and 20 cents elsewhere. The old price was 10 cents. Newspapers advised their readers rising production costs caused the price boost.

County WCTU Meets With Mrs. Hasbrouck

The executive meeting of the Ulster county WCTU was held April 18 at the home of Mrs. Raymond M. Hasbrouck, president of the New Paltz WCTU and vice president of the county organization.

Satisfaction was expressed with the re-wording of the Halpern Bill in Albany to permit the instruction of elementary school children in matters pertaining to narcotics and drink. Members were urged to write letters to their congressmen in favor of the Bryson Bill.

Mrs. Hasbrouck was appointed to represent the Ulster county organization at a workshop in New York May 12, conducted by Mrs. Leigh Colvin. Mrs. Frank Carpenter, of Plattekill, treasurer, was not present due to the death of her husband. Mrs. Lillie S. Shultis, county WCTU president, presided.

DETERGENT OILS
Not only A filter but a BETTER filter is needed with detergent oil.
W.G.B. Cartridges do not remove the detergent from the oil; but they do remove all harmful contamination and prevent the formation of acid.
Ask for W.G.B. Cartridges, made for any of the popular makes of filters.
Keep the oil clean with W.G.B. Cartridges. They are best by test since 1927.

WE CAN REMEMBER WHEN . . . .

. . . the blacksmith was a mighty man--and mighty busy, too! People were industrious and worked long hours in those days, and saving was a slow, careful accumulation. Those people looked to us as the right place to save their hard-earned money. For then, as now, we were a solid, reliable banking institution--serving the people of our community. As we have grown, so, we have always given our depositors, large and small, the soundest, and most complete banking service possible. Look to us for your banking needs!
